"MISS SPRINGTIME" IS COMING SOON.

Headed by that well-known comedian, Frank McIntyre, the big musical comedy, "Miss Springtime," is coming to Los Angeles in December. This Klaw and Erlanger musical show, which has been the sensation in New York during the past season, is in the Middle West now playing to capacity business. "Miss Springtime" is probably the most costly show on the road this season, as it costs $8000 a week to operate this production. When the attraction comes to the Mason Opera-house an unusually good cast will enhance the offering.

GIVES FLOOD AS RATE RAISE CAUSE.

The Sweetwater Water Company, which supplies water to National City and Chula Vista, and to the Sweetwater Valley, the territory south of Chula Vista called from Chula Vista, and a part of the Rancho Ex Mission of San Diego, Saturday filed with the State Railroad Commission an application for authority to immediately raise its rates to give it a fair return on its investment. The company states that in January, 1916, a flood greatly damaged its reservoir and distribution system, and it had to make large sums of money to put them in order. Its present rates were fixed before the flood.

Secretary Daniels Dispatches Regrets to the Ministry of Marine.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Vice-Admiral Sims cabled the Navy Department today that American patrol vessel, on duty in the war zone, had fired on Italian submarine, which failed to answer recognition signals, killing one officer and one enlisted man.

Secretary Daniels at once sent a message to the Italian Ministry of Marine, expressing the deepest regret over the unfortunate occurrence and tendering his and the American navy's sympathy for the loss of life.

STATEMENT.

Tonight the Navy Department issued the following statement:

"The Navy Department has been informed by Vice-Admiral Sims that the U.S. S. —, an American patrol vessel, on patrol duty at night, encountered an Italian submarine, and that the latter failed to answer the established recognition signal. The patrol vessel opened fire, resulting in the killing of one officer and one enlisted man before the identity of the submarine was established.

"Vice-Admiral Sims is thoroughly investigating the unfortunate occurrence, and reports will be forwarded later to the department.

"The Secretary of the Navy, upon receipt of the first news, dispatched the following message to the Italian Minister of Marine:

"'I have learned with deepest regret of the unfortunate occurrence which resulted in an American patrol vessel firing, through a misunderstanding, upon an Italian submarine.

"'Due to the recent unusual activity of enemy submarines in this region, which has resulted in the loss of several vessels, the patrol had been strictly maintained, and the unfortunate fact that the patrol vessel did not obtain the recognition signals resulted in her opening fire. Please accept on behalf of myself and the American navy sincere and heartfelt sympathy for the loss of life which has resulted.

[Signed] "'JOSEPHUS DANIELS.'"

DETAILS LACKING.

While details of the incident still are unknown here, the fact that an officer and an enlisted man were killed indicates that the American gunners landed a shot in the submarine's conning tower, the victims being the officer at the periscope and the bluejacket at the wheel.

WANTS LOWER RATES ON COAL FOR COAST.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 8.—Assertion that coal is bearing an undue proportion of freight rates, and that the rates on the commodity should be reduced from Utah mines to San Francisco, Los Angeles and other points, was made today before C. R. Marshall, attorney-examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission, by H. W. Prickett, traffic manager of the traffic service bureau of Utah.

Mr. Prickett said that salt was shipped to San Francisco for $4 a ton, and he did not see the justice of the railroads charging $5.30 a ton for coal. He asserted that the only equitable rate which would prevail was $4.40 a ton, which was the rate of Wyoming coal conveyed from Rock Springs to Portland. Rates of other commodities were mentioned, all of them being less than the cost of freight on coal. Four coal companies are seeking a reduction in the freight rates on coal to the Pacific Coast, and other rate readjustments.

PRO-GERMAN PARTY IS DEAD AT ATHENS.

Hellenes will Enter the Fray in the Balkan Sector as Soon as the Equipment is Ready.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Greece is nearly ready to put a large and effective army in the field to co-operate with the Allies, according to dispatches from the Athens Foreign Office to the Greek Legation here. Lack of equipment is being remedied rapidly with the Allies' aid.

SUMMARY.

Minister Roussos today gave the following summary of the situation in his country as described in the legation's dispatch:

"The situation in Greece is becoming more satisfactory every day. The people are thoroughly confident of the efficiency of their government and they are willing to allow the present ministry to continue in the work of reorganization of the resources of the country so that Greece may throw her full strength into the war.

"There is now no pro-German party in Greece. In fact, such a party never existed save in the person of King Constantine, aided by certain members of his court. But he knew the real feelings of the Greek people, who were attracted by tradition and sympathy with the Western Powers of Europe, and he never dared to openly expound his pro-German convictions. He did his best, on the contrary, to conceal them, speaking always about his friendship for the Allies and trying to convey the impression that his attitude was that of benevolent neutrality.

"The Greek people had a real affection for their King and had confidence in his word, which accounts for the fact that his pseudo-policy had many supporters. Finally, certain acts of the King's entourage created a suspicion in the minds of the people, and they backed Minister Venizelos in his Saloniki movement which brought Greeks frankly and loyally in to the war. Today the real state of affairs as regards the court has been exposed. The abdication of King Constantine without bloodshed or an uprising of the people indicates the absence of any pro-German feeling, although certain of the political opponents of Venizelos are using the argument that there are still German propagandists in the country.

"The reasoning people of Greece had long realized that Constantine's policy was carrying the country to ruin and relief was felt when he abdicated. Perfect order now reigns throughout the country and the malcontents have been disposed of.

"The French troops were received with enthusiasm when they landed at Piraeus. Mr. Venizelos is very popular with all the people. All events have proven that his policy was the only one Greece could adopt.

"King Alexander is in perfect accord with his people and with the government and his good faith is unquestioned. Greece will now use every effort to aid the common cause."

BAKER PRAISES LOYALTY SHOWN BY BUSINESS MEN.

Secretary Declares the War will Make United States Greater Nation.

HARRISBURG (Pa.) Oct. 8.—Secretary of War Baker, addressing the annual meeting of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce tonight, declared that the manner in which the business men of the country had gathered to the support of the national government in its supreme emergency of war was making "a stronger nation, a greater democracy and a greater hope for mankind." The Secretary said he wanted the business men to know that he was proud to pay the tribute.

"I believe that under the example of America we will be able to make such arrangements that war will give place to the virtues of peace for many years to come," said the Secretary. He praised Congress for creation of the Council of National Defense, which he said had prepared the country's resources, and said that when the fateful hour struck, the business men, voluntarily and in mass, assembled to give their best.

The National Guards and the military resources of the States had formed with the regular army and West Point a nucleus of a fighting force that will before long number 1,300,000. Reviewing the organization of the National Army, Mr. Baker said that it had been done by a nation totally unaccustomed to war, but which had not only subjected itself to a selective draft, but had diverted its industries into many unaccustomed lines of production.

"Even Germany was never able to do this," he declared. "Let me say to you that when our army takes its place abroad, it will be armed as good as any, and better than most," said Mr. Baker.

He said that for every soldier abroad now there were five rifles in France, and every regular and National Guardsman at home has a rifle, while the stream of rifles, now 100,000 a month, will soon be 200,000.

The young men in the army, said Mr. Baker, will be surrounded by safer conditions than ever known before. This has been done by adopting the "wholesome spirit of the youth of America," remarked the Secretary, who said the curative policies of the colleges had been put into force.

The Secretary said there had been no Aladdin's lamp or fairy wand about the building up of the equipment and ordnance supplies and the launching of a great shipbuilding programme, or the start on the immense airplane construction. What has been done has been accomplished through hard work and the mobilization of American inventive and business genius. The speaker declared there was no doubt that America was next on the German programme, and said, "we must win this war or admit democracy a failure."

In making a plea for co-ordination of financial resources, such as there has been of business, Mr. Baker said the country must buy of Liberty Bonds "until it hurts."

MUNITIONS STRIKES IN GERMANY GROWING

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

GENEVA, Oct. 8.—The Swiss labor journal Metalurgiste gives official statistics showing that 63,137 munitions workers from 109 factories in Germany were out on strike during the first three months of the present year, as compared with about 3000 men from twenty-three factories during the same period in 1916.

The reasons assigned for the strikes were bad and insufficient food for the population.

HOLD UP THE SALARY OF VICE-CHANCELLOR.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 8.—The Reichstag has decided to hold up the salary appropriation for Dr. Karl Helfferich's new post of Vice-Chancellor and to return the measure to committee. In addition to this expression of dissatisfaction over Saturday's debate, the Vorwaerts says there is a steadily-growing disposition in the majority parties in the Reichstag to accept a vote of lack of confidence, as proposed by the Radical Socialists last Saturday.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT TROOPS ANNIHILATED.

Thirty Killed and Forty Taken Prisoners by Villa's Followers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PRESIDIO (Tex.) Oct. 8.—Thirty Mexican government troops were killed and forty taken prisoner when a band of bandits, claiming to be Villa followers, attacked a Federal command at San Antonio Pass, opposite Candelaria, Tex., yesterday, according to a report received here today. Six of the bandits were killed and five wounded, according to this report, which came from a native arriving from San Antonio Pass. The government force was in command of Col. Miranda, and was almost annihilated by the superior force of the bandits, he said.

TAMPICO STRIKE SETTLED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8.—Word was received here today from Tampico that the strike which has been in progress since last week in the oil refineries has been settled and that the men have promised to return to work tomorrow morning. Credit for the quick adjustment of the strike and the absence of violence is given to Gov. Ricaut of Tamaulipas, who proceeded immediately to Tampico with a strong force of troops when the men went out, and always has had the situation well in hand.

TO BUY AMERICAN CORN.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8.—The sum of $200,000 has been made available for the immediate purchase by the government of corn in the United States, and a representative of the government has been sent to Kansas City to open negotiations as soon as the permission of the food control board is obtained.

It is believed that Mexico will have no difficulty in getting the supplies required actually to relieve distress, provided the government makes it impossible for food imports to be cornered or made the basis of exorbitant profits. Recent frosts have done great damage to the corn on the central plateau.

BLAME LACK OF CARS FOR COAL SCARCITY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Car shortage leads labor troubles as a factor in reducing the country's coal supply. Figures compiled by the Geological Survey and made public today estimate that car shortage has reduced coal output 10 per cent., while labor troubles have cut it down 9 per cent.

In the last six weeks labor troubles have cost the country, it is declared, more than 1,700,000 tons of coal, the amount of one day's output of all the soft coal mines in the country.

Production during the week ending with September 22 fell to less than 70 per cent. of capacity.

CALIFORNIA'S SHARE OF NEW WAR LOAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—California's minimum allotment of subscriptions to be obtained for the second Liberty Loan issue was announced today as $135,000,000 by officials of the Twelfth District Federal Reserve Bank. The maximum is $225,000,000.

San Francisco's maximum and minimum figures were announced as $85,800,000 and $51,535,000 respectively. These are the only quotas available from the seven States comprising the district. Others will be announced as soon as they are ascertained.

San Francisco's subscriptions tonight reached $16,631,050, of which $2,542,500 was obtained today.

AMERICAN TEAM WORK IS PRESIDENT'S AIM.

Peace will Come When Germany is Beaten and Autocracy is Superseded by Democratic Ideals.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — A movement to lead and express public opinion on the war was inaugurated here today by formation of the League for National Unity, representing church, political, labor, agricultural and industrial organizations, to which President Wilson gave his indorsement in an address emphasizing the need for team play by the forces of American thought and opinion.

Welcoming the leaders of the movement at the White House in a brief speech, the President expressed the belief that American public opinion, although understanding the war's causes and principles, needs guidance to remember that the war should end only when Germany is beaten and Germany's rule of autocracy and might are superseded by the ideals of democracy.

This is the issue which the American people should always keep in mind, the President said, in order to avoid being misled into byways of thought and the resultant scattering of force of public opinion. Talk of early peace before Germany is defeated is one of the evidences of misdirected thought, he suggested, and should not cloud the vision of those who understand that the United States is fighting now for the same ideals of democracy and freedom that have always actuated the nation. The President gave warning that it should not be forgotten that German success would mean not only prevention of the spread of democracy, but possibly the suppression of that already existing.

The league, which will have headquarters in New York, chose as honorary chairmen Cardinal Gibbons and Dr. Frank Mason North, president of the Federal Council of Churches. Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, is active chairman, with Sam Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Charles Barrett, president of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union, and George Pope, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, as vice-chairmen.

THE OBJECT.

The object was stated as follows:

"To create a medium through which the loyal Americans of all classes, sections, creeds and parties can give expression to the fundamental purpose of the United States to carry on to a successful conclusion this new war for the independence of America and the preservation of democratic institutions and the vindication of the basic principles of humanity."

The league plans an active campaign to educate Americans to the idea that unity of thought and purpose is as essential to successful prosecution of the war as co-operation in material preparations. Conferences of leaders in the numerous organizations represented will be held frequently, statements of principle formulated, and attempt will be made to direct public thought through the mediums of the pulpit, press, public platform and many kinds of public, semi-public and private organizations.

The league will seek suggestions of the individual and small units of forces united in the organization in the formulation of statements of principles. Thus it is designed to serve the double purpose of being a definite means of expressing public thought and of disseminating this thought through the component organizations.

THE OFFICERS.

The inclusive character of the body is indicated by the officers chosen. In addition to those named, the director is Ralph M. Easley, chairman of the National Civic Federation; the secretary is D. L. Cease, editor of the Railway Trainmen's Journal, and the treasurer is Otto H. Kuhn of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

James W. Stock, New York lawyer, is chairman of the Executive Committee which includes: Warren S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Oliver Wilson, Grandmaster of the Grange; Walter George Smith, president of the American Bar Association; Vance McCormick and William B. Willcox, Democratic and Republican national chairmen, respectively; Robert E. Speer, chairman of the Federal Council of Churches' War Commission; P. H. Callahan, chairman of the Knights of Columbus War Activities Committee; Alfred E. Marling, chairman Y.M.C.A. International Committee; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of the Free Synagogue; Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association; George Wharton Pepper, president of the National Committee of Patriotic and Defense Societies; and William H. Ingersoll of the National Association of Advertising Clubs.

DECLARATION.

The conference adopted the following declaration of principles:

"In an hour when our nation is fighting for the principles, upon which it was founded, in an hour when free institutions and the hopes of humanity are at stake, we hold it the duty of every American to take his place on the firing line of public opinion.

"It is not a time for old prejudices or academic discussion as to past differences. Those who are not now for America are against America.

"Our cause is just. We took up the sword only when international law and ancient rights were set at naught and when our forbearance had been exhausted by persistent deception and broken pledges.

"Our aims are explicit, our purposes unsoiled by any selfishness. We defend the sanctities of life, the fundamental decencies of civilization. We fight for a just and durable peace and that the rule of reason shall be restored to the community of nations.

"In this crisis the unity of the American people must not be impaired by the voices of dissension or sedition.

"Agitation for a premature peace is seditious when its object is to weaken the determination of America to see the war through to a conclusive vindication of the principles for which we have taken up arms.

"The war we are waging is a war against war and its sacrifices must not be nullified by truce or armistice that means no more than a breathing spell for the enemy.

"While this war lasts, the cause of the Allies is our cause, their defeat our defeat, and concert of action and unity in spirit between them and us is essential to final victory. We therefore deprecate the exaggeration of old national prejudices—often stimulated by German propaganda—and nothing is more important than the clear understanding that those who in this crisis attack our present Allies, attack America.

"We believe that this is the critical and fateful hour for America and civilization. To lose now is to lose for many generations. The peril is great and requires our highest endeavors.

"We not only accept, but heartily approve, the decision reached by the President and Congress of the United States, to declare war against the common enemy of the free nations and as loyal citizens of the United States, we pledge to the President and the government our undivided support to the very end."

THOUSANDS IN VIENNA ATTEND PEACE MEETING.

Demand End of War by Agreement and General Disarmament.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 8.—A dispatch received here from Vienna, describes a peace demonstration, which was held by the Christian Socialist party in the Town Hall Sunday. Thousands of persons were present.

Prince Alois Lichtenstein, President of the Lower Austrian Diet, opened the proceedings by announcing that the meeting had been convened out of gratitude to the Pope and the Emperor to demand peace by agreement and general disarmament and arbitration as outlined in the recent speech of Count Czarnin, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister.

"We offer our hand for an honest peace," said Prince Lichtenstein, "but if it is rejected, we shall seize the sword, which, as hitherto, with God's help, will decide in our favor."

Councillor Kunschok followed with an eloquent speech in the same tenor and was frequently applauded.

"We are assembled," said the Councillor, "to declare how warm and glowing are our longings for peace. But the leading men in enemy states must be warned against drawing false conclusions from this administration. We want peace but not at any price. We demand peace in the name of Europe, which is sinking to exhaustion, while her competitors are waxing fat."

Expressing suspicion of President Wilson's demand of a democratization of Europe, because America herself" is far from a real democracy." Councilor Kunschok concluded his address after a tremendous ovation, by praying for blessings on the peace exertions of Pope Benedict and Emperor Charles.

Artillery Continues in Action, but Bogs Delay Infantry Operations on the West Front.

The Great War.

SMALL ENGAGEMENTS ANNOY THE GERMANS.

Allied Soldiers, Trapped in Veritable Quagmire, are Cheerful Withal and Sing Popular Airs.

ALTHOUGH the sun shone again Monday in Flanders, the rain had rendered the territory east of the Passchendaele - Gheluvelt ridge a veritable bog, making infantry actions on a large scale impossible for the present, the Associated Press says in its review of the war dispatches for the past twenty-four hours.

There have been, however, a number of small actions in the nature of trench raids or reconnaissances, and the big guns of both the British and the Germans are keeping up the mighty duel virtually without pause.

Likewise, on the southern line in France and in the Austro-Italian theater only the artillery is active. On the northern end of the front in Russia several attacks by the Germans on positions in the Riga sector have been repulsed by the Russians, who also took prisoners.

Although it had been anticipated that the main committee of the German Reichstag on Monday would discuss Germany's war aims, the debate was postponed until Tuesday. Meanwhile the Imperial Chancellor has gone on to main headquarters, a fact which may be of some significance.

The political factions in Russia at last have come into agreement on points which have been in dispute between them and the government over the forming of a cabinet, and it is announced that a coalition government will be immediately instituted. The country, however, now is threatened with a general railway strike, which was partly put into effect at midnight Sunday, notwithstanding a threat that the men taking part in it would be charged with treason.

DIFFICULTIES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Oct. 8.—It rained hard yesterday, giving an unforgettable demonstration of the nature of the difficulties which the British troops have encountered in many of their recent operations. Within a few hours the entire country had been turned into a mass of deep, clinging mud, through which one made his way with the greatest effort. A stream known as Hannebeke, which is one of the many little waterways that cover not only this section, but most of the battle zone, was surrounded by a veritable morass. It would be impossible to cross it at many places. Shell holes had rapidly filled with water and ponds were to be seen in which a score of men might easily drown if they were unfortunate enough to fall down the slippery sides. Often a small pool was covered a considerable shell hole. It seemed inconceivable that men could work, much less fight, over such ground. Yet the British soldiers and officers were carrying on steadily their operations. And in recent days they have often fought bitterly over just such territory as this.

Yesterday's rain has turned the battle front into a quagmire, and there could scarcely be more trying conditions for fighting. The soldiers encountered by the correspondent were cheerful, notwithstanding the fact that they were drenched to the skin with the biting cold rain. At one place a number of men were singing lustily away at some popular song. All seemed immensely amused at the muddy condition of the correspondent and the two officers with him. Often the soldiers looked up with cheerful grins that said plainly: "How do you like it? Now you know what we chaps have to go through out here."

BERLIN REPORTS.

BERLIN (via London) Oct. 8.—(British Admiralty per Wireless Press.) The official communication issued today by the War Office follows:

"Western front: Army of Crown Prince Rupprecht: The fighting activity in Flanders revived considerably yesterday from mid-day until evening between the Houthoulst wood and the Menin Ypres road. A strong drum fire preceded local English attacks, which developed against some sectors of the fighting front. Storming troops brought up by the enemy did not advance anywhere. They were held down in the crater field by our defense fire.

"Army of the German Crown Prince: On both sides of the Laon-Soisson road, the artillery battle waged was of greater violence in the Ailletto region to the plateau south of Pargny. In the evening several French companies advanced near Vauxaillon, but were repulsed by our fire.

"East of the Meuse there was a strong fire on our positions, and to the rear between Samogneux and Bezonvaux. The effect of our artillery fire frustrated an attack by the French, which was being prepared southwest of Beaumont.

"Eastern theater and Macedonia: There have been no great fighting operations."

A COUNTER-ATTACK.

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Oct. 8.—A counter-attack by the Germans in force east of Polygon wood in the region of Reutel last evening was quickly beaten off by artillery and machine-gun fire. The front involved was over a width of about 500 yards. The attack was preceded by a heavy artillery barrage, which was put down not only in this section, but along the greater portion of the new battle line.

The rain of yesterday turned the Flanders battle field into a mass of deep mud and filled the shell holes with water, making most difficult military operations of all sorts. The sun was shining this morning, but it will take several days of fair weather to repair the damage done yesterday. Calm along the fighting lines during the night is reported.

BRITISH OFFICIAL REPORT.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The War Office tonight issued the following communication, dated Saloniki, Thursday, October 4:

"Hostile detachments which entered Osman Kamila, southwest of Seres, were compelled by our artillery fire to evacuate the village. Saturday we successfully raided Akindjali and Bulamac, east of Lake Doiran. Our airplanes cooperated by dropping bombs on the enemy's batteries and engaging his infantry with machine guns.

"Our aircraft also bombed Citlikstik, west of Demir Hissar, where a hostile anti-aircraft gun was put out of action, and Cestovo, northwest of Lake Doiran, where an ammunition dump was damaged."

THE FRENCH COMMUNIQUE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The official communication from the War Office tonight reads:

"There were artillery actions at various points along the front, particularly in Belgium in the region of Hurtebise and Cmonne.

"Eastern theater, October 7: Slight activity was displayed by the artillery along the whole front. In the region of Doiran two raiding parties, supported by airplanes, entered the enemy lines, which they partly destroyed. In the Skumbi Valley a contingent of Essad Pasha's forces took some Austrian prisoners."

ITALIAN ACTIVITY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Oct. 8. — "Activity was confined mainly to the artillery along the whole front," says today's official statement. "On the Bainsizza plateau our patrols took a few prisoners. On the Carso, enemy patrols were driven off."

RUSSIAN OPERATIONS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8 (British Admiralty per Wireless Press.) — Intensive scouting operations have been in progress on the Russian northern front, both sides participating in them. The official statement reporting these and other happenings in the fighting zone reads:

"Northern front: North of the Pskoff high road and the Pauske farm, after artillery preparation, waves of enemy scouting parties appeared. They were repulsed.

"The enemy several times opened a mine-thrower fire on our positions west of Engelhardtof manor.

"The Ulukst sector our scouting parties accomplished their purpose and took prisoners.

"Southwestern and Rumanian fronts: There were fusillades.

"Caucasus front: There is nothing to report.

"Aviation: On Friday in the Rumanian region our airmen bombarded the village of Mikloch and the Palanka station. They set fire to the sawmill at the station, and the stores magazine exploded."

WAR :: DOG :: MAY :: RETURN.

Canine Captive from Germans in New York

Boyeau,

The German police dog shown in the picture with Sam Burbank, his master and bugler of the Columbia War Hospital in New York City, is a veteran of the European war and if the Columbia unit is ordered to the front, may see service again. Boyeau was drawing a mitrailleuse along with three other dogs at the beginning of the war. He was a member of a French company. Somewhere in Belgium he came under German fire and was wounded in the right fore leg. His companions were killed, but Boyeau stuck to his gun and dragged it into position. He was taken to a hospital and his broken leg was set and gradually healed. Then he was brought to America and purchased by Mr. Burbank, who keeps him at the hospital as a constant companion.

SUBMARINE ESCAPES.

German Diver Interned at Spanish Port Puts Out to Sea—Inquiry is Started.

MADRID, Oct. 8.—A German submarine interned at Cadiz has escaped.

Several German submarines have sought refuge in Spanish ports during the war, and one of them, which put in at Cadiz, was escorted out of the port later by Spanish torpedo boats. To prevent further incidents of this nature, King Alfonso on June 30 last signed a decree forbidding submarines of belligerent powers to navigate Spanish waters or enter Spanish ports. It was declared that all submarines which entered the Spanish zone would be interned.

COURT-MARTIAL ORDERED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — The Spanish government has taken action to discipline the officials responsible for the safe internment of the German submarine which escaped from Cadiz.

On the basis of official dispatches from Madrid, the Spanish Ambassador here, Juan Riano, made this announcement:

"In spite of all the precautions taken by the Spanish naval authorities, including the removal of pieces which were supposed indispensable for navigation, the German submarine UC-293, interned at Cadiz, escaped yesterday afternoon, leaving its guns, torpedoes and munitions on land, where they had been deposited. The Spanish government has opened a court-martial."

KERENSKY PREPARES TO FORM CABINET.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—After a conference of three hours of members of the government, including Premier Kerensky, with a delegation representing the democratic congress, and with representatives of the bourgeoisie yesterday, a complete agreement was reached on all questions. The Premier declared that the government purposed immediately to form a complete Cabinet so that the reconstituted coalition government might be able to go to work at once on the basis laid down.

In view of the government's objection, representatives of the democratic congress withdrew their request that one of their delegates participate in the forthcoming inter-Allied conference in Paris.

DUTCH SHIP REFUSED COAL BY GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The government has definitely refused license for bunker coal to the Holland-American liner Nieuw Amsterdam because the Netherlands government would not give assurances that the ship would return to the United States after discharging her Belgian relief cargo.

This action is said to forecast the complete embargo of the large fleet of Dutch ships now in New York Harbor, unless Holland permits them to carry cargoes for the United States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Oct. 8.—The British steamer Tamaqua, reported to have been sunk off the Irish coast on September 29 by a submarine, arrived here today.

SUGGESTS IMPORTING AUSTRALIAN RABBITS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Importation of Australian rabbits for use as food in the United States is suggested by H. C. Hoyle, special commissioner for New South Wales, as a means of lowering high meat costs in this country. Mr. Hoyle, sent here to promote trade relations with Australia, declared the Australian rabbit is yielding his country $15,000,000 yearly as a food animal, whereas like the jackrabbit of the Texas Panhandle, he used to be regarded as a pest.

CAPACITY OUTPUT FROM FLOUR MILLS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8. — Increased wheat receipts have made it possible for local flour mills to operate at capacity for the first time this season, according to announcement tonight by Frank Carey, representative of the food administration grain corporation. Receipts today totaled 820 cars, as compared with 556 a year ago.

HARVARD STUDENTS WORK FOR WAR LOAN.

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Oct. 8.—Harvard students today named a committee to conduct a Liberty Loan drive next week. Efforts will be made to have every one of the 2800 students at the university buy a bond.

WANT ROAD BUILDERS FOR SERVICE ABROAD.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Engineer Corps is looking for 10,500 men with road construction experience to serve in an engineer brigade which is soon to go to France to do road building work with Gen. Pershing's expeditionary forces. The regiment will be made up entirely of volunteers.

Rapid advancement is promised men with special qualifications, and a few college men, preferably with military experience, are wanted as noncommissioned officers.

WHEAT RATIONS FOR OKLAHOMA LIVE STOCK

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Oct. 8.—Half a million bushels of wheat will be fed to live stock in Oklahoma this fall, it is indicated by reports received today by the State Council of Defense, from twenty-three western counties. In most of the counties an increased acreage of wheat planted is indicated, but no hope is held out that planting will be further stimulated by an increase of a few cents a bushel possible under marketing arrangements.

SLAV ELECTION ARRANGED.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—An official statement issued today fixes at 730 the number of electoral districts from which are to be elected members of the constituent assembly which is to determine the country's future form of government. Petrograd will have twenty members; Moscow, nineteen; the Caucasus, thirty-six; Kiev, twenty-two, and the valley of the Don, seventeen.

AUSTRALIA'S SACRIFICES.

"We're in the War Because We are Democrats."

Premier of New South Wales on Country's Aims.

Conflict Costs the Colony a Tremendous Price.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Australia's war aims were outlined by W. A. Holman, Premier of New South Wales, in an address at a large public meeting here tonight. Mr. Holman is visiting here at the suggestion of the National Council of Defense. He has recently completed a tour of the Entente countries, and will sail soon for home. Mr. Holman said in part:

"So far as the present war is concerned, we have no interest in it at all from the material point of view. The war is a dead loss to Australia. It is costing us thousands of lives and millions of pounds. We are raising our own finances for the war in Australia, just as we are our own men in Australia. So far as our national development is concerned, we get nothing in return. We gain no territory. We gain no markets. We neither make our country bigger nor richer than it was before.

"Australians are in no sense bound by the warlike consequences of British foreign policy, in which they have no voice. We are a self-governing community, just as is America. We are as free to determine how far we shall participate in the war—or whether we shall participate at all—as America is.

"We have come to an independent conclusion about this war. We have opinions of our own. What these opinions are is sufficiently manifest in our actions and in the stubborn persistency with which we have sent forward contingent after contingent, until a total of 350,000 men has been arrived at. This would be equivalent on the basis of your population of an army of 7,000,000 in America, all raised by voluntary effort.

"It is my wish tonight to try and explain what our reasons are for coming to this conclusion. I do not hesitate to say that it is because we are democrats. It is because we are concerned about the future of the common people who live in our community; because we care nothing for dynasties and thrones, but because we care everything for the future of mankind and the possibilities of an abiding peace which shall bring with it the blessings of an advancing civilization.

"The democrats of the world are in the position of men suddenly afflicted by some overwhelming calamity. God knows there is no people in the world to whom war and all that war involves are more hateful than to the Australians. I believe they are equally so to you. Our ideals lie in an entirely different direction. We hope for peace; we have it among ourselves; we hope for it for the rest of the world. But we realize that peace can never be restored until the dominating military aggression which has overthrown all chance of peace has ultimately been blotted out and obliterated from the position which it holds in the councils of Europe today.

"I believe that is the spirit of the new and powerful ally which has come to our assistance, the United States, which has now taken a role worthy of its place in the history of the world, and is helping us to remove from the world the great menace which is involved in German militarism."

WHY DIDN'T FLY FLAG.

Secretary of Globe Union of Miners Testifies Before Federal Commission.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) Oct. 8.—At an executive conference between the Federal Labor Commission and members of the miners' unions of both Globe and Miami today, George D. Smith, secretary of the Globe miners, told why members of his organization refused to fly the American flag from union headquarters at the time war broke out between the United States and Germany.

Smith said that one of the big copper companies sent a broad hint to the union, telling the latter to fly the flag but that his men balked at so doing because they said it would look as though they were dictated to by the company. Smith testified that afterward Globe citizens ran up the flag on union quarters themselves, defying the union to take it down. It flies there today.

Most of the afternoon was taken up with statements from various union members in which they explained their side of the strike controversy. Tomorrow will be devoted to the mine operators and the public.

REICHSTAG DEBATE HAS BEEN POSTPONED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 8.—Owing to the various parties having convoked meetings for this morning to consider the situation arising from Saturday's sitting of the Reichstag, says a Berlin dispatch, the debate which was planned for today has been postponed until Tuesday. The chief subject of discussion will be war aims, but according to this dispatch the Imperial Chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, has gone to headquarters.

DEDICATE METHODIST CHURCH AT CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Methodist clergymen and laymen from all parts of the South gathered here today to participate in the laying of the corner-stone of the representative church of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Senator Robinson of Arkansas delivered the address, and Bishop Warren A. Candler of Atlanta officiated at the laying of the corner-stone.

The church will be erected at a cost of a half million dollars, collected by subscription in the South to serve as a memorial in the national capital to the denomination.

MEANS MURDER CASE.

Judge Reserves Decision in Action Brought by Defendant to Recover Papers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALISBURY (N. C.) Oct. 8.—Superior Judge Cline today reserved decision in the contempt proceedings brought by counsel for Gaston B. Means, accused of the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King of Chicago, as a result of their failure to get possession of certain papers in the case.

The action was directed against Asst. Disty.-Atty. Dooling and other New York officials who came to Concord to assist in Means's prosecution. The court said it probably would announce its findings tomorrow.

Means's counsel presented a number of affidavits to show that the papers were seized in Means's New York apartment, sent to Concord, removed from there to Salisbury and later sent back to New York. State Solicitor Clement argued, on behalf of the defendants, that the witnesses were exempt from service of process while in the State and that the judge issuing the order for the papers was without jurisdiction.

RUSSIAN RAILWAY STRIKE IN EFFECT.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—The railway strike, which went into effect at midnight Sunday, and which it is intended at the present time to affect through services, has only been partly effective, according to information received from the Ministry of Traffic today. Local trains continue running and the Finnish Railway also is operated. No trains have left Moscow or beyond from Petrograd.

Premier Kerensky has received word from the Simferopol Railway Union, protesting its unwillingness to observe the strike order, declaring it is unpatriotic. A similar attitude has been taken by the Vladivostok Railway employees.

The strike plan contemplates the stopping of all local services Tuesday and all traffic, freight and passenger, on Wednesday, unless the demands of the men for an increase in wages are granted.

SUBMARINE CHEATED OUT OF HER PRIZE.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Oct. 8.—Two of the crew of the British schooner George Ewart, sunk in a collision with an unknown steamship in a storm, September 10, off the coast of Spain, reached here today on a steamer from a Mediterranean port.

The Ewart, from St. Johns, N. F., for Gibraltar with a cargo of dried fish, had been reported sunk by a submarine, but the men arrived here said the submarine came up after their ship had been so badly damaged in the collision that she had to be abandoned.

TO FORM A LEAGUE OF EXEMPTED MEN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Formation of an exempted men's league, to provide funds for relief work among families of men called to the front, is to be considered at a meeting of the County Council of Defense here tomorrow.

Membership will be recruited from the men who have been exempted from military service. Each member will be pledged to contribute $1 or more toward the relief fund, according to Judge Graham's plan. Plans for a public benefit to secure this fund are also to be considered.

NEW JERSEY PAPER BARRED FROM MAILS.

NEWARK (N. J.) Oct. 8.—Edwin S. Prieth, publisher of the New Jersey Freie Zeitung, a German-language newspaper, was notified today by the Postoffice Department that the paper's second mailing privileges have been revoked on the ground that it had violated the provisions of the espionage act by publishing matter held to be seditious. The plant of the newspaper was raided by Federal agents last week.

TWO REDS REFUSE TO ADMIT IDENTITY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Disposition of the case of the four persons arrested in this city under indictments found in Chicago against leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, was delayed for a week today, when two of them, Elizabeth Gurley Flinn and Carlo Tresca, refused to admit their identity when arraigned before a United States commissioner. Arturo Giovannitti and Giovanni Baldazzi did not deny they were the persons named in the indictments. Adjournment was granted to permit counsel for Tresca and Miss Flinn to confer with them concerning the position they have taken.

WILL TRY FOR COAL BY MAKING A NOISE.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—James A. Storrow, fuel director of New England, told members of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts at a luncheon today that "more noise must be made at Washington" if New England is to get enough soft coal to keep its industries going.

LONGSHOREMEN ROW IN EAST SETTLED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—P. J. O'Connor, president of the International Longshoreman's Association, who came to this city tonight to settle a strike of longshoremen on the piers of the Clyde and Mallory lines, announced that "all differences affecting longshoremen along the entire Atlantic Coast, particularly at Newport News, have been amicably settled."

O'Connor said the walkout in this city was the result of a misunderstanding, and that he would adjust it tomorrow.

Diplomacy.

ECUADOREANS TO BREAK, TOO.

Rupture of Relations with Germany is Indicated.

Kaiser's Minister not Wanted in the City of Quito.

Count Luxburg Still Lingers in South America.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Without comment or explanation, the Ecuadorean Foreign Minister notified Minister Elivalde today that his government had instructed its Minister in Peru to advise the German Minister there that he could not be formally received at the Ecuadorean capital. Mr. Elivalde will advise Secretary Lansing of his government's action tomorrow. By State Department officials and diplomats the action of Ecuador has been construed as practically equivalent to a rupture of relations with Germany.

Dr. Perl was appointed Minister to both Peru and Ecuador, and after the declaration of war by the United States he mailed his credentials to Quito. The Ecuadorean government refused to recognize such informal presentation and then the Minister tried to secure acknowledgment of his status by sending an agent to Quito to act as Charge d'Affaires. The agent was not recognized.

Diplomats here were convinced today, however, that Ecuador's refusal to receive the Minister, now that he is willing to go to Quito, was not due to pique, but was carefully calculated as an indication of the country's intention to join the majority of South American nations already aligned against Germany.

Argentina and Chile, on the south, and Venezuela and Colombia, on the north, are the only nations of South America whose positions are not clearly defined.

OFFICIAL NEWS.

QUITO (Ecuador) Oct. 8.—The Ecuadorean Secretary of Foreign Affairs today sent a cablegram to the Ecuadorean Legation at Lima announcing that Dr. Perl, the German Minister to Peru and Ecuador, resident at Lima, will not be officially received by the Ecuadorean government in case he attempts to come to Ecuador.

The action of the Ecuadorean Foreign Secretary is understood to have been taken to demonstrate Ecuador's close affiliation with the union of the American republics.

Dr. Perl, the Minister to Peru, was handed his passports by the Peruvian government on Saturday. It was reported from Lima that he would go to Ecuador.

COUNT LUXBURG.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 8.—Officials today admitted that Count Karl von Luxburg, the former German Minister to Argentina, is still in the country. His exact location, however, was not made known.

The admission was forthcoming when it was learned today that a search by a British cruiser of an outward-bound Spanish ship had failed to find Von Luxburg, who was supposed to have taken passage on the steamer last Friday and sailed for Montevideo.

ALLEGED RIOTERS ARE GIVEN FREEDOM.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FORT BLISS (Tex.) Oct. 8.—Thirteen of the 156 negro soldiers held in the stockade here in connection with the rioting at Houston, Tex., August 23, were ordered released yesterday, and have returned to Columbus, N. M., to rejoin their regiment. Their release was ordered upon recommendation of the board of inquiry, which found they had no part in the rioting.

BRITISH-AMERICAN

Former Los Angeles Resident... are English Subjects Accused as Victoria to Join Army.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Oct. 8.—A party of Californians, including eighteen Los Angeles men, who left from Wilmington on the steamer Governor last Thursday, arrived here today in charge of Canadian recruiting officers, and will immediately enlist in various branches of the service. Occasional drill was held on board ship. The Californians, although residents of the State, are all British subjects. Among the number are a dozen well-known men of various social organizations.

A Sunday morning baseball game was enjoyed on the Governor, the first a wad of newspaper and the last a large carrot, as the improvised ball. The personnel of the band of Californians is as follows:

A. C. Saunders, Leo Gregg, Embury, H. W. Young, G. F. Richardson, C. B. Walton, G. F. Gardner, W. Viles, Carl M. Block, J. Nelson, O. H. Hutton, R. Dupuy, Ward, F. Harrison, A. Potts, J. Parker, W. Colville and E. Thomas.

Block, who is a former member of a vaudeville circuit, provided entertainment for the entire company.

COLUMBIA PROFESSES OF POLITICS QUITE

HIS VIEWS ON WAR QUESTION BELIEVED RESPONSIBLE

Brands Trustees as "Timid, Reactionary and Narrow."

Declares America Needs "Dedicated Thinking"—Two Faculty Men Discharged.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Charles A. Beard, professor of politics at Columbia University, resigned from the faculty today. In a letter to President Nicholas Murray Butler he declared it was because the university "is really under the control of a small and active group of trustees who have no standing in the world of education, who are reactionary and visionless in a narrow and mediaeval sense."

"If these were ordinary times," Prof. Beard wrote, "one might readily ignore the unhappy situation in which the dominant group in the board of trustees has placed the teachers, but these are not ordinary times. We are in the midst of a great war and we stand on the threshhold of an era which will call for all the emancipated thought that America can command."

At a meeting of the trustees of Columbia University last night the professorships held by Drs. McKeen Cattell of the department of psychology, and Henry Dana of the department of English and comparative literature were declared vacant by unanimous vote. It was announced that these men had been taken because "they had done grave injury to the university by their public agitation concerning the conduct of the war."

NATIONAL ARMY TO PARADE AT TACOMA

SOLDIERS TO MARCH, THEN ROOT FOR OFFICERS.

State College Team to Meet Commissioned Players at Northwestern Stadium — Big Army Leaders to Attend Game—Bayonet Drills Arranged.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMP LEWIS (Tacoma, Wash.) Oct. 8.—The first public parade of men of the new National Army, it is said, will be witnessed in Tacoma next Saturday, when 2000 men of the Three Hundred and Sixty-second Regiment will march to the stadium to root for the officers' football team, which will play the State college team from Pullman.

The regiment band will lead the procession. Preceding the game picked troops from the regiment will give a demonstration of bayonet drill and calisthenic work. Maj.-Gen. Greene and staff and Gov. Lister will attend the game.

Secretary McAdoo, Maj.-Gen. Greene and Gov. Lister will address the entire command at Camp Lewis tomorrow. The command will be on the drill field, in a hollow square surrounding the speaker's stand.

Construction of the Y.M.C.A. auditorium to be erected at Camp Lewis was begun today, and will be completed in two weeks.

Orders were received by Maj. David C. Stone, constructing quartermaster, from Washington, D. C., today, to rush construction of 175 buildings to accommodate 6200 men in the training battalions. Orders were turned over to the Hurley-Mason Company before noon, and this means the employment of more men and that the contractors will be working on a large scale at the camp for several weeks to come.

The new buildings will be located approximately 4000 feet southwest of headquarters. The troops to occupy these buildings will be men of the third quota, who have been assigned to the training battalions.

Commanding officers at Camp Lewis have detailed officers of their commands for instruction in the division infantry school of arms. The officers reported to Lieut.-Col. Eldred D. Warfield this morning. After a course in this school the officers in turn will instruct other officers and men at the camp in bayonet, pistol and rifle practice.

Definite announcement that the Camp Lewis football team would meet the naval militia team from Seattle in the Tacoma stadium Thanksgiving Day for the army-navy championship of the West was made at Camp Lewis by camp athletic Director T. G. Cook this morning. Football fans will have the first opportunity of seeing the Camp Lewis team in action October 20 against the Sixth Company of Coast Artillery team from Fort Worden. The camp team will play in Tacoma for the first time October 27 against the Red Cross team from Camp Lewis.

BRITISH-AMERICANS.

Former Los Angeles Residents Who are English Subjects Arrive at Victoria to Join Army.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Oct. 8.—A party of Californians, including eighteen Los Angeles men, who sailed from Wilmington on the steamship Governor last Thursday, arrived here today in charge of Canadian recruiting officers, and will immediately enlist in various branches of the service. Occasional drill was held on board ship. The Californians, although residents of the State, are all British subjects. Among the number are a dozen well-known members of various social organizations.

A Sunday morning baseball game was enjoyed on the Governor, with first a wad of newspaper and then a large carrot, as the improvised ball. The personnel of the Southern Californians is as follows:

A. C. Saunders, Leo Granier, J. Embury, H. W. Young, G. S. Richardson, C. B. Walton, G. F. Clark, W. Viles, Carl M. Block, J. McPherson, O. H. Hutton, R. Dupius, L. Ward, F. Harrison, A. Petris, J. F. Parker, W. Colville and H. Turner. Block, who is a former member of a vaudeville circuit, provided entertainment for the entire company.

Brands Trustees as "Violently Reactionary and Narrow," and Declares America Needs "Emancipated Thinking"—Two Other Faculty Men Discharged.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Charles A. Beard, professor of politics at Columbia University, resigned from the faculty today. In a letter to President Nicholas Murray Butler he declared it was because the university "is really under the control of a small and active group of trustees who have no standing in the world of education, who are reactionary and violentless in politics, narrow and mediaeval in religion."

"If these were ordinary times," Prof. Beard wrote, "one might more readily ignore the unhappy position in which the dominant group in the board of trustees has placed the teachers, but these are not ordinary times. We are in the midst of a great war and we stand on the threshhold of an era which will open for all the emancipated thought that America can command."

At a meeting of the trustees of Columbia University last night the professorships held by James McKeen Cattell of the department of psychology, and Henry W. L. Dana of the department of English and comparative literature were declared vacant by unanimous vote. It was announced that this action had been taken because "they had done grave injury to the university by their public agitation against the conduct of the war."

COMMISSION FOR PERSHING.

Wilson's Signature Makes Him a Full General.

He Is Also Elevated by the Selfsame Pen.

Next Mentioned for Post of Lieutenant-General.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—President Wilson today signed commissions as generals for Maj.-Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, army Chief of Staff, and Maj.-Gen. John J. Pershing, commanding the American forces in France. Though both officers have reached the rank, Gen. Bliss takes precedence by virtue of his position as the ranking head of the entire army organization. Congress revived the rank of general for the period of the war only in order to avoid embarrassment to Gen. Pershing in dealing with officers of high rank commanding the Allied armies on the western front. The new grades carry pay of $10,000 a year, an increase of $2000 over the pay of major-general.

The grade of lieutenant-general also was revived by Congress, the highest to be given commanders of army corps, but it was stated authoritatively at the War Department today that there is no intention of appointing any lieutenant-generals or army corps in the United States at present, as the divisional training system will be continued.

The name of Gen. Sibert was mentioned today as the most likely officials for the first commission as lieutenant-general when the army is reorganized in France, as he commanded the first troops sent to France.

The President also signed commissions of army bureau chiefs to be major-generals, and many brigadier-generals, whose nominations were confirmed by Congress in the last days of session.

RED CROSS RELIEF FUND FOR FLOOD VICTIMS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Fifty thousand dollars for the relief of flood sufferers in China was cabled today by the American Red Cross to workers in that country. It was announced that the entire $200,000 granted by Paul Reinsch, the American Minister, would be sent in installments.

Advices received today by the Chinese Legation, said conditions following the flood were worse than the abundant upon any other in the history of the country's history.

COMMISSIONS READY FOR NEGRO OFFICERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Army officials here today with commissions to be presented to successful candidates at the negro officers' training camp at Des Moines, Iowa, soon completing a four months' course of instruction. The new officers will be assigned to negro units of the Regulars, National Guard and National Army as needed, and it is said that none will hold higher rank for the present than company commander.

The War Department has now carried out completely its policy in the organization of negro troops and will commence the full plan today.

EARLY DECISION ON THE DRAFT LAW.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—To permit early decision, the Supreme Court today advised appeals involving the constitutionality of the draft law to be fixed December 10 for hearing arguments.

Action was taken on motion of the government, which asked that arguments on seven suits be heard at the same time.

Among those are Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, sentenced to two years' imprisonment and others urging men of conscription age not to register.

AN NEW FOREIGN EXCHANGE SYSTEM.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—To relieve embarrassment caused by the recent embargo to American business houses having agencies in South America, the Federal Reserve Board has opened negotiations with the governments of those countries to transfer funds from South American firms are now more than 20 per cent. above normal rates of exchange. The Federal Reserve Board has proposed that American firms shall deposit funds with certain banks in the United States to the credit of the South or Central American government with which business is to be done. The government in turn is to issue its own notes to the resident agents of the American firm authorized to transmit the money.

BARRED FROM JAIL.

Washington Court Abandons Policy of Committing "Silent Sentinels" to Prison.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Police Court abandoned the jail-sentence policy today in dealing with the "silent sentinels" picketing the White House and suspended sentence on the eleven arrested Saturday, including Alice Paul, national chairman of the Woman's party.

Since the rumpus at the workhouse last week, in which a dozen of the women were badly bruised and scratched, the militants in town here have been denied admittance to see their sisters. There was a suspicion that eleven more had gotten themselves arrested with the purpose of increasing the force at the workhouse.

The authorities think the plan was thwarted by suspending sentences and, moreover, the women have announced the abandonment of picketing until Congress reassembles.

POSTMASTER CENSOR OF FOREIGN PAPERS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — Announcement of the method of administration of the trading-with-the-enemy law will be made from the White House soon in a proclamation signed by the President.

This proclamation will give information of the course to be pursued in obtaining the licenses which the law requires to be issued when business operations come within the purview of the act.

Administration of the section which relates to newspapers published in a foreign language probably will be lodged with the Postoffice Department. Definite announcement of this point will be made in the President's proclamation.

NEWS PIRATING CASE TO BE REVIEWED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Supreme Court decided today to review Federal decrees, which restrained the International News Service or Hearst service from pirating news from the Associated Press.

Today's action of the court does not stay the operation of the injunctions already existing, court officials said, but merely provide for a review, to which there was no opposition by the Associated Press.

Attorneys for the International News Service last summer asked Justice Brandeis to temporarily stay the injunctions of the lower court, but this was denied.

AMPLIFICATION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The case of the Associated Press against the International News Service for pirating Associated Press news was decided by the Circuit Court of Appeals of this district. There was no right of appeal to the Supreme Court, but both sides petitioned the Supreme Court for a writ of certiorari to review it, the Associated Press being anxious to secure a decision of the highest tribunal in the United States upon the subject.

The application of the Associated Press for a writ of certiorari, recited that it would "be content to rest its right upon the decisions below without requesting the Supreme Court to assume the burden, except that nothing but a decision of the Supreme Court can assure this great service a sound and indisputable foundation and forestall a great quantity of costly and harassing litigation all over the country in both Federal and State courts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Members of the Japanese mission, who planned to leave immediately for the West on their return to Japan, have to remain in Washington for a few days longer and await the sailing of another steamer. Meanwhile, Viscount Ishii is availing himself of the opportunity to confer with members of the Exports Board. He called upon Secretary Lansing today at the State Department.

NEW JERSEY TOWN HAS CHEAPEST BREAD.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — Bread consumers' reports to the food administration from fifty-two cities and towns in all parts of the country show wide differences in bread prices. The lowest price reported was from Pleasantville, N. J., where a sixteen-ounce loaf sells for 6 cents. The same size loaf sells for 15 cents in Rock Falls, Ill.; Eastport, Me.; Red Bank, N. J.; Miami, Okla.; Nashville, Tenn.; Laramie, Wyo., and Newport, R. I.

A sixteen-ounce loaf is sold for 8 cents in many cities throughout the West and in some cities in the East. A 5-cent loaf of twelve ounces is sold in a few cities.

Sixty-fifth Congress.

EIGHT PER CENT. TAX EXPLAINED.

It's a Levy on Excess Profit, According to Kitchin.

Simmons Resents the Charge that it is a Joker.

Salaries of Six Thousand Dollars Plus Affected.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 8.—Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee, and Representative Kitchin, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, resent the charge that the tax of 8 per cent. on incomes is a joker in the war revenue bill. They assert that it was levied to catch a class of salary earners that should help bear their share of the war burden.

Mr. Kitchin describes the 8 per cent. tax on incomes of individuals above $6000 as an "excess profits tax."

Senator Simmons said today that the Finance Committee wrote into the revenue bill the provision for the 8 per cent. tax, but would have exempted certain individuals whom the House conferees thought should be required to pay.

"In the present revenue law," said Senator Simmons, "and in the House bill the excess profits tax applied only to corporations and partnerships. The Senate committee thought that there was no good reason in principle or otherwise why an individual who was making excess profits should not contribute to the expense of the government as well as corporations or partnerships, so we added individuals. This amendment which imposes an 8 per cent, tax on incomes over $6000 is a very important one. It brings everybody engaged in trade and in business under the provisions of this bill and requires them to contribute their mite to the war. The Senate desired to relieve from this tax certain occupations and professions where the earnings were made through personal service without any invested capital. The conferees of the House, however, insisted that there was no reason in principle why the professional men should not pay a tax as well as any other American who happened to be engaged in business as a partner or as an individual. The Senate conferees yielded to the justice of that contention."

After further explaining the workings of this provision, Senator Simmons said that as he had stated on the floor of the Senate in answer to questions of Senators Kellogg and Wadsworth:

"It is a tax very much of the character as the special tax on munitions except that it does allow an exemption of $6000. Otherwise it is in the nature of an additional tax."

"In effect," said Senator Simmons, "it is an additional income tax. So is the other tax—the war profits tax.

"There is nothing in the nature of a joker in that tax of 8 per cent. on incomes over $6000. The levy was deliberate and we think just. It was discussed on the floor of the Senate and everybody should have known what it did."

NO VACATION FOR PRESIDENT WILSON.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—President Wilson plans no vacation or speaking trips between now and the Christmas holidays, and will spend most of his time quietly in Washington, directing and co-ordinating war work.

The President has declined a number of invitations to make addresses, but is considering a trip to New Orleans in February to attend the bi-centennial celebration of the city's foundation.

ANTI-TRUST SUITS COMING TO TRIAL.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The war will have no effect upon the government's prosecution of the five great anti-trust suits now pending in the Supreme Court. Solicitor-General Davis said today that agreement had been reached with attorneys for the International Harvester Company whereby the dissolution suit brought against the company will not be considered by the court until after the arguments in the steel suit, which will be called in January.

The coal trust cases will come up in their regular order and will be reached late in November.

TO SPREAD WAR KNOWLEDGE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—To educate the American people on the causes and principles of the war, representatives of religious, industrial, labor, fraternal, professional, financial and other interests met here today to perfect an organization first proposed at a similar conference here a month ago. Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, probably will be elected president and Sam Gompers vice-president.

HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS FOR U-BOAT DESTROYERS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — Contracts to put into immediate force the $250,000,000 destroyer project approved by Congress just before adjournment were made today, to be signed by Secretary Daniels tomorrow. Preliminary contracts made with ship, boiler and engine-building companies, providing for the completion of the big job in not more than eighteen months, were of a tentative nature, and some minor changes were necessary.

The plan, in a general way, is to build additional shops and shipyards at which destroyers enough to more than double the present American fleet, built or building, will be laid down. The private builders could not undertake this unaided and probably more than half of the appropriation will go into plant construction which will be either passed to the government or be purchased by the companies when the work is done.

The Navy Department has requested that the number of new destroyers to be built be not published, but it is generally known that at least two of the new destroyer contracts call for forty boats each.

PACIFISTS ABANDON PROPOSED MEETING.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) Oct. 8.—Plans for the holding of a State conference of the People's Council of America for Democracy and Peace here Wednesday next were suddenly changed today with the announcement of an ultimatum by Gov. Norbeck declaring that the legal forces of the State would be used to prevent the proposed meeting. William C. Rempfer, secretary of the State organization, this afternoon announced that the delegates had abandoned the idea of holding a public meeting, but that a private meeting would be held to determine upon a course of action.

GOVERNOR EMPHATIC.

PIERRE (S. D.) Oct. 8.—Gov. Peter Norbeck, in a reply to a demand of leaders of the People's Council of America for Democracy and Peace for an explanation of his action in issuing orders prohibiting meetings of the organization in South Dakota, today reiterated his statement that every force of the State would be used to prevent the proposed Sate conference of the council at Sioux Falls, October 10. Gov. Norbeck declares that State authorities would prevent the proposed Sioux Falls meeting or any other attempts to hold meetings within the State.

CITY OFFICIALS ARE OUSTED FROM OFFICE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

INTERNATIONAL FALLS (Minn.) Oct. 8.—Sheriff Thomas P. White, Mayor F. H. Keyes of this city and Mayor Peter Gibbons of Ranier were today removed from office, in compliance with orders from Gov. Burnquist, the result of a petition filed with the Minnesota Public Safety Commission at a recent meeting. Neglect of duty in enforcing liquor regulations is the principal charge against the removed officials, who will be given a hearing at a date to be set by the Governor.

EXPEDITION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Supreme Court today decided to expedite the government's anti-trust suit against the United Shoe Machinery Company, and fixed January 7 for rehearing arguments. The suit was dismissed by the lower court, which held the company blameless. The government appealed to the Supreme Court, which heard arguments last March, and later ordered the case reargued at the present term.

WAR MINERALS IN BIG DEMAND.

"Open All Our Resources," Cry of Westerveld.

Otherwise, He Declares, There will be a Scarcity.

Vast Deposits in the Country Still Undeveloped.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—The United States soon will face a grave scarcity of certain minerals necessary to the successful conduct of the war unless the vast mineral deposits of the country are developed, said W. G. Westerveld of New York, chairman of the United States War Minerals Board, in an address today before the American Institute of Mining Engineers in session here.

Nitrates, essential to the manufacture of gunpowder and high-explosive shells, are imported in small quantities from South America, he said, because of the shortage of ships. Manganese, a mineral used in hardening steel for armor plate and shells, he said, is imported at the expense of other necessary articles, while vast deposits of the mineral in Virginia, Arkansas and Iowa are underdeveloped.

"Steps also must be taken at once to insure a sufficient supply of lead, tin, mercury, mica and zinc necessary to the successful prosecution of war," the speaker declared.

Other members of the War Materials Board also made patriotic speeches before the convention at the afternoon session, devoted to a patriotic meeting. Members of the board here for the convention are Alfred G. White of the United Bureau of Mines, W. O. Hotchkiss, State geologist of Wisconsin, and David White, head of the United States Geological Survey.

The speakers urged the mining engineers to co-operate with the board, the purpose of which is to insure a supply of minerals and stimulate production from mineral deposits now neglected. The engineers' institute will be asked to supply volunteers to develop mineral deposits that have not been used.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL.

Strong government control, preferably through the medium of the Federal Trade Commission, was recommended for the bituminous coal industry by Francis G. Peabody of Chicago, chairman of the Coal Production Committee of the Council of National Defense, in a paper prepared by him and read to the engineers.

Peabody in his paper dwelt on the so-called bad features of the present system of producing coal, which he said not only was wasting the heritage of the people, but which was placing almost insurmountable difficulties for successors to overcome in working the thinner veins of coal which are left.

The mining business, he said, is beset by all manner of waste—waste of national resources, waste of the human element and waste of capital, and the people do not realize how dearly future generations will have to pay for this.

After business sessions tomorrow the engineers will visit various St. Louis industrial plants. Wednesday night they will go to Joplin, Mo., to inspect the mines.

FEW ACTUAL VICTIMS OF COAL SHORTAGE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Few specific complaints of coal shortage have been reported from any part of the country in spite of the recent cold weather, Fuel Administrator Garfield said today, after a conference with President Wilson.

"The fuel administration," said Garfield, "has received telegrams, saying the coal situation is acute, but these do not give details, which can be investigated and remedied. Most reports indicate that individual consumers are receiving necessary supplies of coal."

The administrator explained that some complaints of coal shortage came from persons whose orders are not filled promptly because of the great demand at this time of the year, and who are unnecessarily worried as a result.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR RED CROSS SERVICE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Completion of sixteen big warehouses for the new war relief distribution system was announced today in dispatches to the American Red Cross from its commission in France. Six of the buildings are in Paris and the others in departments outside of the capital, and all are filled with supplies ranging from medicines, clothes and food to building materials and farm implements. American college men, many of whom formerly drove ambulances at the front, are directing the system.

CHAPTER L.

Let's get down to solid brass tacks. It doesn't make a n y difference whether you're as tall as Jess Willard or as short as Lit-tle Jeff, you are just like the rest of us; you stretch your neck out of the crowd and stand up on tiptoe and squeal, "Look at me."

We all do it. We may not all admit it. And that's exactly where the boomp comes in.

The whole human race is afflicted with the disease "Egotistic glorifius." It is more catching than tetanus or tuberculosis or typhoid. Everybody's saying, "Look at me." We may say it differently, but the refrain is the same.

Yes, we're all egotists. That's because we're all human.

What about me? Oh, indeed! Guilty as charged! Why would I be writing these little essays on myself if I wasn't an egotist?

Did you ever stop to think about this "Ego" stuff? There's not one of us that doesn't place himself above everybody else. It began when we first came into the world, and it has kept up ever since. The fellow that tells you that he thinks only of the other chap has a cataract over both eyes. He's never turned his periscope inside of his soul and got the low-down on the rebus he really is. Come on. Be honest for once.

Did you ever stop to think that every trait that you notice and criticise in the other fellow you will be possessing to some degree in yourself, if you honestly search yourself? That's probably the reason why we're so quick to detect it in the other fellow. We get full stirred up over something in somebody else that reminds us of ourselves.

For instance, one of the gravest accusations hurled at me constantly by my professional brethren is that I am an advertising dentist. They label me "unethical" and brand me an "outlaw." But the fact remains that every dentist who eats, be he ethical or unethical, advertises. He may try to do it subtly, by joining a flock of lodges or participating in politics, or cultivating a wise professional manner, like a tree full of owls—but he advertises just the same. The tough part about it is that this melancholy, dark-lantern method of advertising doesn't bring home the bacon as successfully as printer's ink and the wrist of the sign painter and yanking teeth on the public streets.

And why shouldn't I advertise? Anything criminal about it?

Nothing except that it isn't the traditional way in which dentist's have done things in the past.

SARAH BERNHARDT AS A GODMOTHER.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt today accepted the title of Godmother to the children of America, offered her at the meeting of the Children's Patriotic League, which she addressed.

"Today a big family comes to the unhappy children of France and Belgium with hands full of gifts," she said. "Those gifts will put the light of joy into eyes which too early knew the bitterness of tears. It is the beginning of an admirable fraternity."

PROMISES TO NAME SLAYER OF CHILD.

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Oct. 8.—The prosecution rested its case today in the trial of Joseph and Sarah Ann Wakelin, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of their 7-year-old daughter, Loretta. William R. Scharton, attorney for the defense, stated that he also rested his case so far as Mrs. Wakelin was concerned, and asked the court for a verdict. Judge Patrick M. Keating took the motion under advisement until tomorrow morning.

After court had adjourned, Mr. Scharton announced that when the trial was resumed tomorrow he would name the man who had killed the child.

Mr. McAdoo will reach Dallas the night of October 21.

NEW GERMAN CRUISER HITS MINE; 23 DROWN.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Arrivals at Amsterdam from Hamburg, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, report that early last week a new German battle cruiser while on a trial run off Helgoland struck a mine and was seriously damaged. Three officers and twenty sailors were drowned. The vessel was towed to port.

LUNCHES FOR CHILDREN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—In an effort to improve the mental and physical condition of 50,000 New York school children, a lunchroom service will be installed in thirty-six schools in Manhattan and the Bronx this week, it was announced by the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

PRINT PAPER CASES GO OVER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The government's prosecution of the News Print Manufacturers' Association and seven individual defendants for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, set for today, was deferred until the November term of the Federal Court here.

KEET KIDNAPING CASE.

Prisoner in Missouri Jail Said to have Made Confession Involving Suspect.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MARSHFIELD (Mo.) Oct. 8.—Dick Carter, one of the defendants in the alleged plot to abduct C. A. Clement, a jeweler of Springfield, will be a witness for the State in the trial of Claude J. Piersol, charged with kidnaping baby Lloyd Keet, it was announced today. Prosecutor Paul M. O'Day said the State would use Carter, and that Carter had made a complete confession, not only to his part in the attempt to abduct Clement, but in the plot to steal baby Keet.

Carter, who is in the County Jail here, said:

"I am tired of carrying the secret about the kidnaping and shall make a clean breast of it."

He said he would tell on the witness stand of the attempts that were made to abduct Clement and of two attempts to kidnap the baby when he was present. Carter maintained he took no actual part in the kidnaping.

Deadlocked.

JAPAN IS UNWILLING TO DIVERT TONNAGE

NEGOTIATIONS AT WASHINGTON UNSUCCESSFUL.

Nipponese Anxious to Obtain Steel Plate from United States, but Insist They Can't Part with Ships—Compromise Probable if Japan will Sell Vessels.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 8.—A deadlock has been reached in the negotiations between Japan and the United States respecting the exportation of steel to Japan and the diversion by Japan for war uses of Japanese tonnage. The only hope of an agreement, it was declared on the highest authority today, is a compromise.

Neither this government nor the Japanese Embassy has permitted the exact figures used in the negotiations to become known, but it was learned that Japan has requested permission to export a sufficient quantity of steel to maintain her shipping yards at full capacity, which is 500,000 tons a year.

Japan has used the argument that her shipping lines are to her, being an island country, what the railroad lines are to the United States and that she cannot deprive herself of her tonnage any more than the United States can deprive itself of its railroads. At the present time, approximately one-third of Japanese tonnage is employed for war uses or semi-war uses, and Japan holds that very little more could be diverted without seriously embarrassing her own vital interests.

It was believed possible today that an agreement might be effected upon the basis of Japan assigning to the use of the United States or selling to the United States new Japanese tonnage in exchange for steel plates necessary for the maintenance of the shipbuilding industry in Japan.

POLITICAL EXPOSE.

Alleged "Go-between" Tells of Bringing Gunmen from New York for Philadelphia Election.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The sudden production on the witness stand of Michael J. Sullivan, alleged "go-between" in the fifth ward primary election day row, which resulted in the killing of a policeman, created a mild sensation when the hearing of Mayor Thomas B. Smith and eight others on charges of conspiracy to murder was resumed before Judge Brown today in the Municipal Court.

Sullivan, who admitted that he had brought eighteen gunmen here from New York for election work gave testimony which corroborated that given last week by Samuel G. Maloney. Sullivan said the arrangements for the importation of the men was made in the presence of Isaac Deutsch, one of the principals in the case, who was contesting James A. Carey's ward leadership and candidacy for select Councilman, and a certain magistrate, who, the prosecution contends, issued in wholesale fashion blank warrants for the arrest on primary election day of Carey followers.

Maloney, at this meeting, Sullivan said, gave him $100 to pay transportation expenses of the men brought here and remarked in Deutsch's presence that "the money was to be used in getting the men here for Mr. Deutsch."

NEW YORK REDOUBLES WAR LOAN EFFORTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Necessity of redoubled effort on the part of the various agencies engaged in the second Liberty Loan campaign if the allotment for the New York Federal Reserve District is not to fall short, was emphasized by the committee tonight when it was announced that the total thus far reported for the district was only $216,850,000.

Every firm and individual connected with the New York Stock Exchange will be brought into the campaign under plans announced by the committee, which also stated that Maj.-Gen. Bell, in command of Camp Upton at Yaphank, will send 100 soldiers of the National Army to this city Wednesday to sell Liberty Bonds under the direction of the Advisory Trades Committee.

BANKER'S WIDOW IS HIDDEN BY FRIENDS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PEORIA (Ill.) Oct. 8.—Inquest over the death of Jesse Barker, millionaire banker and clubman, found dead last evening in the bathroom of his home here with a bullet hole in his head, was postponed today until tomorrow to permit further investigation.

Joseph Well, attorney for the Barker family, stated there were several peculiar features to the case that ought to be examined closely.

It became known here that Mrs. Barker, the millionaire's estranged wife, who was Mrs. Chamie Robinson of Louisville, Ky., before her marriage, is in the city, but friends are keeping her whereabouts secret.

SEASON'S FIRST ICE IN CHICAGO.

Killing Frosts do Damage to Illinois Corn.

Snow and Rain Break Long Drought in Dakota.

Thermometer Registers 28 Above at Omaha.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 8.—A scum of ice, the first of the season, was visible this morning on shallow pools of water in outlying parts of the city. The temperature at the official observation stations sank only to 35 deg. Similarly, cold weather is predicted for tonight, with heavy frosts general in this part of the State and with a light freeze in exposed localities. Light snow fell in Indiana.

"A rise in temperature will set in tomorrow," said Prof. C. L. Mitchell, assistant forecaster for this district, "and the weather probably will return to the seasonal average. The third world's series game at New York probably will be played under conditions similar to those in Chicago Saturday or Sunday."

KILLING FROSTS.

Killing frosts in Central and Northern Illinois did considerable damage to unmatured corn last night, reports to the Federal Weather Bureau at Springfield indicated. No estimate of the proportion of the crop affected was available, although it was said that the bdik of the corn in Illinois had passed the danger mark before the frosts of last night and Saturday night.

Relief in the infantile paralysis situation in Chicago is looked for as a result of the cool weather, Health Commissioner Robertson said today. Six new cases of the disease were reported, as against an average of ten cases for each day last week. Three deaths from the disease also were reported.

Temperatures throughout the United States generally yesterday, as reported by the Los Angeles government weather bureau, were as follows:

KILLING NEBRASKA FROST.

OMAHA, Oct. 8.—A killing frost occurred last night all over the State of Nebraska. The mercury registered 28 above zero at Omaha early today.

ALASKAN SEALSKINS SOLD AT ST. LOUIS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—A total of 3329 Alaskan sealskins belonging to the Federal government were sold at auction here today for a total of $110,000. The skins sold for an average of $33.50 each, a price 12 to 20 per cent. below the prices realized here last April. More than fifteen thousand undressed skins of Lobos Island seals sold for $15,500. These skins were consigned to the Uruguayan government. The Federal government shipment of blue fox pelts from Pribiloff Island sold for an average of $60 each, though the better skins brought $90 to $162.

LABEL TRUST DISSOLVED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Woven Label Manufacturers' Association, charged by the government with violating the anti-trust law, was dissolved by United States Judge Hand with consent of the defense in the Federal court here today. The government alleged that the association conspired to monopolize and restrain trade in woven labels.

GEN. GOETHALS'S SON ENGAGED TO MARRY.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 8.—The engagement of Miss Mary Addison Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Randall Webb, to Dr. Thomas Rodman Goethals, son of Maj.-Gen. George Goethals and Mrs. Goethals, has been announced in Washington. Dr. Goethals is in France.

GETS TWO-DAY SENTENCE.

TRENTON (N. J.) Oct. 8.—Joseph Levy of Pittsburgh, who pleaded guilty to impersonating Frank Daniels, son of the Secretary of the Navy, was sentenced here today to two days in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. Through posing as young Daniels, Levy obtained loans and letters to prominent persons and succeeded also in gaining admittance to the New York navy yard.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Oct. 8.—With both sides stipulating that their action was taken as a patriotic duty, striking clerks of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway returned to work today under an agreement by which the company will pay all the strikers for the time they have lost and the differences will be settled later.

THIRTY-DAY LIMIT ON SUPPLY ORDERS.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8.—A request that purchases of food supplies for wards of the State be limited to buying stocks sufficient for thirty days was received today by W. G. McMillan, State Purchasing Agent, in a letter from Theodore Wilcox of Portland, Or., chairman of the Pacific Coast division of the food administration.

Mr. Wilcox wrote that he had been advised that the California Purchasing Agent had requested bids on supplies of flour and cereals for a year, and warned him that purchases beyond a period of thirty days would be in violation of the mills' agreement with the food administration.

Contracts anticipating deliveries beyond the thirty-day period would be subject to cancellation, Mr. Wilcox wrote.

Purchasing Agent McMillan said he did not believe the rule was intended to apply to State purchases and has appealed to Ralph Merritt, food administrator for California, to confer with Herbert Hoover, food administrator, on the subject.

BIG SALMON CATCH FORCES PRICE DOWN.

EUREKA, Oct. 8.—Salmon sold here today at 4½ cents per pound, as the result of a record catch in the Eel River.

One hundred and fifty fishing boats were launched at sundown last night. Many were filled to capacity in less than an hour, it was reported. Fish weighing between sixty and seventy pounds were caught in pools so crowded it was almost impossible to handle the nets.

DOWNWARD REVISION OF RATES IS UPHELD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Downward revision of certain class freight rates on the Sacramento Valley lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and the McCloud River Railroad Company, recently ordered by the State Railroad Commission, has been upheld by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, the commission announced today.

As the order of the commission was made retroactive to May 1, last, the Southern Pacific company immediately prepared to refund $20,000 to shippers and consignees, this sum representing excess between the old and new rates since that time.

The commission, in its announcement, said that "more than $160,000 yearly will be saved to shippers" in the territory affected.

ROMINGER BILL MAY GO ON STATE BALLOT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Campaigns to secure sufficient signatures to a petition, placing the Rominger bill, which would abolish saloons and prohibit the sale of ardent spirits, on the 1918 ballot as an initiative measure, were started today under direction of the Grape Protective Association.

Seventy-five thousand signatures are necessary. Canvassers to secure names in various cities throughout the State will be under the auspices of the association, which is fostering the measure, rejected by the last Legislature.

COAST BUYING AGENT FOR ENGLAND NAMED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Arthur F. Thane of the firm of A. F. Thane & Co., of San Francisco, has been named by the British War Mission in the United States as purchasing agent for the British government on the Pacific Coast of all lumber, aeronautical materials and supplies, it was announced here tonight. Mr. Thane also will have supervision of all shipping from Pacific Coast ports for the British government. He is expected to leave tomorrow for San Francisco.

PRICE AGREED UPON FOR CALIFORNIA RICE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8.—A minimum price of 4 cents a pound for No. 1 grade, 1917 crop of California rice, has been fixed by directors of the Pacific Rice Growers' Association, said to control between 75 and 80 per cent. of the State's production, which is estimated at 2,750,000 bags for this season.

FOUR JURORS FOR RACE RIOT TRIALS.

BELLEVILLE (Ill.) Oct. 8.—Four jurors had been accepted to try Henry Wood, a switchman, and Leo Keane, 17 years old, charged with the murder of Scott Clark, a negro, during the East St. Louis race riots, when the Circuit Court adjourned tonight.

Circuit Judge Crow today formally sentenced the ten negroes convicted yesterday of the murder of Detective Samuel Coppedge to fourteen years in the penitentiary.

CUBAN SUGAR MEN WANT BETTER PRICE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Leading Cuban sugar planters held a conference here today and will go to Washington soon to appeal to the food administration for "a just price" for their crop. Hannibal J. de Mesa, spokesman for the planters, said that Cuba next year will produce her largest cane-sugar crop, about 3,300,000 tons, of which, he declared, the United States and her allies would need every ounce.

"We are loyal first, last and all the time," he said, "and we are in this fight against Germany just as sincerely as you are. We do not ask a big profit, but we think that a just price should be set by the food commission and made permanent. What we feel it is our due is to get the equivalent of beet-sugar prices."

Mr. De Mesa explained that after selling his last crop the price went up.

WHAT RISES MUST FALL.

Prof. Fisher of Yale on the Price Movements.

Fluctuations are Viewed by Him as an Evil.

Places the Major Blame on the Money System.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, Oct. 8.—This afternoon Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale gave his fourth lecture on "Price Movements," the subject being "The Evils of Price Movements." He said, in part:

To one who has followed and accepted the argument that price changes, even during the war, have been principally owing to monetary depreciation the first impression is "Then the high cost of living is not as bad as it seems; it is, for the most part, merely nominal!"

Now it is quite true that the high cost of living is not as bad as some people think it to be; it is not as bad as though the average cost of living had risen while our average income had not. In general, before this disastrous war, incomes rose all over the world, and, in general, they rose faster than the cost of living.

The estimated per capita income in the United States in 1910 was, according to Prof. King, $332 as compared with $236 in 1900, showing an increase of 41 per cent., whereas the price level had risen only 25 per cent. in the same period.

In only one of the six decades between 1850 and 1910 did the price level rise faster than income, namely, in the Civil War decade, 1860-1870, when in the greenback standard, prices rose 57 per cent., while the per capita income rose only 50 per cent. It is altogether likely that the present decade, 1910-1920, will, like the Civil War decade, show not only an enormous rise in the cost of living, but a loss of per capita real income.

If for every one of us the rise of income were to keep pace with the high cost of living, the latter would be merely on paper and not a matter of vital concern to anyone.

SOCIAL JUSTICE.

But even when, as was usually true before the war, the rise in prices was no more rapid than the average rise in money incomes, prices and incomes did not increase evenly for all of us. Some classes gained much and others nothing, while still others lost. There is no "social justice" in such changes.

Bondholders of all kinds, including the beneficiaries of trust funds invested in bonds, such as widows and orphans and institutions such as colleges and hospitals, suffer because their nominal interest remains the same, while the prices of what they buy rise. I was told that one great life insurance company estimated that it lost some $50,000,000 through depreciation in bonds and mortgages since these have grown unpopular as an investment because of the continually decreasing value of the fixed income.

Some incomes are fixed or limited by law. Railroads are finding difficulty in doing business under their legally restricted rates because while their prices are fixed, their costs go up with the rise of the general price level. This is the fundamental reason why railroads are asking permission of the Interstate Commerce Commission to raise their rates.

Salaried men of all kinds, such as clerks, teachers, and public officials and, last but not least, wage-earners lose; for, while salaries and wages rise they do not keep pace with the rise in prices.

On the other hand the enterpriser or profit-maker gains by rising prices.

During falling prices, of course, the opposite has been the case. Interest, rent, salaries, wages and other relatively fixed items lag behind prices. The bondholder wins from the stockholder, the fixed salaried man from the enterpriser and the wage earner from the employer.

This subtle transfer back and forth from one set of pockets to another has probably amounted to several billion dollars a year between the Civil War and this war.

1873 TO 1896 CONTRASTED.

The effects of both rising and falling prices are well illustrated in two recent sharply contrasted periods: from 1873 to 1896 and from 1896 to the present.

During the first period the farmer and active business man were complaining that they could make little or no profits, but that the "bloated bondholder" was coming to own the earth, while the wage-earner was waxing fat and comfortable.

Now (in the second period) nothing is heard of "bloated bondholders." Instead we are complaining of the profit makers and, to indicate the complaint, a new word has been invented—the "profiteer."

A new labor problem has come into being as the response of the wage-earner to the high cost of living. The war, so far, has greatly intensified these evils and there is every prospect that it will intensify them very much more.

So far as we subscribe to our war loans out of money borrowed at the bank that is out of an increase of deposit currency, and not out of real savings, we are, as has been said, merely adding to inflation, raising the cost of living and making the poor pay for the war, even though they be not nominally taxed. Paper money has been well called a "forced loan," and deposit inflation amounts to the same thing.

We have all become, against our will, speculators in gold and, although in every gamble some one is bound to win, the net effect, as in all gambling, is a distinct loss to the community. Price movements, whether downward or upward, produce a subtle but great and unjust shift of wealth from one class to another.

SOME EXAMPLES.

An example or two will help us understand the injustice. Consider a servant girl who put $100 in the savings bank in 1896. Today if she has allowed it to accumulate at 3½ per cent. interest, she has $200. But when she tries to spend her $200, she finds that everything costs double what it did in 1896. Thus, she gets for her entire $200 today only as much as she could have bought for $100 at the [illegible]. Where is her interest? [illegible] been (without the [illegible] body) cheated out of [illegible] through the depreciation of the dollar in terms of which her bank account has been kept.

The bondholder reaches a result. If he has been living [illegible] interest the purchasing power of his principal has been decreased; he has really been living on [illegible]. To keep his capital unimpaired he would have had to reinvest [illegible] interest!

It is very cold comfort to the [illegible] holder, the savings bank depositor, the salaried man, the wage-earner and the other losers to [illegible] that the average man has [illegible] that some classes have gained at the expense of his class or [illegible] upon a time, namely between 1879 and 1896 his father and grandfather and others of his own class were gainers.

It will do no good, of course, for all to rail at the lucky winners in the lottery. The fault is not [illegible] they have, in a sense, picked their neighbors' pockets neither do their victims understand [illegible]

DISCONTENT.

Nevertheless the great [illegible] downtrodden mass of people [illegible] being able to understand how [illegible] personal cause could be [illegible] them or helping others [illegible] ing daily more suspicious [illegible] sing a grudge against the [illegible] Hence we find seeds [illegible] springing from this discontent [illegible] dustrial unrest, strikes, [illegible] riots and reckless legislation [illegible] of which is not only [illegible] jurious.

Moreover price fluctuations [illegible] alternate crises and depressions [illegible] upward price movement [illegible] end in a crash after which [illegible] long fall, causing a [illegible] pression followed by [illegible] to the next crest. Society demands that we put a stop to [illegible] tary situation which is in [illegible] so many great injustices [illegible]

Parent-Teacher Association Advance Good Work.

Pasadena Members Hold First Fall Meeting.

Every Ticket Sold for the Gerard Banquet.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Oct. 9.—The Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations held its first meeting for the new school year in the rooms of the Board of Education yesterday afternoon. Reports made by the presidents of the various auxiliary bodies showed excellent work to have been done in the way of making community centers of the school buildings and in enlisting the children in the work of the Red Cross. Talks on conservation were made by Dr. Jeremiah M. Rhodes, Superintendent of the city schools, and by Mrs. John D. Carr and Mrs. Louis Bess, urging the local conservation regulations. It was decided to ask the Board of Education to have the principles of conservation taught in the domestic science department of the schools.

FALL.

bought for $100 at the beginning. Where is her interest? She has been (without the intention of any one body) cheated out of her interest through the depreciation of the dollar in terms of which her original bank account has been kept!

The bondholder reaches a similar result. If he has been living on the interest the purchasing power of his principal has been decreasing so that he has really been living on capital. To keep his capital unimpaired he would have had to reinvest all his interest!

It is very cold comfort to the bondholder, the savings bank depositor, the salaried man, the wage-earner and the other losers to assure them that the average man has not, that some classes have gained at the expense of his class or that, once upon a time, namely between 1860 and 1896 his father and grandfather and others of his own class were the gainers.

It will do no good, of course, to rail at the lucky winners in the lottery. The fault is not theirs. What they have, in a sense, picked from their neighbors' pockets neither they nor their victims understand the full extent.

DISCONTENT.

Nevertheless the great ironfisted downtrodden mass of people, not being able to understand how any one's personal cause could be served by them or helping others are growing daily more suspicious and nursing a grudge against the system. Hence we find secondary discontent springing from this discontent—industrial unrest, strikes, class hatred, riots and reckless legislation, the effect of which is not only useless but injurious.

Moreover price fluctuations—the alternate crises and depressions—the upward price movement is bound to end in a crash after which there is a long fall, causing an industrial depression followed by another upward to the next crest. Social justice demands that we put a stop to this retrogressive and retrogressionary situation which is to blame for so many great injustices and evils.

CHINESE SMUGGLERS GET PRISON TERMS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Chinese pleaded guilty in the United States District Court here today to conspiracy to effect the illegal entry of their countrymen through the port of San Francisco.

Chew Chong Heo, alleged head of an organization known to the authorities as the international Chinese smuggling ring, was sentenced to eighteen months in the Federal penitentiary. His confessed co-conspirators received lesser sentences in the County Jail.

All were indicted recently by a Federal grand jury following exposé of the machinations of the smuggling ring at the immigration station at Angel Island in San Francisco Bay through the investigations of John B. Densmore, solicitor for the Department of Labor. As a result of these investigations a score or more immigration inspectors, interpreters and attaches were either dismissed or suspended, and others were subsequently indicted for perjury.

A falsification of records and connivance of inspectors was the principal means by which the Chinese gained illegal entry to the country, Federal officials declared.

SECOND INFANTRY TO BE ABSORBED

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8.—The Second Infantry, California National Guard, has been absorbed by the Fifth and Seventh Infantries, the Second Battery, California Field Artillery, according to information telephoned today to Adjt.-Gen. J. W. Borree from the Western Department army headquarters at San Francisco.

The first battalion of the Second Infantry was absorbed by the Seventh Infantry; the second by the Fifth Infantry, and the third by the Second battery. The action was ordered to be in line with the policy of the government in augmenting the regiments.

STUBBS GETS NEW POST

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The announcement was made today of the appointment of Ralph S. Stubbs, son of the late J. E. Stubbs, president of the University of Nevada, to the position of assistant manager of the operating department of the American Sugar Refining Company. His office will be in New York. Stubbs is a cousin of J. G. Stubbs, general freight agent of the Southern Pacific Company.

CALL FOR AMBULANCE CORPS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BERKELEY, Oct. 8.—A call for another ambulance corps of 40 men from the University of California was received here today by the War Department. This unit will be the fifth to be supplied by the university. The call declares that the men will be enlisted in the regular army and will be dispatched to France at an early date.

JAIL ALCOHOL VENDORS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Two men were sentenced to jail here today in police court for selling alcohol diluted with water to soldiers in uniform in violation of the Federal Statutes. Another was sentenced to prison in the United States District Court for selling liquor to soldiers.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Oct. 8.—The Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations held its first meeting for the new school year in the rooms of the Board of Education yesterday afternoon. Reports made by the presidents of the various auxiliary bodies showed excellent work to have been done in the way of making community centers of the school buildings and in enlisting the children in the work of the Red Cross. Talks on conservation were made by Dr. Joseph M. Rhodes, Superintendent of the city schools, and by Mrs. Ida D. Carr and Mrs. Louis Best, chairman the local conservation committees. It was decided to ask the Board of Education to have the course of conservation taught in the domestic science department of the schools. A new committee was appointed to co-operate with the "Red Cross and food conservation," with Mrs. L. D. Wishard as chairman.

COMING BY AUTO.

Only a few years ago making the tour across the continent by auto was regarded as a noteworthy event; but the indications are that a great many of the winter visitors to this city will adopt this mode of travel. Reservations are constantly being made with the local hotels, and mention is made that the tourists will arrive in machines. They are not only coming from the Middle West, but from New York and other points equally distant on the map. The first of these to register will be Mrs. W. A. Drane and party of four, who are expected to reach the Hotel Maryland today.

SUNDAY IS GUEST.

Mr. and Mrs. Sunday and wife were the guests of Postmaster Clark McLain and wife at a dinner given in the Hotel Maryland last evening. There were seven in the party and each of them had attended the same (Iowa) schools together thirty years before. This fact added to their meeting, and they made it an unusually happy reunion. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. A. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. C. Briggs, South Pasadena; Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Newman, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Thompson, Miss Thompson, Mrs. Minnie Weir, Mrs. Briggs, Los Angeles; Mrs. Botts, South Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Clark McLain.

DRAW UP CONTRACT.

In the matter of the proposed installation of the municipal lighting plant the local Edison people and attorneys for the city are drawing up a provisional contract. This, as this is completed it will be submitted to the commissioners and the representatives of the company, and be used as a basis for their discussions.

Contractors who have in hand the drilling of an oil well on the 20-acre city farm are rushing the work at top speed, and hope to finish the actual work of drilling today.

At a meeting of the executive committee having in hand the Liberty loan canvass yesterday, Mrs. Frank Hunt was selected to take charge of the work among the women of the city. She will work in connection with and along much the same lines as Mrs. E. R. Brainerd of Los Angeles.

TO MEET GERARD.

Henry Pearman of the Board of Trade reports having sold out the entire quota of the house for the banquet at the Hotel Maryland tonight. It is expected that the dining-room will gather later to hear Gerard, who will fill the dining-room as well as the palm room.

Police officials are deeply interested in the Los Angeles Gas case, and City Attorney Howard will probably become a party to it. If this is done he will join in the application for a rehearing which is now pending.

Weather forecast: Fair tonight and Tuesday; temperature warm in the interior.

Arrangements have been made at the Seaside Terrace Apartment Hotel, No. 1641 Ocean Front, Santa Monica.—[Advertisement.

MEET IN RIVERSIDE.

The Riverside Avocado Association to hold its fifth semi-annual Meeting and Exhibit.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 8.—The California Avocado Association, whose members are at the citrus experiment station here, will hold its semi-annual meeting and exhibit at the Glenwood Mission Inn on the 26 and 27.

The association has just issued a booklet showing the avocado varieties recommended for planting in California. This circular is the result of a committee on classification and registration, headed by Dr. Walter Popenoe of the experimental station.

The list includes only varieties of the so-called thick-skinned, or Guatemalan type, which in general is said to be the best and most profitable type for commercial planting. The seed stocks only seedlings of the hardy Mexican avocado are used.

MAY WILL SPEAK AT WHITTIER TODAY.

[BY LEASED WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WHITTIER, Oct. 8.—Billy Sunday will speak here at the new First Methodist church at 9:30 o'clock today this morning. He comes as the guest of Whittier College, and the faculty has extended an invitation to him personally to hear him. In order to accommodate the largest number the Friends' Church has announced that it will be filled to its capacity, about 2000.

RANCHER IS KILLED WHEN ENGINE DIES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 8.—Funeral services were held today for F. J. Herbage, a Westfield district rancher, who was killed when an automobile in which he was driving was run down at the Olive-street crossing at the Southern Pacific freight yards by north-bound train No. 53.

Evidence at the inquest, at which a verdict of accidental death was returned, showed that the engine of Mr. Herbage's car was killed through some unknown cause and his machine stopped directly in the path of the oncoming train.

Mr. Herbage was 61 years old, had been a resident here ten years, and leaves a widow and three sons.

FUNERAD TO BE HELD TODAY AT SANTA MONICA.

Rev. John H. Bratton, for Many Years Presbyterian Minister at Macomb, Passes Away at His Beach Home — Mayor Names Present Committee.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 8.—Rev. John H. Bratton, who for many years was a prominent Presbyterian minister in Illinois, died Sunday night at his home in this city after a long illness. He came to Santa Monica from Macomb, Ill., with his wife and his daughter, Miss Favola Bratton, now a teacher in the Santa Monica High School. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at the family residence on Fifth street.

FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

Co-operating in the plan to give the boys of the Liberty Army a delightful Christmas, Mayor S. L. Berkley today appointed a committee to carry on this work. The committee consists of Mrs. J. C. Urquhart, president of the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club; I. N. Berkley, vice-president of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce; Nell Nettleship, president of the Merchants' Association; M. M. Fogel, president of the Young Men's City Club, and Robert Miller, secretary of the local Elks' lodge.

This information was communicated today to Mayor Woodman of Los Angeles, with the additional fact that the bay district would do its part.

For an enjoyable Sunday Dinner, try Merritt Jones Hotel, Ocean Park. Splendid table. Excellent service.

DEATH COMES TO PORTERVILLE MAN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 8.—After an illness of one week, David A. Vaughn, 71 years old, one of the wealthiest cattle men of the San Joaquin Valley, died at his home on Morton street.

Mr. Vaughn came to California in 1857, and after a brief residence in San Francisco moved to what is now the Porterville district. With a few dollars of borrowed money he secured a small band of sheep, continuing in this business until he had purchased with his accumulated profits upward of 3500 acres of foothill land, which he afterward converted into a cattle range. Later this land was shown to be of the highest value for citrus culture, and the marketing of the property for orchard purposes gave him a large fortune.

Mr. Vaughn was a native of Rhode Island. He leaves a widow and two married daughters.

RUSSIAN TRIES TO KILL BEAUMONT MAN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BEAUMONT, Oct. 8.—After brooding for two months over a wrong he believed to have been done him in settlement of wages by J. Drew Funk, proprietor of the Summit House, Walter Choinowski, a Russian, fired four shots from a revolver at Funk in the yard of the hotel property. None of the bullets hit Funk. Choinowski was arrested. Until two months ago he was employed as a cook at the hotel, the wage dispute occurring at the time of his departure. When arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. A. Sewell on the charge of shooting with intent to kill, he said that it had been his intention to kill Funk and then himself. He was sent to the Riverside County Jail to await trial in the Superior Court.

Funk is one of the City Trustees, a fruit grower and real estate dealer, in addition to manager of his hotel property.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARD, Oct. 8.—A gas explosion which wrecked a boiler at the municipal water pumping plant shut off the water supply for several hours in the entire city, and severely burned Engineer McLatchy. The explosion is believed to have been caused by a small oil leak, the gas volatilizing from the oil. It occurred when the engineer inserted a long lighter into the fire-box preparatory to starting the pumps, which had been shut down for the night.

Although demands from eastern buyers are light, local brokers continue to offer high prices for beans. Among sales made Saturday were 1000 sacks from the Broome estate ranch, sold by Thomas Hill, receiver, for $13.52½ a hundred, and the Henry Borchard crop at $13.50.

SALESMAN ARRESTED.

CALEXICO, Oct. 8.—Abraham Berlin, a salesman in a Calexico store, was placed under arrest today by an agent of the Department of Justice, and a charge of white slavery was made against him. It is alleged that Berlin enticed girls to lead a life of shame in the gilded halls of Mexicali. Berlin denies the charge and has hired an attorney to fight the case. He is in the County Jail.

FILE WILL OF MARNE VICTIM.

Document Written in Trench Sent from France.

Is Received by Officials of San Bernardino.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 8.—From the trenches in France, where a former San Bernardino man met death while fighting for his native country, comes a will for filing in the local Superior Court and with it is written the history of a man who left here soon after the outbreak of the war to avenge the slaying of a friend killed in action during the opening of the conflict with the Germans.

The will is that of Hondevielle Paul, San Bernardino butcher, who was killed at the battle of the Marne. He leaves an estate of $2722, now in the hands of Louis Salabert, a Santa Fe employee, who will soon leave for France. Copies of the will, together with all proceedings in the French courts, were filed here in both English and French. Paul wrote the will just before he went into the battle. Here is the text:

PAU, April 26, 1915.

At the moment of leaving for the front, here is my situation. I owe nobody anything. I left at San Bernardino, in the hands of Mr. Louis Salabert, the bank book which contains $2722.10, which makes 13 thousand 500 frs. 50 centimes. The number of the book is 3202.

Then here at Pau I left in the hands of Mr. Etienne Campagne a portfolio with two thousand francs in treasury bonds, which he is to deposit at the credit Lyonnais of Oloron, in which I have placed 3000.31 frs., the title of which is in the portfolio, at Mr. F. Campagne's, 28 rue Cassis, Pau (Basses-Pyrenees.)

In case of misfortune, that money will stay where it is and the usufruct of it will belong to my father and mother. After their death my brother and sisters will withdraw it and divide it.

The address of Louis Salabert is 115 Second street, San Bernardino, California.

This letter will not be of any value except on presentation of the certificate of my death.

Made at Pau, April 26, 1915.

(Signed) Hondevielle Paul, at the 1st company at Jurancon (Basses-Pyrenees.)

THREATENING LETTER SENT TO CAFE MAN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Oct. 8.—On the eve of taking over the Ship Cafe, the fixtures and wine, liquor and grocery stock, of which were sold today by order of the referee in bankruptcy, Baron Long, who has signed a lease for the place with the Abbot Kinney Company, has received an anonymous, threatening letter. The writer virtually dares him to take over the Ship on penalty of it being destroyed, or even the whole of Venice suffering the same fate. Though the Federal authorities have been notified, as the message came through the mails, the letter is thought to be the work of a crank.

GAMBLING PROBLEM SENT TO DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Recall Election will be Held Within Sixty Days and One of the Trustees Who will be Voted on has Resigned—No Opposition to Mayor Lewis.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Oct. 8.—Hereafter permits for games of chance will not be granted by the Board of Trustees until the District Attorney has approved them, according to the action taken today by the Trustees. The action came as an aftermath of the permission given for Sunday to J. O. Cook to operate a game. Mr. Cook left Santa Monica after having been arrested four times for operating an alleged game of chance.

Trustee E. A. Gerety proposed that Mr. Cook's application for a license be denied. The motion was not seconded, but a motion was passed to send all applications to the District Attorney's office for approval.

Mr. Gerety introduced a plan, which was approved, that the choice of a City Clerk, in the place of C. Y. Burns, resigned, be left to the voters. A recall election will have to be held within the next sixty days in accordance with the decision of the Appellate Court.

No notification of the decision has been received by the Trustees yet, but the election will be called next Monday. Mayor J. J. Lewis and Carlos Smart, who has resigned, will be up for recall. W. G. Luis has been appointed to succeed Mr. Smart and will probably be a candidate to oppose Mr. Smart. No candidate has appeared so far to oppose Mayor Lewis.

FATHER OF MEXICALI DIES OF PARALYSIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, Oct. 8.—The death of Diego Cesina, father of Mexicali, the first man to locate a home on the present site of the capital of the Northern District of Lower California, occurred yesterday at the family residence on Avendic Porfirio Diaz, Mexicali. He was 77 years old. Death was the result of a stroke of paralysis. Senor Cesina was born in San Jose del Caba, Lower California, and spent his life mainly in the land of his birth. He came to this section with Senor Jesus Carillo in 1891, bringing a large number of cattle and horses from the coast, when there was not even a cabin on the ground where Mexicali stands.

Imperial County Sheriff Thinks He Has Important Clew to Alleged Conspiracy.

EL CENTRO, Oct. 8.—Employees of the Southern Pacific today found forty half-pound sticks of highly explosive dynamite, with the caps and fuses already fitted, half buried in a sand hill just south of Knob Station, near Yuma. The railroad men immediately communicated with Sheriff Applestill, who has detailed one of his best men on one of the most promising leads to the alleged conspiracy to blow up irrigation structures. The place where the dynamite cache was found is but two miles from the border, and within a mile of Hanlon's heading. It is stated by officials of the irrigation district that the district men left no dynamite of any kind in the vicinity.

RETURNS CANVASSED AT SANTA BARBARA.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 8.—The canvass of returns from the special election of last Tuesday, the first under Santa Barbara's new charter, was completed late today, the Council declaring Clarence M. George elected over G. M. Mickelson by a vote of 1263 against 1261. Other Councilmen elected are H. T. Nielson, Charles Phoenix, Charles McDermott and Alfred Jensen. A special tax of $25,300 was voted for new fire fighting apparatus and a $20,000 special tax proposition for library purposes was defeated.

Campaign Announced for Big Local University.

Methodist Conference Gives Project Indorsement.

Fifth Call Needed to Obtain Enough Soldiers.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Oct. 8.—Following addresses by Dr. George F. Bovard, president of the University of Southern California; Dr. Ezra A. Healy, one of the leading instructors in the theological branch of that institution, and Dr. James Morley, representing the National Board of Education and director of the coming campaign, plans for a $1,000,000 endowment for the University of Southern California, together with its adjunct, McClay College of Theology, were outlined at today's session of the Methodist conference. The movement was heartily indorsed.

Dr. Charles Edward Locke, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles, and chairman of the Committee on Education, was the first to broach the subject at today's meeting.

"The psychological moment has arrived," said Dr. Locke in submitting his recommendation and report, "for the great forward movement for the endowment of this University of Southern California, which is recognized as one of the greatest educational institutions in the West, and is a large factor in preparing leaders for our church and conference."

According to the programme outlined today by Dr. Morley and President Bovard, the next month or two will be spent in preliminary work among the Methodist churches and their friends and adherents in Southern California, the actual campaign to start in earnest about December 15.

One of the features of Dr. Locke's report was the nomination and resultant election of the following trustees for the University of Southern California: Elected for three years, George Cochran, W. F. Cronomiller, J. B. Green, F. M. Larkin, Charles Edward Locke, Edward J. Johnson, A. E. Pomeroy, Don Porter, Merle N. Smith and F. G. H. Stevens.

Elected for two-year term, George F. Bovard, W. M. Bowen, W. W. Beckett, H. H. Brodbeck, Prescott Cogswell, B. C. Corey, James A. Geissinger, Alfred Inwood, A. J. Wallace and J. E. Carr.

Elected for one year: Bishop Adna W. Leonard, Ezra A. Healy, Stephen Townsend, Gail B. Johnson, George L. Hazzard, Julius Brown, William H. Wallace and Earnest P. Clark.

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK.

Under the auspices of the Woman's City Club, Gov. Stephens will speak here Wednesday afternoon in the Municipal Auditorium. He is scheduled to arrive at 2:30 o'clock from Riverside, and will leave here for Alhambra, where he will speak on Wednesday evening.

"FOUR-MINUTE MEN."

Attorney Fred A. Knight, Long Beach chairman of the national organization of "four-minute men," who are receiving apointments to speak in behalf of government projects throughout the duration of the war, today announced that the following would represent Long Beach in that capacity: George M. Spicer, Dr. Lewis P. Crutcher, Dr. W. Harriman Jones, Hon. Frank F. Merriam, W. M. Cook, Frank C. Roberts, John E. Daly, A. L. Parmley, I. R. Hall, C. A. Wiley, J. G. Munholland, C. A Buffum and Fred Knight.

FIFTH CALL.

The local exemption board announced this afternoon another, a fifth, call would be necessary to secure enough men to fill out Long Beach's first quota. At least 300 more will be called up for examination next week, it was announced, bringing the total number up to and including that time, 1615 men, from which it is hoped to secure 202 men. There will be only 700 more of draft age left here for examination.

SUBSCRIBE FOR BONDS AT SAN DIEGO.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 8.—On the first day of its Liberty Loan drive, San Diego's subscriptions amounted to more than $900,000, and the committee in charge is confident the city's allotment of $3,000,000 will be more than pledged within ten days. During the first loan campaign, $2,250,000 was raised in nine days.

Big subscriptions made today were: Southern Trust and Commerce Bank, $150,000; First National Bank, $150,000; American National Bank, $100,000; San Diego Savings Bank, $100,000; Santa Fe Railroad, $50,000; D. F. Garretson, $45,000; Marston Company, $30,000.

At Mardi Gras.

BEAUTIES AND BANDSMEN ARE AMONG ATTRACTIONS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 8.—Tomorrow will be army and navy day in the Mardi Gras celebration here. All the proceeds will be donated for the mess fund of the Coast Artillery. The Coast Artillery Band, under the direction of Etholbert Ball, will give concerts both afternoon and evening. In addition there will be such attractions as a bathing girls' parade, a fashion show and musical entertainers.

Today was chambers of commerce get-together and Gardena Valley day, and delegations from many chambers of commerce sent delegates. A large contingent from the Gardena Valley made things quite lively during the evening.

Friday will be the four hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the landing of Columbus in America, and the landing and scenes incident thereto will be presented both afternoon and evening in tableau effect along the waterfront.

Many entries are coming in from Los Angeles and vicinity for the baby contest. Saturday has been designated as "baby day" and the awarding of the prizes will follow a baby float parade, which will be held on the municipal pier. Dr. Maude Wilde will deliver an illustrated lecture on the care of children.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT.

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.

I am Sincere! Stop Calomel! I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Listen to me! Calomel sickens and you may lose a day's work. If bilious, constipated or headachy read my guarantee.

Liven up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful, make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel, because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real live medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine; your liver will be working, headache and dizziness gone; stomach will be sweet and bowels regular.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and and cannot salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

Thousands Will Avoid Annoying Catarrh This Winter

A Little Precaution Right Now Saves Untold Annoyance.

You who have been afflicted with Catarrh, know that with the first signs of cold and damp weather the disease will promptly return, and remain an unwelcome guest as of yore.

Why not save yourself the suffering and inconvenience which your experience tells you is in store for you?

Avoid the folly of waiting until the disease has you within its grasp again.

Proper treatment is worth a great deal more right now than later. Catarrh cannot be permanently cured by local treatment with sprays, douches, ointments, washes, etc. Science has proven that the disease is in the blood.

That is why a thorough course of S. S. S., the unequalled blood remedy, does so much good right now. This remedy goes to the very source of the disease and by purifying and cleansing the blood, eliminates the germs of Catarrh, and drives them from the system.

Begin this treatment today, and you will be thankful for the wonderful relief you will enjoy this winter. S. S. GOTHAM READY FOR FRAY TODAY

Two to One Sox will Win the World's Series.

New York Fans Give Both Clubs Big Welcome.

McGraw Backers Count on Giants' Batting.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Notwithstanding the reverses suffered by the New York Giants, champions of the National League, in their two encounters with the Chicago White Sox, pennant winners of the American organization, followers of the National game in Greater New York are eagerly awaiting the third contest, which will be played on the Polo Grounds tomorrow afternoon. Still hopeful that John McGraw's men have the punch that will bring the world's baseball championship to this city after twelve years of effort, many thousands of devoted fans will pack the spacious stands to root for the home club.

The two teams arrived in New York tonight. The Giants were greeted by hundreds of friends as they dropped off their special train in Harlem. The men greeted friends as cheerily as if it were the White Sox that had suffered the bitterness of defeat. Each player felt hopeful that tomorrow's game will tell a different story. Victory was written all over the faces of the Chicago players. A large crowd and band were on hand to greet the Rowland men, and they were given a cheer as they left their train. It was a happy lot of athletes brim full of confidence that the worlds' championship would be theirs. To the victorious American Leaguers is not a question of winning the series, but whether they can do it in four straight games.

WEATHER LOOKS GOOD.

Weather conditions for tomorrow's game promises to be all that is desired. A light rain fell tonight, but the weather man soon eased the fears of fans when he announced that the morrow would be fair and cooler.

A crowd that will tax the capacity of the stands is predicted for the fray. The entire upper grand stand of 9000 reserved seats had been sold in advance, and the distribution of the tickets was completed today. The club offices were crowded most of the day with fans trying to buy tickets, but there were none to be had.

Tonight some of the reserved seats began to appear at ticket agencies and among speculators, but the number was not as large as was expected. The New York club took every precaution, based on past experience, to get the much-fought-after tickets into the hands of patrons, and not the speculators. Nevertheless, some choice seats in the upper stand were offered at $35 for a set of three, and $70 for two sets of two to each of the three games. Some seats near third base were offered for sale at $20 each.

More than 25,000 tickets for the lower grand stand and the bleachers will be placed on sale tomorrow morning, and when the seating capacity of the grounds is reached all gates will be closed. Those purchasing tickets must go directly into the grounds. The club management hopes that by this arrangement the number of tickets falling into the hands of speculators will be kept down.

The bleacher line began to form tonight. A detail of police was on hand to keep the crowd in order.

The New York club management expects about 38,000 persons will pay to see the game. Thousands of fans from other cities have arrrived to witness one or more of the games and hotel accommodations were difficult to obtain tonight.

What little betting was reported tonight was two to one that the White Sox will win the series. It was even money when the Giants left for the West. Some New York bettors were looking for longer odds. Bets were made that Chicago would not win four straight, and other bets were recorded that New York would win two games in the series.

GOTHAM FANS HOPEFUL.

New York fans are hopeful that the Giants' pitching stiff will-pull itself together and that the team as a whole will start hitting. They figure that Zimmerman and Kauff, who failed to connect safely in the two games at Chicago, are about due to break loose with their bats. The Giants confidently count on winning the opener before the home crowd, and feel that the chances also will favor them to win on the following day.

Pitching possibilities are always a matter of speculation. If Manager Rowland starts Cicotte, McGraw will send Sallee to oppose him. Another possibility is Schupp against Russell.

It is probable that Rariden will do the catching for New York, as McCarty's arm and shoulder are still sore from the fall at the home plate in Chicago Sunday.

Here are the official world's series batting averages for the first two games:

SIDELIGHTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 8.—There is much speculation tonight as to what pitcher McGraw will introduce tomorrow. The majority guess it will be Schupp. Ferdinand has never done well on foreign soil, and the majority of his victories have been earned at the Polo Grounds. Perritt failed in the second game, now that Perritt is practically out of the way. The style of architecture at the Polo Grounds favors Schupp, with the duck's delivery. It had been believed Sallee with his left-hand slants might be saved for the first home game.

* * *

The New York fans, dazed as they are, and hanging on the ropes of a possible third defeat, still bank on the magic of the Polo grounds to pull the Giants through. Although home and home has been much commented on in baseball spints here, there is also the alibi that the Giants could hardly expect better treatment at the hands of umpires which they have played, with the lights and shadows of which have baffled many another team. Hres Kauff, Sim, Robertson and Burns will not be compelled to bring their bludgeons against a murky setting in front, a darker background, and in a stockyards atmosphere.

* * *

There is not much grousing in the Sox camp over the pitching selection. It will be either Russell or Cicotte. The chances are that it will be the Texan, as the Rose pilot would like to give Eddie another chance to redeem himself in. It will, however, depend on what condition Reb's arm is in just before the game. He will be called upon to decide whether to take the satisfaction of Rowland and Gleason that he has the stuff. Nothing mediocre will do.

* * *

The Sox would be pulverized with joy to make it four straight. One reason is that there is nothing in it for themselves after the fourth game. Should they win, they would have to wipe up the Giants. Manager Rowland has still another ambition, and that is to win the world's series with two pitchers.

* * *

Eddie Cicotte glanced casually out of the car window on the trip East. He noted the famous Niagara Falls, plunging down as they have plunged for ages.

"I can't help thinking of the Giants as I look at the falls," said Cicotte, finally. "It reminds me of John L. Sullivan's remark about the higher they are the harder they fall."

* * *

The Giants have done nothing radical on the bases. They have observed the traffic rules very carefully.

The combined batting efforts of Sim and Kauff to date stand as follows: .000.

Sim has hit the ball out of the infield once in eight attempts. Benny did better—two times.

* * *

Dope has worked out great so far. Sox pitchers have shown their stuff. Ray Fisch has been the star of both contests. Red Rose have come across with the predicted big drive, and their defense has turned the jinx back.

For thinking that home run Saturday Hap Felsch stacked up nicely on various articles. Among the goodies were the choice of a suit or overcoat, a Liberty bond, and a $25 piece of stock in the American Aircraft Corporation.

* * *

No one can accuse McGraw of pulling a bonehead play in starting Benny in time for him to play in the big series. He is displaying more fight and pep than any man on the New York club.

This town is full of strangers and every hotel is packed to the roof. All is in readiness at the Polo Grounds to handle the great throng that will witness the classic. Everything has been provided except the weather, and that promises to be fair.

* * *

A lot of $10,000 green was made on the curb today that if Schupp starts pitching in another game during the world's series New York would defeat Chicago. The wager was offered and covered by New Yorkers.

WORLD SERIES DOPE.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

THE belated recognition won by Eddie Cicotte will bring satisfaction to every real sportsman in the country.

Eddie was not so slow in arriving, but he was a long time in getting tagged according to his real worth. Always a great natural pitcher, and with very few bad seasons spotting his record, he never received the credit accorded pitchers of equal ability, and was less widely advertised than scores of his inferiors.

This can be attributed to a number of things. Although a wonderful specimen of physical development, he is so compact as to be anything but imposing in uniform or street clothes, and is not the sort to become a matinee idol. He was so consistently good that he didn't appear brilliant. If he had been soused half the time, and then stepped in and pitched a few classy games his name would have been in the headlines. There is always more noise made over the sinner who repents, than the guy who has never deviated.

Then he made it a lifelong habit to keep himself in a backward and retiring, almost to the point of blushing. Eddie is one man who needed a press agent, but who at the suggestion of one would have run away and locked himself in his room.

Here we have him at thirty-three, pitching his first world series game, and winning it. Thirty-three years is a long span in the life of a ball player, and to add a record like that very apogee of his effectiveness at that age is almost without parallel.

Cicotte had plenty of reason to become discouraged. Boston kicked him out several years ago. There must have been some personal reason back of this, for he certainly could pitch. Moreover, with smart men in the league like Comiskey, it was impossible to railroad him back to the bushes, although it is said an attempt was made to do this. The "Old Roman" came to rescue, and only last Saturday he pitched Commy into a big bunch of coin.

* * *

Earlier in his career, Eddie found the going rather rough. At one time he was rated, by the only chap he was afraid of, the unsigned league club by Detroit in payment for spring ground rent. Do you get that. The most effective pitcher in the world being used to settle an indebtedness of $110.

This incident in his career is interwoven with the rise of Ty Cobb from the bench to the greatest player of all time, and was told to me by Cicotte himself, or rather coriscrewed out of him.

Cicotte, a Detroit sandlotter, was picked up by the Tigers in 1906. The team trained at Augusta, Ga. When Detroit pulled up stakes preparatory to departing, Bill Armour, who was then managing the Tigers, found himself indebted $110 for ground rent. Armour settled by turning over Cicotte to Augusta with the privilege of picking one player from the southern club the following season.

Augusta had quite a collection of future greats that season, numbering on its pay roll in addition to Cicotte and Cobb, such players as Clyde Engle and Nap Rucker. The best it could do was to finish fifth, indicating that several of these had not yet "arrived." That year Cicotte received a salary of $90 a month and Cicotte approximately the same.

With this galaxy of stars from which to choose, Detroit, acting on the advice of Cicotte, selected Cobb. Eddie also was recalled. Cicotte won three of his first four starts for Detroit, but was sent to Indianapolis in the fall to the Western League. Fate just seemed to decree that he should travel a rocky road. By leading the pitchers of the Western he worked his way back into the majors as a member of the Boston Red Sox. Four years of brilliant ball there were followed by the grand bounce, when Comiskey stepped in.

This brief sketch of his ups and downs explains why baseball men "who know" rejoice to see him finally reaping his reward at thirty-three.

* * *

Doubtless every normal boy has at some time or another aspired to be a world series hero. In the eyes of the average American urchin it is the pinnacle of athletic achievement.

During his day dreams and wild forays of imagination, he has seen himself exalted in the public eye and pictured in the newspapers. Yet so rarely do these dreams come true.

Fred McMullen being not unlike other boys, probably enjoyed these same visions. Every boy who likes baseball and plays it, frames a mental picture of himself bringing a great crowd to its feet with a timely hit or a dazzling fielding play.

Fred dreamed, as other boys dream, and then it seemed that he would be thwarted when on the very threshold of his ambition.

Returning to Los Angeles last fall, McMullen was a badly discouraged ball player. Carried by the White Sox during the season of 1916 as an extra, he suffered an accident just as it seemed he might have a chance to prove his ability for a regular position.

During the winter he was not even considered for a steady job. Weaver and Risberg were the men slated to care for that side of the diamond. McMullen knew that he could play second base well, but he hadn't been given a chance. That was what "hurt" him. Had he not had unlimited faith in his own ability it would have been different. But to warm the bench when he knew that he could out-play some of the men on the field during him to the outfield.

His idea was to get back in the minors, and play himself into the majors with some other team, where there would be an opening, or simply stay here and forget it.

* * *

I remember the day last March when he stood in Catalina's and pleaded with Tom Darmody to make some sort of deal that would bring him back to the Coast. He explained that he didn't want to go East on account of his wife and child. But there was an additional reason. Fred had an almost fierce desire to show what he could do in fast company, and feared that he wouldn't be given the opportunity in Chicago.

He did not admit this latter reason. Reticent, as all real baseball men are, it would be unnatural for such a youth to admit that he had been stung to the quick in being ignored. He did not green expression to his real thoughts.

"They have been 'down' and 'down' badly," declared Jack Bliss, who overheard the conversation.

We all knew what really ailed Fred. Being familiar with the situation, it was not difficult to fathom his thoughts.

"I know what you are up against, but you belong in the majors, and that is the place for you," admonished Darmody. "If you get into the line-up they will never get you out of it. They can't keep you on the bench forever. Something will happen to give you a chance."

And the something happened. Buck Weaver busted his finger. This left third base open. McMullen stepped into the breach. Then for the first time, the club began to improve. It won eleven and lost one series. Every move he made either in the field or at the bat seemed to be the right one. When Weaver's finger finally grew together, Fred was too strongly intrenched at third to be displaced. The somewhat erratic Risberg was benched, and sent in at short. This proved to be the ideal combination.

When Fred busted that Sallee slant in the opening game and sent the first Chicago run over the plate with a double, the Los Angeles fan thrummed of his boyhood days some time.

It takes more than opportunity to make the man, but if he has ability in a certain direction and doesn't get the opportunity to use it, the ability won't get him much. All of which is contrary to the opinion of many platform philosophers, who preach that every person is the pilot of his own destiny.

If you knew the heart story of every human being baseball players or just plain citizens, you would find many a silent tragedy.

FAST PROGRAMME AT VERNON TONIGHT.

With Young Ketchell and Phil Salvadore clashing in the four-round main event, a speedy programme of boxing bouts is promised at the Vernon Athletic Club tonight. Ketchell made a sensational come-back last week, defeating Young Fritz in the four-round main event.

Fritz, who was beaten in the final bout last week, will meet Leo Houck in the semi-windup this week. Houck has been whipping all comers in the preliminaries. The first bout will begin at 8:30 o'clock, with Harry Lee refereeing. The programme follows:

Huse vs. Cox, 142 pounds; Mende vs. Kramer, 116 pounds; Watson vs. Anderson, 128 pounds, and Piotte vs. Williams, 118 pounds.

MISSION SEAL TO BE AUTO SYMBOL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8.—A mission bell seal has been adopted as the State symbol to be used on motor vehicle license plates in 1918, and an order has been placed for approximately 1,000,000 of them, H. A. French, superintendent of the State motor vehicle department, announced today. The seal will be in bronze and will supplant the golden poppy used on the license plates this year.

OXY VARSITY AND POLY CLASH TODAY.

Occidental varsity and Polytechnic High are expected to clash in a practice game on the Tiger gridiron this afternoon. Poly has been having five teams on the field ever since practice began and is showing seventeen varieties of pigskin enthusiasm. Coaches Rickershauser, Bill Haney and Burk of the Mechanics expect to bring home the bacon in today's scrap. Walter Rheinschild and Manager Brandstetner of Occidental have a different opinion, however.

Occidental will open the conference season Saturday by coming up against Throop on the Eagle Rock field. This contest will mark the formal opening of Patterson Stadium, the newly-completed lair of the Oxy Tiger.

DEER OVERSIGHT COSTS BIG BOND.

Upon complaint of Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner O. P. Brownlow of Tulare county, Deputy H. I. Pritchard served papers upon C. W. Edwards and Henry MacEnerney, local liquor men, who were charged with failure to produce the horns of deer they had shot upon demand. Deputy Pritchard collected $100 cash bond for their appearance October 25 in Tulare. Deer violations draw stiff penalties.

QUAIL AND DOVES UP ELSINORE WAY.

In his weekly report upon game conditions about that hunter's stronghold, Elsinore, for the benefit of sportsmen, Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner James H. Gyger says doves are concentrating upon a few favorite feeding grounds, and that the quail outlook is pretty good, looking as good in fact to the unposted person as last year, although he thinks it falls a little short. He notes a general feeling among resident hunters that the quail and dove seasons should open together.

LIBERTY MOTOR TRUCK WONDER.

Thirty-five Thousand to be Made for Army.

Machine is Perfection in Auto Development.

Experts Join Hands in Work for Government.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LIMA (O.) Oct. 8.—The first Liberty motor truck for the United States Army, product of the greatest motor truck designers of the country, and the combined genius of twelve motor truck plants and sixty-two automobile parts factories, was completed here today at a local manufacturing plant.

The standardized machine, of which 35,000 copies will be turned out in the first half of 1918 for the army, is said to represent the perfection of automobile truck development. Its motor power is derived from the new Liberty motor, recently perfected at Washington by War Department experts.

The first Liberty motor truck was built in the greatest secrecy to protect it from enemy eyes. A building without windows and lighted only by skylights, housed the truck during the three weeks of its construction.

CLOSELY GUARDED.

The plant was closely guarded by armed men night and day.

As an added precaution, a second truck was assembled in an eastern city. As each part was completed here, a duplicate was dispatched to a northern New York town, where mechanics assembled a second machine.

Similar precautions surrounded parts manufactured in the sixty-odd factories which contributed to the machine. As each part was completed it was dispatched to Lima in charge of an army representative, who kept factory officials informed of his progress by telegraph. No one company knows the complete design or what other companies made other parts.

COMPLETED TRUCK.

The completed truck is said to be the strongest, compared to the load it is designed to carry, ever turned out in this country. Every part has been enormously strengthened to cope with the rough usage of war. It carries more than 1000 pounds of dead weight more than commercial trucks of corresponding capacity. The truck will be used only for the army and will not be placed on the market, government officials say.

It is said that the factories which have given free use of their patents for their design stipulated that the new truck was to be for government use only.

In outward design the machine represents no radical departure from the usual army motor truck. However, every part has been so standardized that when the first order of 35,000 trucks are delivered to the army, it is said they could all be torn down, the parts mixed indiscriminately and 35,000 complete trucks reassembled. All parts are interchangeable, which is expected to give added efficiency at the front.

POSTPONE HEARING OF FEDERAL CASES.

United States District Judge Trippet held a conference yesterday with attorneys interested in cases set for the latter part of the present term of the Federal Court. As a result, there was considerable shifting of dates, a number of damage suits against the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe being set for January.

Judge Trippet is to leave on a month's vacation in Indiana, the 23rd inst., while Judge Bledsoe, who is now in San Francisco attending a meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge, is expected back the coming week to hear the action of the government against former officers and directors of the Home Builders. This action is expected to consume several months in hearing.

LISTEN—TURKEY SHOOT.

Next Sunday the Los Angeles Gun Club will hold an all-day turkey shoot. About forty entries are expected to contest for the fifteen birds that have been put up as prizes. Among the expert shots expected to be on hand are Owen Council, Heinie Pfirrmann, Fish, Evans, Mohler and Free.

MANUAL ARTS GAME.

The Occidental freshmen and Sid Foster's Manual Artisans are scheduled to meet tomorrow afternoon on the Manual Arts gridiron. Both delegations are reputed to have plenty of pep and the Orange and Black freshies are determined to knock down a score larger than that achieved by the Oxy varsity against Manual, last Friday.

WAR ATHLETE BETTER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Wilbur Hightower, former captain of the Northwestern football team, and an All-Western player, is recovering from an operation in France, it was learned today through a cablegram received by James A. Patten from his son, Jack Patten, who with Hightower, is an ambulance driver in France.

IN PHELAN CASE.

It is understood that there will be additional evidence taken before the Federal grand jury today in the case of Edward H. Phelan, the alleged slacker, whose case is set for a second trial in United States District Judge Trippet's court, next week. In the first hearing before Judge Bledsoe, the jury disagreed, six to six.

DETECTIVES MOVE.

The detective agency of Edmonson & O'Connell, which was located formerly at No. 214 West Fourth street, was moved yesterday to suites 611 and 620 Washington Building. This agency was established three years ago by W. F. Edmonson and J. M. O'Connell, who were formerly engaged in detective work for the city.

BASEBALL TODAY JUST THE SAME.

Two events are on the sporting calendar today. The White Sox and Giants resume play at the Polo Grounds in New York, and the Vernon and Oakland teams will open their series at Washington Park, Los Angeles.

There is no great prize at stake in the local series, but some of the fans will be on hand as a matter of course and to watch the returns from San Francisco and Salt Lake, where the pennant race is being played this week. Also quite a few of the bugs want to get a look at Tom Casey, the young Santa Clara catcher, who is being touted so highly by George Stovall. George predicts that Casey will be the sensation of the circuit next season.

Stovall will probably start Hovlik, while Kremer or Beer will be Howard's choice.

President Powers is in favor of a shorter schedule hereafter. So are we.

ATHLETE DIES FROM STRANGE CAUSES.

FOOTBALL GAME TERMINATES FATALLY FOR ANGELENO.

Gridiron Battle Ends in Disaster for Freshman and His Brother. Marrow of Fractured Bone Said to Have been Carried to His Brain.

George Albert Blewett, a freshman of the University of California, is dead. Blewett was 20 years old and a Los Angeles athlete of more than usual promise. The cause of the young man's death has been a study for medical experts, but the direct cause is said to have been the result of injuries sustained in a football game last Saturday.

Young Blewett's death followed an operation for blood clot on the brain, which was conducted at the Lane Hospital. He never recovered from the shock of the game, but the hospital attaches said that the patient had told them prior to his Saturday injuries that he had been hurt a month before in a football game.

The gridiron battle that was the presumable undoing of young Blewett was fought between the freshmen's team of the university and the naval yeomen. In this game it was reported that Blewett had suffered a compound fracture of the leg, and that his brother Joseph had sustained a dislocated shoulder in the same scrimmage.

Blewett's death is the first that has occured since American football has been revived at the University of California.

After an autopsy the surgeons dealing with the peculiar case said that the cause of death was a rare condition in which the marrow of a fractured bone was carried to the brain through blood vessels, causing a clot and a subsequent congestion.

John Stroud, athletic manager for the university, said that the practice games would be discontinued for a few days out of respect for Blewett, but he indicated that the American game of football would not be discontinued.

Blewett's case has been one of the most puzzling that has been brought to medical attention for a long time.

HANG UP $10,000 RED CROSS PURSE.

BALTIMORE (Md.) Oct. 8.—Whichever of the crack three-year-olds, Hourless or Omar Khayyam, comes first under the wire in the match race at Laurel on Thursday, the Red Cross will be the winner of the $10,000 purse hung up by the Maryland Fair Association for what is expected to be the biggest turf event of the year.

Following the receipt of a telegram this afternoon from August Belmont, owner of Hourless, announcing that if his horse won, the purse would go without deduction to the Red Cross, Wilfrid Vian, owner of Omar Khayyam, announced that if his horse won the Red Cross would get the purse just the same. The winner of the race therefor will be content with the $1500 championship gold cup offered by E. B. McLean of Washington.

TROJANS' SCHEDULE.

If present plans mature, U.S.C. will hook up with the officers' team of the Twenty-first Regiment at San Diego Saturday.

At present the Trojan schedule reads as follows:

Oct. 20—University of Arizona, at U.S.C.
Oct. 27—St. Mary's (of Oakland,) at U.S.C.
Nov. 3—Occidental (not definitely arranged.)
Nov. 10—Pomona, at Pomona.
Nov. 17—University of Utah, at Salt Lake City.
Nov. 25—Berkeley, at U.S.C.

SUSPECTS ARRAIGNED.

Jesse Taylor and Charles Hodgkin, known as the "Hudson auto thieves," because, the police say, they never stole cars but of that make, were yesterday arraigned before Justice Palmer on a charge of stealing a Hudson machine from L. B. Schere on the 26th ult. Tomorrow morning Hodgkin will have a continued hearing on a highway robbery charge before Justice Palmer. On the 15th inst. Taylor and a man named Campbell will have a hearing before Justice Hinshaw on a highway and grand larceny charge.

Picketing Starts Again at Portland Shipyards.

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 8.—Bowles, president of the Northwest Steel Company, who has just returned from Washington, declared today that his company will run open shop so long as it operates in Portland.

Picketing was resumed today at several local shipyards, but Northwest Steel Company announced that fifty men went to work this morning and several at other yards.

WAGE BOARD AT SEATTLE.

SEATTLE, Oct. 8.—At a preliminary session today of the Wage Adjustment Committee of the United States Shipping Board, Charles Macy made a patriotic appeal to Seattle shipbuilders and their striking employees to establish and maintain peace in that industry by their contribution to the wage adjustment committee will open its hearings daily in an effort to settle the strike of approximately 9000 metal workers in the Pacific coast steel shipyards.

The action of the shipwrights, joiners, who struck nearly two weeks ago, in the wooden division to enforce the timber workers' boycott against ten-hour lumber, in voting to return to work in accordance with the appeal from Secretary of Labor Wilson, has practically eliminated the lumber workers as an issue in the shipyards controversy.

The shipwrights have declared a truce in the lumber fight pending an adjustment of the controversy by the Federal board. They will return to work as rapidly as the yards are able to open with steel metal workers' demands settled.

The principal point at issue is the demand of the metal workers for an increase of 10 per cent. in wages.

SIMONS IS VICTOR IN FIFTEEN ROUND

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8.—Arthur Simons tonight won from Johnny Fisse in fifteen rounds of hard fighting, before a big crowd at the New Orleans Athletic Club. Simons outclassed Fisse in almost every round, knocking him down in the first round. Fisse's gameness kept him back on him and he could not land a knockout punch. His eyes kept him from seeing in the championship contest. He tried a come-back tonight somewhat, but they failed. Sammy Cohen refereed.

ACCOUNTANTS NEEDED.

"It is impossible to meet the demand for trained accountants," said Reynold E. Blight, in an address before the Southwestern University school of commerce last night. "The government is using every important expert it can lay its hands on, and there never has been a time when there were so many opportunities in commercial circles for the expert. While other professions will be overcrowded, it will be years before it will be possible to fill the demand for skilled, experienced and constructive accountants."

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

Vermont Folk.

The Vermont Society will hold its first meeting since the summer vacation in The Times Assembly Hall this evening.

At Baker Iron Works.

Fire prevention day will be observed at the Baker Iron Works at noon today with a barbecue for employees and speeches by a number of well-known men.

To Teach "War Bread."

Mrs. E. M. Farmer will give free instructions at the Public School Dispensary, No. 926 Yale street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in methods of making war bread.

To Celebrate Anniversary.

Suffrage's sixth anniversary will be celebrated with a luncheon in Hamburger's Cafe at 10 a.m., today, under the auspices of the Million Club. Bloom's Symphony Trio will furnish music, and L. Haslett will sing.

Riverside Fair.

A luncheon for newspaper men at the Glenwood Mission Inn with an address by Gov. Stephens will be one of the features of the opening of the Riverside County Fair tomorrow. The fair will continue until Saturday night.

Maccabees to Meet.

Great Commander Mrs. Minnie W. Aydlotte and Supreme Medical Examiner Dr. Ella J. Pifield of the Woman's Mutual Benefit Association of the Maccabees will conduct an all-day school of instructions, Thursday, at No. 730 South Grand avenue.

Alaskans to Meet.

The Alaska-Yukon Club will give some practical illustrations in the form of addresses next Friday evening at a meeting to be held in The Times Assembly Rooms. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. I. W. Alexander and her son will give readings. The Davis Musical College members also will be present and contribute to the entertainment.

In Gas Rate Cases.

State Railroad Commissioner Edgerton will hold a rehearing today in the gas-rate cases in the commissioner's rooms in the Union League Building. The petition for a rehearing was filed by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the Southern California Gas Company following the commission's decision establishing gas rates in the Southland.

Gallery Tours Series.

The first of the series of gallery tours in connection with the exhibition of the California Art Club will be given at Exposition Park this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Miss Alma May Cook, lecturer for the club.

Many paintings and sculptures by California artists are on exhibition and will be explained from the standpoint of the artists. The gallery tours will be given each Tuesday afternoon during the month of October. The public is invited.

League to Elect Officers.

The Jovian Electric League will meet and elect officers tomorrow. The meeting of the league will be held at Jahnke's Tavern, No. 524 South Spring street, at noon. Hon. James W. Gerard, former United States Ambassador to Germany, and State Senator H. A. Chamberlin have been invited to address the meeting. The chairman of the day will be C. D. La Moree. There will be an excellent musical programme.

Assists Red Cross.

Donating her services to the Red Cross, Mrs. J. Frank Hartzell is organizing a dancing class, which will meet every other Friday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock at the Ebell Club. The course lasts from October 19 to April 19 and the entire proceeds from tuition will be donated to the Red Cross, the class being known as the American Red Cross Dancing Class. Checks for tuition should be made payable to that organization.

Sierra Club Enjoys Outing.

About thirty members of the Southern California branch of the Sierra Club arrived home late Sunday evening after one of the most pleasant outings they ever enjoyed. They left Los Angeles in automobiles Saturday afternoon and went by way of Bouquet Canyon and Elizabeth Lake, to Oak Ridge ranch in the Liebre Mountains about four miles west of Neenach. At the ranch the party was most hospitably entertained by Walter Collins and his wife, owners of the property.

Seeking Mother.

John Winslow is looking for his mother, whom he has been separated from for thirteen years. Mr. Winslow writes from Camp Cody, N. M., and says that when he last heard from his mother she was in Azusa, Cal., and at that time was a Mrs. Matilda C. Bluerock. The writer says that she has two brothers, Frank and Robert Hurst, who are now in Oklahoma. He says that he is a soldier, formerly of Co. C, Fifth Nebraska Infantry, which is now the One Hundred and Thirty-fourth United States Infantry. The writer sends his letter from the army and navy Y.M.C.A., Camp Cody, field headquarters, New Mexico.

CAMP LEWIS NOW FULL-GROWN CITY.

THIRD ARMY QUOTA SOON TO COMPLETE ROSTER.

Great Field Force Drills in Record Numbers, Recent Corps Adding Life to Maneuvers—Remainder of Contingent to Arrive in Next Three Days.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CAMP LEWIS, TACOMA, Oct. 8.—Today's arrival of 2671 draft troops brought the total number of men at Camp Lewis to approximately 36,000. The remaining 3,000 men of the third quota will arrive during the next three days. Fifteen hundred and twenty-six Northern California men, 966 from Montana and seventy-nine from Nevada, reported at the receiving station today.

Permit accommodations for the third quota men, who have been assigned to training battalions, were ordered today. Maj. David L. Stone received instructions from Washington, D. C., to construct 175 new buildings at once. All danger that Camp Lewis would be dislodged from her place as one of the largest cantonments by the transfer of men to other training camps was removed by these orders.

Thirty thousand men, the record number, drilled at the camp today. Practically every man in camp with the exception of the recent arrivals in the training battalions were going through maneuvers on the parade ground this afternoon.

Southern Californians in the Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry this morning were awakened by the stirring music of the regimental bugle corps of six musicians. The Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth's recently-organized band played for the first time this afternoon at retreat. With the companies lined up for roll call the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." The band instruments were donated by Tacoma citizens.

These promotions of Southern Californians in the Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry have taken place: Machine-gun company: To be sergeants, Arthur J. Porter and Frank C. Farley; to be corporals, Perry H. Hinton, Virgil Workman, Edward M. Schiff, Sylven Williams.

Co. H: To be sergeant, Fred H. Schwartz; to be corporals, Syrien C. Leaf, Porter V. Hanf and Charles J. Fort.

Co. F: To be sergeant, S. W. Staatz; to be sergeant-major of the Second Battalion, Sergt. Francis E. Eulmer. Headquarters Company: To be sergeants, Oscar S. Pritchard, Ralph E. Olwin and James F. Collins.

Co. A: To be sergeants, John Lynch, Henry B. Johnston, Leslie R. Addison, Henry D. Rudisill, Barrington M. Upper; to be corporals, John B. Halvorson, Paul J. Batkin, Andrew M. Parker, Clifford E. Hughes.

Co. C: To be sergeants, C. J. Leibfried, C. J. Byrnes, F. S. Fell, A. E. Doty and E. Parzalle; to be corporal, O. E. Yochem.

Co. D: To be sergeants, L. A. Bigger and L. P. Reeder; to be corporal, F. J. Clifton.

Co. F: To be corporals, John P. Holditch, Floyd M. Seibert, Orval E. Putoff, Robert A. Bruce and Rayford O. Decker.

Co. G: To be sergeants, Robert Leroy Smith, Harold Albert Felton, Asa C. Dimon, Max James and Perry D. Elder; to be sergeant-major of the First Battalion, Sergt. Arthur D. Ormand.

Co. E: To be sergeant, Avid E. M. Figelberg; to be corporals, Iver Ford Torry and Eric Pedley.

Co. B: To be sergeants, Frank L. Gordon, Lorry A. Butts and Oscar Schoening; to be corporals, Leo David Daze, Warren Jones, Leonard R. Smith, Clarence U. Young, Floyd S. McGillivray and Martin Christensen.

Co. L: To be sergeant, Ernest M. Clark. Co. H: To be sergeant, Joseph E. Foley.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Oct. 8.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Meteorologist.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.05; at 5 p.m., 30.00. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 57 deg. and 68 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 100 per cent.; 5 p.m., 80 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., southwest, velocity 2 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 8 miles. Highest temperature, 73 deg.; lowest, 55 deg. Rainfall for season, none; last season, 2.60 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The western field of high barometric pressure is now central over the interior of the United States, and thus controls the weather of the country. The first cold weather of the season with temperatures below freezing is reported from North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin, southerly into Kansas, westerly into Colorado and easterly into Illinois. At 8 o'clock Monday morning (Seventy-fifth Meridian time,) the thermometer registered 16 deg. at Moorhead. Aside from occasional fog, the weather is fair throughout Southern California, and moderate temperatures prevail. The weather will continue fair in Los Angeles and vicinity for another thirty-six hours, except cloudy or foggy in the early morning.

ORCHARD REPORTS.—Minimum and maximum temperatures from orchards reported to the Los Angeles office of the U. S. Weather Bureau yesterday are as follows:

DEATH AT WHEEL?

Motorist Regains Consciousness to Find Auto Against Wall and Injured Man Behind Him.

J. L. Robertson, 33 years old, of No. 1740 North Alexandria avenue, became unconscious at the wheel of his automobile, yesterday, while driving along Sunset boulevard, near Grand avenue, and when he regained consciousness his machine was nose first against a brick wall and behind him lay a crumpled heap.

This crumpled heap was the body of Emil Vincent, a street sweeper, whose ribs and chest were crushed when he was run down by the Robertson machine. He was placed in his machine by Mr. Robertson, who rushed him to the Receiving Hospital, where he was given first aid treatment by the police surgeons. Vincent, who lives at No. 631 North Spruce street, is now hovering between life and death at the County Hospital.

After an investigation by police detectives, Robertson was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

BIBLE AS AN ASSET.

"Tropical" Book Largest Part of Estate of Chaplain Killed by Street Car.

The will of the late Chaplain Orvilles J. V. Nave, who was killed by a street car last June, was filed for probate yesterday.

The widow is made administratrix of an estate valued at about $8000, of which about $5000 consists of royalty rights to a book known as the "Tropical Bible." The widow is to manage the estate until such time that she may marry. In that event the oldest child is to succeed her. Should she become a widow a second time, then she automatically becomes administratrix again.

"DEAD MAN" IS BLANKET ROLL.

Watts has Scare that Quickly Resolves Self into Comedy of Errors.

When is a corpse not a corpse?

When it is a roll of blankets.

There is an empty house at Columbia and Aster streets, Watts, and yesterday one of its citizens peered through a window. He saw what he thought was a dead man lying on the floor. Nearby was a kit of carpenter's tools. Quickly the story circulated that a dead man occupied the house.

"Suicide," declared some.

"Murder," softly whispered others.

Constable Morrison was informed. He communicated with the Sheriff's office and then made an investigation.

The "dead man" proved to be a roll of blankets. To whom the blankets and tools belong, and when they were placed in the house, is not known to the Watts authorities.

ON PEACE MISSION.

Japanese Delegation Due Here Today on Way to Washington to Greet President.

For the purpose of promoting friendship between Japan and the United States, a delegation of Japanese statesmen, representing the Nationalist and Constitutional parties of the empire, will arrive in Los Angeles this morning, en route to Washington, D. C. Those making up the party are Dr. T. Masao, T. Shimada, S. Yamani and K. Uyehara. The delegation will arrive over the Southern Pacific at 10 o'clock.

The party will be met at the station by Consul Oyama and taken to his home, No. 2912 Hobart boulevard, for luncheon. In the afternoon the Japanese society will take the party in charge and will show the visitors the beauties of Los Angeles and its environs. At 8 o'clock in the evening there will be a mass meeting in the old Elks Hall, on Spring street, near Second. A number of addresses will be made by members of the delegation and by prominent local Japanese. The party will leave for Washington tomorrow. Upon arrival there the commission will be presented to President Wilson and will extend to the Chief Executive the compliments of the Japanese Diet.

HEARING CONTINUED.

Neither John Thomas Eyster, the aged groom, nor his attorney were in Judge Wood's court yesterday to make the motion for a new trial in his divorce action. This necessitated continuing the hearing until next Monday. Mr. Eyster recently told the story of his brief matrimonial career with his girl wife in the trial of his divorce suit, a story of the wedding of winter and spring. The court denied decrees to both parties.

LEAVES OVER TWO MILLIONS.

Many Unusual Provisions in Will of George Houk.

Bulk of Estate is Left in Trust with Attorney.

Daughter and Grandchildren Chief Beneficiaries.

Containing many unusual provisions, the will of George W. Houk, millionaire wire wheel magnate, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. H. Moody, No. 2444 Inverness place, Saturday morning, will be filed for probate today.

The estate is valued at nearly $2,500,000. Of this $1,000,000 is in cash and the balance in property located in Southern California and Buffalo, N. Y.

Joseph Musgrove, an attorney of the firm of Fredericks and Hanna, has been named executor of the estate.

The Hollywood property, consisting of a beautiful home on Inverness place, has been bequeathed to his daughter, Mrs. F. H. Moody, as well as a substantial income for life. Father George Doyle of the Pala Mission Reservation has been given a Marmon automobile.

A provision to the effect that $100,000 will be given the city of Oceanside, in the event that city raises a like amount for a pleasure pier, is one of the features of the will.

The remainder of the estate is placed in charge of Attorney Musgrove to be divided among Mr. Houk's grandchildren, George Houk Moody and Elizabeth Moody, at the death of their mother. In addition, George Houk Moody, now 4 months old, will receive the Red Mountain ranch when he attains his majority, and Elizabeth Moody, now 2 years old, will receive $50,000 when she reaches the age of 21.

To Attorney Musgrove is given the duty of providing for the edueation and maintenance of the beneficiaries of the will and the development of the Red Mountain ranch, near Fallbrook, in Northern San Diego county.

Any attempt of any of the beneficiaries to alter the provisions of the instrument or to contest its legality will result in their being deprived of any interest which they may have been given, according to another provision.

Many mourners attended the funeral of the deceased millionaire, which was held at the Church of the Immaculate Heart in Hollywood yesterday morning. Hundreds of floral pieces and telegrams of condolence were received from prominent men in the automobile industry all over the United States.

Residents of Northern San Diego county will hold a memorial service as a tribute to the man who greatly assisted in the development of that territory next Sunday afternoon at Escondido. The Houk band of Oceanside will play and speeches extolling the work of Mr. Houk will be given.

KEARNY LIFE JUST ONE DRILL AFTER ANOTHER.

CAMP KEARNY, Oct. 8.—The outraged muscles of the soldier boys are getting used to the strain of the long daily drills, and the men declare that they are feeling more fit than ever before in their lives.

The extended and unusual exercises which the men have been called upon to perform have told on even the most athletic, and sore shoulders, lame thighs and other unmistakable signs of the muscular exertion on soft tissue have been found throughout the camps. Continued use, however, is toughening the sore places and resulting in a feeling of physical fitness that is thoroughly exhilarating.

Hundreds of the boys availed themselves of the Sunday holiday to journey to neighboring beaches and swim in the surf.

The California lads were greatly amused at the soldiers from Colorado, many of whom had never before seen the ocean, and who were like youngsters in their enjoyment of the novelty.

Journeying across San Diego Harbor to Coronado on the ferry, a Seventh Regiment man overheard a conversation among the mountain men to the effect that they were mighty sorry for a bunch of sailors, who were "marooned" on a ship all of the time. The sight of a big gray cruiser swinging at anchor in the stream, the first that they had ever seen, furnished the inspiration for the discussion.

ENDLESS DRILLING.

Life at the camp is just one drill after another, from early morning until retreat at 5 p.m. The officers get their full share, even more than the enlisted men, for they have a special drill period from 7 o'clock until 7:30 every morning. The officers of each regiment, from the colonel down to the newest second lieutenant, form in companies for this drill, and go through a half-hour of strenuous work at marching, calisthenics and setting-up exercises. Then, all day long, they take part themselves as they drill the men both in the games and in the formal drills. Everything in Camp Kearny is as neat and clean as the proverbial new pin. The most modern sanitary and plumbing conveniences have been provided and daily inspections keep all parts of the camp in top-notch shape. No less than five parties of officers visited the kitchens of one regiment today on inspection tours. First the major in command of the battalion made his daily round. Next was the regular trip of the sanitary officer. Shortly after the sanitary officer from division headquarters appeared. Brig.-Gen. A. M. Tuthill then called on all kitchens that will be in his brigade command, the last inspections all came in the forenoon. With such visits to be expected at any time, the soldiers at all times keep things in apple-pie order. No scraps are allowed to accumulate, no crumbs are scattered, no food is left exposed between meal times, and nothing, in fact, that would make a meal for a starving fly is left about. The sewerage from the kitchens all passes through a grease trap, which is cleaned out twice a day. The soldiers deposit their table refuse in three receptacles, labeled "Slops," "Cans" and "Scraps," these pails being emptied daily and then washed out with scalding lye water. The mess sergeants of the companies are responsible for the condition of their kitchens, as well as for the feeding of the men.

Work has begun today on the first of the Knights of Columbus buildings at the cantonment. It is to be erected in the center of the south half of the army city, on B street. A second building will be erected in a location accessible to the base hospital as soon as the first is completed. Two more will be built later. Rev. Father M. C. Keating will be in charge of Catholic activities at the camp. The K. of C. buildings, however, will be open to soldiers of all faiths. Ralph F. Bagley will be general secretary of the K. of C. at the cantonment.

Y.M.C.A. BUILDINGS.

The Y.M.C.A. buildings at the camp will be five in number, instead of six, as was at first planned. The three on the north side are completed and occupied. The first one on the south side has the frames up, but the last one has not yet been started.

Camp Kearny's amusements will not be limited, however, to the Y.M.C.A. and K. of C. buildings. The cantonment plans also call for a modern theater, with a 200x200-foot floor space. Work on this building will be started soon. It will be located on ground now covered by the temporary construction camp, near the postoffice.

Appeal.

DAUGHTER BEGS JURY TO CLEAR NORTON, ACCUSED.

MISS VERA NORTON, attorney, made her maiden speech to a jury yesterday afternoon in Superior Judge Wilbur's court. It was a most passionate address, for she was beseeching the twelve men occupying the jury box to acquit her father, R. H. Norton, Supervisor from the second district, to exonerate him of misusing county funds during his incumbency in office. Never before in the jurisprudence history of the county has a woman, as a lawyer, made her formal debut into court practice by asking a jury to acquit her father.

Miss Norton unquestionably made a favorable impression upon the jury. She was given the undivided attention of not only the men in the box, but the judge, spectators and counsel in the case as well. She showed little excitement or embarrassment. In a clear voice, almost perfect enunciation and occasional gestures to emphasize an argument, she pleaded the cause of her father.

Her concluding remark was:

"I ask you, gentlemen, to bring in a verdict of acquittal for one who is very dear to me, the only father I have."

The speech of Miss Norton was the closing argument for the defense. She was followed by Chief Deputy District Attorney Cryer. When he concluded it was with the understanding that, unless he has a few additional remarks to make this morning, the case will be ready for the judge to charge the jury when court convenes at 10 o'clock today.

Another feature of the day's proceedings was the appeal which the defendant made in his own behalf. For almost three hours did Mr. Norton speak. At times he became so overcome with emotion that it was with seeming difficulty that he held back tears.

The burden of his contention was that the investigation which had brought him to a bar of justice was simply a scheme of political and other enemies "to get Norton." Several times he asked the jurors to put themselves in his place during his incumbency, and see whether they could or would have done differently than he had done.

He declared that if all the officials in the white and the brown county buildings were put on trial for technical violations of the law there would not be enough left on duty to transact the business of the county. During the course of her arguments Miss Norton denied that her father had been guilty of wilful misconduct in office. She said he had worked hard early and late to do his business as he thought it should be attended to.

In closing the case for the prosecution, Mr. Cryer contended that the State had proven its case throughout, and asked for a verdict of guilty on each of the ten counts. He denied that Mr. Norton is the victim of any "system," saying it was not until the grand jury had found that the county faced a deficit of about $1,250,000 that prosecution was undertaken. He said the grand jury had given the defendant the benefit of the doubt by not returning a felony charge, only a charge that asks him to step aside and let others take his place who are competent to manage the county's finances and place it upon a sound basis.

Innovation.

NEW POLICE BUREAU FOR IDENTIFYING THE DEAD.

A NEW bureau will be established in the police department next week by Chief Butler. It will be known as the bureau for the identification of dead persons. The new office is one of the results of Chief Butler's recent visit to eastern cities, where he studied police methods.

According to Chief Butler, fifty-five persons died here during the fiscal year who were unidentified. They were all buried in the Potter's Field, after they had been held for several days for identification. Among the deceased were several bodies which were later exhumed and identified by relatives as the remains of missing kin.

The new bureau will be operated in connection with the identification bureau, under the direction of Detective-Sergeant James Cline. The methods which will be used will include finger prints of dead persons, photographs of them and filing of their property claims.

In this way the Chief of Police hopes to offset the many inquiries regarding relatives who have died here and who have been unidentified.

The New York police department was the first to create such a bureau in this country. The results obtained may be judged by the fact that last year 172 dead persons who would otherwise have been listed among the unknown dead, were identified by relatives, exhumed and buried in private cemeteries.

Printed forms containing space for special information and complete descriptions of all people who are registered as unknown dead, have been ordered by Chief Butler, and the bureau will be in active operation next Monday.

THANKS FOR REPAIRS.

The Council yesterday gave a vote of thanks to Building Inspector Backus and Purchasing Agent Baker for their untiring efforts in connection with the renovation of the Council Chamber. The newly-arranged chamber was occupied yesterday. The repairs cost about $5000.

REJECT TERMS OF MEDIATORS.

Mill Owners will Treat with Men Only Individually.

Strike Likely to be Called Tomorrow Evening.

"Halt Industry," is Slogan of Trouble Makers.

Hope of government mediation and settlement of the labor differences existing between cabinet-makers and mill workers and their employers in the mill business faded last night, when the directors of the Southern California Mill Owners' Association met and decided to not act upon the recommendations of the government mediators as an association.

The sense of the meeting was that the mill owners will treat with their men as individuals and try to satisfy their employees so far as hours and pay are concerned. The recommendations of Capt. Charles T. Connell and Harris Weinstock, the government mediators, were that an increase in wages amounting to about 12½ per cent. and a graduating time schedule working toward an eight-hour day next July be granted.

The understanding was that the Cabinet-makers and Mill Workers' Union had approved of the recommendations and agreed not to strike or ask any other concessions for a period of nine months if the recommendations were adopted.

The opinion was freely expressed last night that a strike will probably be called at a meeting of the mill workers tomorrow evening. They have been talking strike for many weeks, and when the carpenters settled their labor troubles with the individual contractors two weeks ago through the mediators the mill workers were disgruntled because they were left out of the arrangement, the understanding seeming to have been that what was sauce for the carpenters was to likewise be sauce for the mill workers.

The Carpenters' Union at a recent meeting is said to have issued an order to the effect that in case the mill workers strike, the unionized carpenters will refuse to handle nonunion mill work until such time as the strike is settled. This, it is alleged, is not in accord with the spirit in which the terms of the Federal mediators were accepted when the difficulties between the carpenters and the contractors was recently adjusted.

At the last meeting of the unionized mill workers there were 354 members recorded. At that time there was strong strike sentiment. There are about 1200 men employed in the cabinet shops and mills, however, and the possibility of 350 union men winning a strike with so many nonunion men in the mills is slight. The mill owners, however, seem to expect the matter to come to a focus shortly.

The attitude of the workers in regard to a probable strike can be seen in the following extract from the Citizen, a labor-union organ, dated the 5th inst. The article is signed by S. L. Berry, recording secretary of the Millmen and Cabinet-makers' Union, and it says:

"Personally I desire to see every mill in Los Angeles idle!"

The recommendations of the mediators were to the effect that the nine-hour day be reduced at the rate of fifteen minutes at two-month intervals until the eight-hour day was reached. Four of the biggest mills in the city are now recognizing eight hours as a day, and the union men working in them are said to be unfavorable to the terms of the mediation recommendations because their mills would have had to work eight and three-fourths hours a day for a while and then graduated down to eight hours by next July.

There are about fifty-five concerns in the city which might be more or less affected by a mill strike, but there are only about twenty-nine important mills, and less than half a dozen are strongly unionized.

CORDUROYS TO SNUB SNOBS.

High School Leaders Don Plebeian Velveteens to Shame "Dudes."

In an effort to destroy any evidence of aristocracy and promote genuine democracy in the institution, 200 boys of the Los Angeles High School yesterday attended school clad in corduroy pants.

The movement was started by members of the senior class when certain students with extensive wardrobes flaunted their opulency before the school, to the disadvantage of their less-fortunate classmates.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE; TWO ARE INJURED.

Charles E. Moore of the Hawthorne apartments and Frank Plaistridge of No. 916 West First street, were slightly injured yesterday at Normandie avenue and Hollywood boulevard when the automobile in which they were riding turned turtle. They were treated at the Receiving Hospital for minor bruises.

WAR TAX LAW PUZZLES MANY.

Crowds Ask for Information at Federal Offices Here.

Experts Endeavor to Explain Intricacies of Measure.

Treasury Department Message Shows Need for Money.

The need of money to carry on the operations of the war, was indicated yesterday in the receipt of Collector Carter of the local internal revenue district, of a telegram from the United States Treasury Department, asking what amount could probably be raised in the district, under the provisions of the newly-enacted revenue law.

The man who figured the age of Ann, should be able to secure employment with Collector Carter, if he is equal to the task of furnishing any light on the technical clauses of the sections of the new law that concerns the war excess profit taxes. So far the experts in the office have been able to shed but little light on the subject, and Chief Clerk Sherman Jones, who is an encyclopedia of internal revenue tax knowledge, yesterday threw up his hands and sent out the "S.O.S." alarm. Meanwhile the telephone bells are ringing with folks on the other end of the wire, who want to know "all about the new tax law."

The income tax section is an easy proposition, for the reason that those liable have until January 1, 1918, to make out their returns. Payments are not to be made under that feature of the law until June 15, 1918, and that can be done in installments although the Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to demand payment of the tax as soon as the returns are made. Those who made returns under the old income-tax law, will find no change in the new enactment, Collector Carter expects to have a circular ready for general distribution very soon, giving directions to those who are up against the tax for the first time.

DATES EFFECTIVE.

The following are the dates and commodities upon which the various war taxes will be effective:

Public utility facilities, November 1, 1917.

Insurance, November 1, 1917.

Admissions, November 1, 1917.

Postal rates, November 1, 1917; second class, July 1, 1918.

Cigars, cigarettes and tobacco, November 3, 1917.

Club dues, November 1, 1917.

The law provides, from information received yesterday, that an inventory of all stocks under the following heads must be made immediately, effective upon the passage of the act, under what is known as the "floor tax," that is, stocks on hand at the time of the inventory:

Automobiles, trucks, wagons and motorcycles, 3 per cent. of the price for which sold; piano-players, xraphophones, phonographs, talking machines and records, 3 per cent. of the price for which sold; jewelry, whether real or imitation, 3 per cent.; tennis racquets, golf clubs, baseball bats, lacrosse sticks, balls of all kinds, including baseballs, footballs, tennis, golf, lacrosse, billiard and pool balls, fishing rods and reels, billiard and pool tables, chess and checker boards, and pieces, dice, games and parts of games, except playing games and children's toys, 2 per cent.; perfumes essences, extracts, toilet waters, cosmetics, petroleum jellies, hair oils, pomades, hair dressing, hair restoratives, hair dyes, tooth and mouth washes, dentrifices, tooth pastes, aromatic cachous, toilet soaps and powders, 2 per cent.; pills, tablets, powders, tinctures, troches or lozenges, syrups, medicinal cordials of bitters, anodynes, tonics, plasters, liniments, salves, ointments, pastes, drops, waters, spirits, oils and all medicinal compounds, preparations or compositions held out or recommended to the public as proprietary medicines, 2 per cent.; chewing gum or substitute therefore, 2 per cent.; cameras, 3 per cent.

SWORN STATEMENTS.

Sworn returns by the manufacturers, producers or importers of the above articles are to be made monthly in duplicate and the tax collected by assessment. The full tax applies to stocks held by manufacturers, producers or importers when such stocks are sold. Inventories must be verified in these cases by internal revenue officers in the same manner as inventories in the case of liquor dealers and dealers in tobacco. The returns so sworn to, to be made by wholesalers and jobbers of the articles subject to the "floor tax" must be made within thirty days after the passage of the tax law, which in this instance would be November 4.

Elder, Deeble and Derby.

PRISON FACING FORMER INVESTMENT FIRM HEADS.

MEANING that they must report at the Federal Building within thirty days to begin their sentences, unless the cases are taken to the United States Supreme Court, the Federal Circuit Court of Appeal in San Francisco yesterday denied the petition for a rehearing of the case of Charles A. Elder, W. D. Deeble and George M. Derby, former officers of the Los Angeles Investment Company, who were convicted, in July, 1915, before a jury in Judge Bledsoe's court, of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

The judgment of the Court was that Elder should serve fifteen months in the State penitentiary and pay a fine of $5000, and Deeble and Derby thirteen months each and to pay fines of $500.

In the prosecution of the case it was charged against these defendants that they conspired to sell the stock of the company in excess of its value and that dividends were paid not warranted by the earnings of the corporation.

It was also shown to the satisfaction of the jury that other charges of fraud and misrepresentation were grouped around what was called the "guarantee fund" of the company, that according to the allegations of the government these consisted for the most part of obligations of the accused men for the purchase of stock of the company, and that the "guarantee fund" was not such that it could be used for the repurchase of stock, as represented.

SIGNATURES SECURED.

Names are Obtained on Initiative Ordinance to Reorganize the Animal Commission.

A number of signatures were obtained yesterday for the initiative ordinance through which it is planned to reorganize the Humane Animal Commission. Under this ordinance there will be one commissioner instead of five, and one qualified superintendent with six assistants, thus doing away with four salaried positions.

The Los Angeles Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is backing the petition, and the directors have issued a signed statement saying: "The ordinance should appeal to every humanitarian in the city who is interested in bettering conditions along these lines, as it provides for an infinitely better working system than that now in vogue."

ARRANGE PROGRAMME.

Methodist Mission Workers of Three States will Hold Session in Church Structure Here.

Several hundred persons are expected to attend the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church for the district of California, Arizona and Nevada, which will open at the University Methodist Church here tomorrow morning. It will continue during Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. George B. Smyth will preside at the session, which will begin in the morning with an address by Dr. D. F. Howe. Mrs. R. D. Hunt will lecture later on Africa. Other speakers for the forenoon session are Mrs. J. R. Umsted, Mrs. Z. L. Parmalee, Mrs. N. R. Wilson and Mrs. L. M. Pratt.

Mrs. C. E. Brown will preside over the afternoon programme. The speakers will be Dr. E. P. Ryland, Miss Jean Loomis and Mrs. Roy Arnold. The evening session will be given over to music and devotions. The programmes for Thursday and Friday include talks by missionaries, musical features and devotions.

Thursday evening the following missionaries will be introduced in costume: Mrs. Dora S. Soper, Mrs. J. B. Thomas, Mrs. E. P. Lawyer, Miss Ida Isham, Mrs. G. W. Stuart, Mrs. Lillian Dowd, Mrs. H. M. Swan, Miss Jean Loomis, Dr. Emma Betow, Mrs. Katsoka, Mrs. A. E. Withey, Mrs. N. J. Warner, Miss Mabel Lee and Mrs. L. A. Core.

Go to Court.

SLANDER SUIT IN NEIGHBORHOOD ROW

WOMEN'S FRACAS KNOWN AS "PICO HEIGHTS BATTLE."

Three Court Actions Have Resulted from Controversy and Fight of Two Mothers Over Children—Tin Cans, Rocks, Air Gun and Rubber Hose the Weapons.

A $25,000 slander suit, an aftermath of a neighborhood row which has been dignified by being called the "Battle of Pico Heights," is occupying the attention of a jury in Superior Judge Monroe's court.

Mrs. Florence Goodhall, who lives at No. 2650 West Pico street, is the plaintiff, and Mrs. Vivian M. Engstead, a school teacher, and her husband, Nilson M. Engstead, are the defendants.

Coincidently the two women appeared in court dressed almost exactly alike, excepting that Mrs. Goodhall wore a white hat and Mrs. Engstead a black one, but of similar shapes. Neither took the slightest notice of the other while waiting for the case to be called, or after the introduction of testimony had been commenced.

It is said the trouble between the two women, which has resulted in three court actions, is an outgrowth of Mrs. Engstead objecting to the little ones of Mrs. Goodhall playing with her children in the Engstead yard.

There was a battle royal, it is said, during which rocks and tin cans were thrown, and a rubber hose and an air gun used. This was followed, it is said, by Mrs. Engstead referring to Mrs. Goodhall in highly uncomplimentary terms.

Mrs. Goodhall, after the battle, had Mrs. Engstead arrested for assault with a deadly weapon, a rock. The case was dismissed. Then the latter issued Mrs. Goodhall's arrest accusing her of shooting her with an air rifle. This case has never been tried because a woman's jury is demanded and the matter of a female jury in a police court has not yet been settled.

POLICE SURGEON AND WIFE TO CELEBRATE.

Dr. and Mrs. John P. Gilmer will celebrate their seventeenth wedding anniversary at their home, No. 5603 Harold way, tomorrow evening. Dr. Gilmer is chief surgeon of the Receiving Hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Gilmer, who was then Miss Margaret Goodlowe, were married October 10, 1900, in Louisville, Ky. Dr. Gilmer had been practicing medicine for a year and a half prior to his marriage. He is a graduate of the school of medicine, University of Kentucky. Dr. Gilmer was for several months official physician to former President Madero of Mexico.

FUGITIVE LOCATED.

A quiet search for five months for Bruce McCann ended successfully yesterday for Deputy Sheriffs Fox and Nolan when they arrested the man on a ranch fifteen miles out of Lancaster. He was taken into custody on a telegraphic warrant from Hillsboro, Or. It did not name the offense. "Family trouble" was the only explanation forthcoming from McCann, who is about 25 years of age.

Despair.

CANNOT SERVE, HE WOULD DIE.

Rejected by Navy, Young Man Seeks His Own Life.

Feared Friends Would Think He Failed to Enlist.

Remarkable Patriotism is Cheated of Sacrifice.

Regrets that he could not serve his country, and unwillingness to "only stand and wait" in the hour of its need, last night brought James B. Scoville, 21, to the Receiving Hospital at the point of death from an alleged attempt to end his life. He was found by his mother, Mrs. Eva Scoville, in the apartment at No. 1032 West Washington street, with a gas tube firmly clutched between his jaws, and in a dangerous condition, which would have meant death had he been found a few minutes later, the physicians say.

As her son was being restored to consciousness by Chief Police Surgeon Gilmer, Mrs. Scoville told the hospital attaches her son had been brooding over his inability to serve in the navy. He enlisted as a yeoman in San Francisco June 8, but a few days later, following an injection of a serum by the navy physicians, became ill and was sent to the naval hospital. On August 10 came an honorable discharge for physical disability, Mrs. Scoville declared, and her son returned to Los Angeles.

Then, as day by day the youth of the nation departed for the training camps, young Scoville grew more despondent, she said, and yielded more and more to melancholy. He resumed his occupation, that of telegraph operator, and was assigned to the Pasadena office, but continued to brood. Often, the mother told the physicians at the Receiving Hospital, he spoke of his enforced disability and the fear that his friends would think he failed to respond to his country's call.

Dr. Gilmer last night stated the patient will recover. Today he will be sent to the County Hospital for observation.

OPPOSE FRANCHISE.

Improvement Association Wants Economic Company to Make Sure of Supply.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday considered the granting of a blanket franchise to the Economic Gas Company. A report from the Federated Improvement Association was made by H. S. McCallum, president, recommending that a blanket franchise be not granted, but suggesting that a temporary permit be granted if the Economic signed up with producers of natural gas for a sufficient amount to supply the demand.

The Economic had given fully its reasons for a blanket franchise and this was opposed by the argument that the territory included in the franchise is already being served by other companies, and that the effect would be to increase the cost of gas to consumers. It was also urged that the Economic did not intend to lay pipe lines. The officers of the company denied this. The Board of Supervisors continued the matter for a week. It did not appear to the board that there was any valid reason for refusing the Economic a franchise similar to that granted some time ago to the Los Angeles Gas and the Southern Counties Gas Company.

The report of Mr. McCallum was referred to Supervisors Dodge and McClellan, who will advise the board on Monday.

COUNTY LOSES.

Elmer G. Hotchkiss won his suit against the county of Los Angeles to void the proceedings for the improvement of Vine avenue. Yesterday Judge Hewitt gave judgment in his favor, and the county is restrained from proceeding with the contract, which was awarded to Roger Bros. Mr. Hotchkiss alleged that no hearing was held by the county officials and that there was no consent of the property owners to the work.

CONTRACT FOR GAS.

A contract with the Southern California Gas Company was entered into yesterday by the city. According to the agreement, the company will furnish natural gas for the city's asphalt plant for 14 cents per 1000 cubic feet of natural gas.

ARE YOU ONE OF THESE MEN?

Thousands of men spend the best years of their life closely devoted to the management of their business—a business that they thoroughly understand, and which returns to them a nice annual profit.

Many of these men are in the habit of re-investing their surplus earnings in various securities the earnings from which they are counting on to take care of them when they get ready to retire from active business.

Comparatively few men are sufficiently schooled in finance to draw the line sharply between Investment and Speculation. Many good speculative securities fluctuate in value at times and frequently fall off many points. The speculator, however, who is constantly watching the market, tries to dispose of his securities at the right time, but the busy business man, engrossed in his work, has not the same opportunity.

This is only one of the many reasons why our Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates, yielding 5½% to the investor, have been so popular among conservative men and women.

These certificates, which evidence the ownership of First Mortgages on California Real Estate, do not fluctuate in value—they are always worth 100 cents on the dollar. May be purchased in denominations of $100.00 to $200,000.00.

This strong Mortgage Insurance Company, with resources of $10,865,000.00, guarantees to you that both your principal and earnings will be paid.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John William Hudson of Western avenue celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last Tuesday, and entertained a large group of friends who came to wish them many happy returns of the day and to proffer many lovely gifts.

To Entertain Sister.

Mrs. Jack Mansfield of Inglewood will have as her house guest for a fortnight her sister, Dr. Annie M. Robinson of Birmingham, Ala., who has just arrived from the South.

Church Wedding.

A wedding took place yesterday morning at the First Congregational Church when Miss Agnes Hardin of Buena Park and Harvey Albert Messersmitt of Anaheim plighted their vows. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. J. Brown and was followed by a wedding breakfast, with covers for twenty, at Christopher's. The bride and groom motored to Santa Barbara, where they will spend ten days before returning to Anaheim, where they will make their home. The bride, was formerly a student at the Cumnock School.

Honor Artists.

Honoring Mrs. Gloria Mayne and Miss Julene Berri, who have just returned from a successful tour through the central portion of the State, Frank Nelson Rust entertained on Saturday night at "The House Among the Treetops." The guests included: Mrs. Gloria Mayne, Miss Julene Berri, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Towne, Mrs. Murray, J. Wharton Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Ford, Olive Gray, Antony Anderson, Miss Temple Bailey, Mrs. Maude Deverell Foster, Maurice Braun, Col. W. H. Cochran, Mrs. Florence Lawrence, Mrs. Board, Miss M. Louise Blakely, Mr. and Mrs. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Hunt, Mrs. Flora Ehlers, Wayland H. Smith, Mrs. E. Franc Clanton, Mrs. Margaret E. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Christeen Warnack and Miss Mae Harris Anson.

Compliment Bride-elect.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Drew of No. 1804 Orchard avenue entertained recently with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Eva Noble, who is soon to become the bride of T. D. Odell. The decorative scheme was gold and white, Prince of Orange marigolds and chrysanthemums being used effectively. About twenty guests enjoyed the evening.

Recruits at Virginia.

Among the recruits who are from the naval reserve station spending the week-end at the Virginia are Burton D. Brace, Orell Andra Goldarcena, J. R. Sullivan, Jr., G. Bliss Hermann, A. R. Page, George O. Pinckard, Jr., Kenneth C. Newell, C. W. Delano and Lieut. J. H. Horsey.

News and Reviews.

FILM STARS WILL APPEAR AT CENTRAL PARK.

By Grace Kingsley.

It's no small part our favorite film stars are playing in the big international conflict now being waged abroad. Such of them as are not actually engaging in fighting are giving absent treatment by means of rendering service in various benefits for the Red Cross and other patriotic organizations.

While none of them has so far been called to entertain local cantonments, many of the picture stars have volunteered for such service when required. In the meantime several film favorites are taking part in local benefits.

One of the most promising of these is a Red Cross benefit to be given in the form of a fair, to be held in Central Park next Saturday, October 13, the city authorities having granted permission for the use of the park for this purpose. The fair will take the form of a foreign market, and will be called the Franco-Belgian market. The place will be gally decorated, and bevies of picture actresses will serve tea and sell goodies, while a vaudeville entertainment will be a part of the programme.

Among those who have been asked to take part on the programme are Henry Walthall, Paralta star, who will make his first public appearance since his return to the West; Julian Eltinge, Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Bessie Barriscale, Mae Murray, Wallace Reid—providing he is sufficiently recovered from a recent accident suffered in the course of making his current picture—Charlie Murray and Guy Woodward, while Triangle, Universal and Fox have all promised to arrange acts to appear on the bill.

And a Motorcycle Did It!

Charlie Pike, the Salt Lake Charon of theatrical folk, having safely made the trip across the continent as often as some folks have been to Venice and back, had to go and get himself hit with a motorcycle out at Universal City the other day. Mr. Pike was sent to the hospital and X-rayed; but, while it was found a rib had been cracked and a lung dislocated, he was on the job yesterday, his nerve being still intact.

Orpheum.

The later you arrive at a Chinese theater, the less admission money you pay. But that rule wouldn't logically apply at the Orpheum this week, because all the first acts, though good, are hold-overs, down to the "E" spot, when Mrs. Gene Hughes very particularly starts something.

The something is an amusing little sketch that hits on all six right from the opening moment when the vampire asks the dressmaker, "Why, did you ever have a romance?"—the way a woman can, you know—and the dressmaker speaks right up and answers "Romance! I should say I did! Do you think I was born middle-aged?" The whole little show is as epigrammatic as a Chambers-fed girl at her coming-out party. Its theme goes to show that every woman should know how to dress. It is dedicated to the Joss of the Glad Rags. It is the gospel of gowns, the liturgy of lingerie, the doxology—of Duds. Rather foolish of the men in the audience, I say, but they applauded like thoroughbreds.

Probably Russian dancers have discovered that Americans do not quite "get" the classic ballet. An American, when he wants anything, from a girl for his wife to a piece of pie for dessert, just mentions it right off the bat. But the people in a Russian ballet, when they want to convey the idea of love or a taste for pie, approach the matter in a way to confuse the issue and that leaves it entirely hazy in the American audience's mind as to whether a man wants to marry the girl or is just asking her what time it is by her wrist watch. All of which leads us to the fact that Kosloff and his dancers have achieved a marvelously well-rounded and artistic offering, without any topheavy ballets, and yet with sufficient of the dramatic, primal ... conveyed in the manner of ... and therefore suggestive ... than laboriously worked ... instance, there is a world ... atic suggestion in Vera P...'s Caucasian dances; while, on ... other hand, that marvelous la... thistledown, Maria Maslova, charms utterly in the Chinese Butterfly number. The spirit of drama was well preserved in the Aztec Poems, danced by Kosloff and the beautiful Natacha Rambova, yet the touch was sufficiently light so that the mood of Fredowa's "Nightingale," which followed, shaded into while it contrasted with its predecessor. Kosloff's technique has lost none of its cunning since we saw him last, and his brilliancy, as well as that of his dancers in this respect, gives a cameo-clear impression of perfection.

The feminine "nut" is rare in vaudeville. That's probably because it's so much easier to get away with the cutey stuff. Florence Baird has a talented face that would be her fortune even if she couldn't dance or sing. She's pretty, too, before she puts on her camouflage to sing her songaflage. And she has personality. Why, even when she's doing a "single" she's a crowd! Miss Baird's partner, E. Charles Bensee, makes a tremendous hit in his song about his wife giving away his clothes for the Red Cross—"I know that somewhere in France"—he shivers in the bath-robe-kimona thing he wears, and of course the house howls before he reaches the word that rhymes with France. The couple stop the show—even though their act is rightly named, "Songaflage."

The Five Nelsons and their trained hoops present a remarkably neat and crisp act. The boys are a nifty bunch, and they make those hoops perform like live things, accomplishing things which never hoop did before. I'm sure.

The first installment of the remarkable war views, which will be used as British war records, showing the retreat of the Germans at Arras, was shown yesterday to a crowd which remained until the last foot of film had been run off.

The holdovers include Billie Reeves, Kwong Chang and Fook Lok, Fritz and Lucy Bruch and Clara Howard.

Quinn's Rialto.

The beauteous Maxine Elliott is now a film. She may be seen at Quinn's Rialto this week in her first picture, entitled "Fighting Odds."

We used to say Maxine Elliott couldn't act, but that she could "look." She can still "look"—there's a beautiful mellowness about the loveliness of her face, and time has been most kind in regard to lines. Also anyone who sees her in "Fighting Odds" will most emphatically aver that she can act. So that she gives the impression of being in the very zenith of both her beauty and her art.

"Fighting Odds" is clean-cut drama, after the best Goldwyn manner. It deals with so-called big business, and the first two reels would appear to be rather the business of the financial editor than of the dramatic department, inasmuch as it would seem a question whether a decent business man could be railroaded to the penitentiary in such a raw manner as is done in this case. However, there's one comfort, while two men are sent to the penitentiary, it's all accomplished in about ten feet of film. There are—God rest the soul of Judge Blackstone—no courtroom scenes.

The real story begins when the wife of the wronged man, played by Miss Elliott, resorts to woman's wiles to win a secret from the wicked capitalist who was her husband's undoer. You're rather disappointed with the obviousness of the thing—with the cutback to a million scenes like it in a million picture plays—when presto! the story takes an entirely unlooked-for twist, and lands you in an entirely refreshing situation. Even when Mrs. Copley, who is trying to get into the safe to find "the papers," and who is masquerading under an assumed name, is called by her right name, revealing her identity to the capitalist, you probably don't get Sherlock Holmes to the real fact—but there, it wouldn't be fair to tell.

Just take my word for it that even if you merely go to see the celluloid double of Maxine Elliott "as is," you'll find a great deal besides Mrs. Nat Goodwin, series No. 3, to entertain you.

An added attraction shows a novel comedy in which marionettes are used. A guessing contest as to how it's done is in order.

Clune's Auditorium.

"Rasputin," the photoplay which is really the story of the Russian revolution, was greeted by big audiences and by a tremendous ovation, at Clune's Auditorium last night. The applause which punctuated the showing of the picture was partly patriotic enthusiasm and partly genuine admiration for a really dignified and largely authoritative story of the Russian revolution, as its threads were interwoven with the life of the remarkable and infamous monk.

Hardly is the breath out of the bodies of our national heroes and villains, these days, until some enterprising picture producer is embalming them in the historical stuff of the celluloid. Behold, therefore, Rasputin, the monk, the real ruler of Russia for half a score of years, already trekking along his slimy course through the films, the visualisation bringing, it must be confessed, a poignant thrill to those of us who have read much of the man.

And a very vivid picture, indeed, it is that William A. Brady has limned from historic events, unflawed by a single cheap or shoddy or sensational trick. Very cunningly, indeed, have the stubborn facts of history been woven into a concrete tale of the revolution, which has swayed the history of the world. And so natural is the acting, so lofty the tone maintained throughout, that the play in its impression has the authority of a real historic document, which in some respects it as a matter of fact is Montagu Love, as Rasputin, completely visualizes to my way of thinking, the ambitious, forceful, rugged, yet cunning, mocking, sensual monk, betrayer of empires and of women.

The story shows the monk gaining access to the home of the Czar through the Czarina's chief woman in waiting, and Rasputin's mistress, Mme. Vasta (played with superlative artistry by Julia Dean,) on the occasion of the infant Crown Prince's illness. That the youngster did awaken and wail when Rasputin bent over it—no wonder, for that ugly beard of his tickled the royal baby's nose—convinced both father and mother that Rasputin really was the chief trump when it came to healing. Thereafter, through his hypnotic influence over the Czarina, and so over the Czar, he became the real leaven in the national lump.

As a lady killer, Rasputin is shown to have been the original Lothario. According to the picture, he had to hold conventions of women, in order to accommodate all the ladies who were gone over him. On some occasions he is seen delivering his lecture, so-called, which were in reality full of thinly-cloaked salaciousness. But even as he wore whiskers and long locks, like unto one Sampson, so it was a high-spirited Delilah who led him to the shearer. And when he fell, shot dead, the house howled its approval, gloating in delight that they watched him not only slain but being buried. And such a burial! By night he is carried to the ice-covered River Neva, and his body thrust through the ice.

The closing scenes show the real Petrograd, with its marching soldiers and its new-made democrats.

The bleakness of the tale is softened by a tender and really human little love story, between one of the student revolutionists and a pretty Russian girl of good family, the latter of whom offers herself as a sacrifice to snare the fatuous monk into the trap of his undoing.

The film has so many points of appeal it cannot fail to be a financial as well as an artistic success.

Bob Leonard Hurt.

Not without a struggle was Robert Leonard, Universal picture director, yesterday injured by a mere Ford. Mr. Leonard, it seems, was trying to get out of the way of the Ford, on Vermont avenue, and in trying to let it have its way, his own car tore up a telegraph pole by the roots and severely injured both the car and himself. Mr. Leonard was at once hurried to a local hospital, where it is likely he will remain for several days.

Hello, Roscoe!

Roscoe Arbuckle, having packed his heavy underclothes and fur overcoat in New York, arrived here yesterday, and was at home to his friends at the Alexandria last night.

TWO POSITIONS CREATED.

The Council yesterday adopted the recommendation of the Fire Commission that two regular firemen be discharged and one clerk and one stenographer be employed by the fire department. Chairman Mallard suggested that the salaries be fixed at $90 per month instead of $80 and the Council did so.

Enjoys daring stunts of cowboys whose exhibitions of riding, bronco busting, roping and "bulldogging" steers were remarkable—"Doug" does a few stunts himself.

Wild and Western.

"DOUG" GIVES A RODEO FOR JAMES W. GERARD

BY PAUL HUBERT CONDON.

REAL Americanism symbolized in the spirit of the West has never been demonstrated more clearly than in the spectacle of our dignified, but kindly, former Ambassador to Germany, James W. Gerard, sitting on a wobbly fence, hugely enjoying the feats of bronco busting, trick riding, bull-dogging steers and wrestling at the rodeo, given by Douglas Fairbanks, at his studio yesterday afternoon. Beside the diplomat sat Elsie Janis in her glory, for she loves western sports, especially when the cowpunchers whose names are famed as champions, performed their remarkable feats in honor of the noted guest.

What a strange scene. Here were the sets of a western town of the early days with an improvised corral overflowing with excited spectators. In the occasional swirl of dust the busy "Doug" entertained Mr. Gerard with explanations of the stunts, while crack riders on restless horses, circling and prancing, anxiously awaited the word, "go." On a canvas mat the redoubtable "Bull" Montana and "Yankee" Rogers struggled, wrestling madly with the cheering onlookers urging them on to a draw.

Then at one end of the corral riders prepared to outwit the clever Johnny Judd, roper extraordinary, but to no avail, for this marvel encircled rider and horse each time in every conceivable way, ending his exhibition by neatly dropping the lariat over the surprised diplomat on the fence. All this delighted Elsie Janis, who had forgotten costly frock and all in her appreciation of these roping stunts, for she is some manipulator of the lariat herself.

"I fell for Mr. Gerard," shouted "Doug" amid shouts of laughter, when in chaps and everything he essayed to ride a particularly wicked bronco, only to get a bad fall. Nothing daunted, Fairbanks clambered aboard the horse once more and made good to the plaudits of punchers and spectators. Then by way of diversion, the versatile "Doug" showed the diplomat how to manhandle "Bull" Montana with jiu-jitsu.

Heralded as the champion trick rider of the Pacific Coast, youthful "Hank" Potts bounded from his galloping pony to the ground and back from all positions. Getting enthusiastic with the success of their feats, every puncher in the lot was willing to attempt hazardous stunts to win approbation.

After many expressions of doubt for the safety of this next feat, Ed Burns announced that Art Acord, the original "Buck Parvin"—now a leading man—would "bulldog" a steer. Despite the steer's unusual size, the determined Art leaped from his horse onto the back of the bounding steer and a never-to-be-forgotten fight ensued. Former Ambassador Gerard and Elsie Janis left their seats on the fence and joined the excited throng around Acord and the steer. After a mighty tussle the animal succumbed and Art was hauled off to safety, thereby earning a man's praise from Mr. Gerard.

Others on the programme were Fred Kelso, who gave a remarkable exhibition of bronco busting; Jack Holt, a real actor in cowboy's clothes; Walt Whitman, Milt Young, Art Schulz, Pete Martin and Archie Ricks. Actors in all sorts of make-ups, studio workers, newspaper men, soldier and marines—people from all walks of life cheered the former Ambassador to the echo as he made his departure, which all goes to show what regular Americans we all are. In the crowd lined up on the fences and convenient sets I saw such screen notables as Mary Pickford, Natalie Talmadge, Olive Thomas, Jack Pickford, John Emerson, Mrs. Janis, Anita Loos, Ruth Allen, Eileen Percy, Mrs. Clifton Crawford, John Fairbanks and many others. And there were such lads of the mitts as Leach Cross, Spike Robinson and other lights of the ring. The only familiar face missing was that of Hal Cooley, according to Bennie Zeidman, the literary agent of Douglas Fairbanks, who put on the show.

GENERAL REVIEWS.

Majestic.

Down where Hollywood boulevard runs into Sunset boulevard, for three years "Intolerance's" huge Babylonian walls have reared up against the blue hills, defying sun, rain and wind.

The scenes of siege and the mysterious machines of war imagined to have been used when Cyrus clashed with Balshazzar still have their interest and appeal. However, that interest and appeal palls before the reality of genuine war and genuine instruments of battle more deadly and destructive than any imagined for a photoplay.

The underlying humanness—especially in the story of the boy and girl who battle modern life for the right to be happy—still thrills and always will thrill. Robert Harron and Mae Marsh have lived these ordinary characters so strongly and convincingly that that strand of the four-ply story should hold by itself when the remainder falls away.

The interest in "Intolerance" now is more the interest in a gathering of silver-sheet stars than wonderment at colossal sets and gripping scenes, Miriam Cooper, "the friendless one" of the modern story; Bessie Love, the bride at the feast of Cana; Constance Talmadge, the vivacious mountain girl; Seena Owen, the indolent princess beloved; all have gained individual recognition in picture stories since "Intolerance" reared itself on the ramparts of photoplay accomplishment.

Garrick.

We will now have a little of the genuine western stuff, with William S. Hart shooting with both hands, and riding horses to death over all the mountains in Arizona.

Money will always be the most dramatic thing in the world as long as there is money. "The Bargain" was driven between Hart and the Sheriff of Cochise county. Hart, you must know, was a "two-gun" man. No man ever failed to perform the calisthenics when Hart told him "Throw up your hands!" and shoved two six-shooters at him.

The Sheriff, however, captured Bill, also $1000 in gold. Bill had relieved the express messenger of. The Sheriff thoughtlessly gambled the money away, however, so Bill Hart had to "hold up the game" to get it back for him. Of course that was committing the same offense, but the Sheriff let him go for doing it.

SAND SHIFTING SOLVED.

Manhattan Beach tipped off the Supervisors yesterday to a device for preventing sand drifting on highways in beach cities. This was to plant beach moss on the west side of the road; this moss acts as a buffer and collects the flying sand. Manhattan Beach has spent considerable money digging out the beach road between that city and El Segundo after windstorms have obstructed it. It now seems to have solved the problem by planting beach moss.

FUN IN A FARCE.

"HERE COMES THE BRIDE" OPENS AT THE MASON.

By Henry Christeen Warnack.

Once again we stand, or rather we sit, in the presence of a play where nobody shudders. Not a drop of blood is spilled on the Mason stage this week, not a report from the vice commission is read, not an uplift society is organized, not a propaganda pamphlet is so much as hinted at. The Klaw & Erlanger company have the effrontery to come before us without any mission or protest. They do not even declare themselves against vivisection or the pacifists. They even ignore metaphysics. Their only reason for being is to make us laugh and their efforts in this direction are not entirely in the bright lines of a play with many bad situations which is called "Here Comes the Bride."

Many years ago the public was accustomed to plays of this stamp and as a rule it enjoyed them heartily. "Here Comes the Bride" is very broad old-school farce with humor in every line, but we have a jumbled plot and jumbled situations that come almost too fast for anybody to comprehend until it is too late to get any enjoyment out of them. The curtain has been down on the last act for half an hour before you could possibly get through your head what it had all been about. Fortunately for the show and the audience it really makes no difference what the plot is as you get your laughs out of the lines and the speed.

It is the sort of thing that the highbrow scorns, but that a lot of people can relish once or twice a season, even though they would not care about it for a steady diet. It takes all kinds of plays to make a world. This is one of them.

Mostly it is Thomas McLarnie's show. As the Irate father of two girls who are on the verge of matrimony and who are ready to commit it without his knowledge or consent he extracts high humor out of an uncomfortable position. At two or three points he makes the mistake of burlesquing with his feet. It is his disposition and not his pumps that should go up in the air. This criticism might well apply to other members of the cast.

An exceedingly good bit is that of George L. Spaulding as Thurlow Benson, who modestly confesses to being the best lawyer in New York. His methods were sufficiently high-handed and outrageous to make him the prince of the profession. He wouldn't do well in most cities we know because they are already overstocked with this kind. A very bad lawyer may be a very good actor. Mr. Spaulding is.

J. Anthony Smythe sustained the good impression he previously created as a leading man. The character given Miss Grace Travers never exists anywhere outside of plays of this nature, but was well taken. The fact is that half of the characters created by the two authors, Max Marcin and Roy Atwell, never exist anywhere but on the stage.

Miss Bertha Mann and Miss Beatrice Nichols are all that this jumble of laughable nonsense will permit them to be.

PRETTY LOW.
The State Federation of Labor, in session at Sacramento, voted to expel all members of the I.W.W. in unions of the federation. When a fellow gets so mean his own family can't stand him he's getting pretty low down.

PERHAPS.
The largest Friends church in the world has been dedicated at Whittier. Wouldn't it have warmed the cockles of old John Greenleaf's heart to have been present at that dedication and read one of his poems? Perhaps he knew all about it and was there in spirit.

BETTER NOT TRY IT.
A Denver couple, on the verge of divorce, were reconciled when the wife, a famous singer, hummed a tender little tune in her husband's ear. However, it might not be kind to advise the average woman to try to retain her husband's affections by singing to him. It might have just the opposite effect.

ALL GOOD SPORTS.
Douglas Fairbanks and other athletic actors prepared an elaborate rodeo for the entertainment of ex-Ambassador Gerard when he visited Hollywood. Distinguished diplomats, big preachers, inventors, politicians, writers—they all like the actors and the athletes. The genuine American is always a sport.

GIVE THEM A CHANCE.
The idea of the city authorities to establish a forty-acre municipal farm near Griffith Park is an inspiration. The sooner the prisoners in the City Jail are given fresh air and an opportunity to earn their own board and keep, the better for the prisoners and for the taxpayers. It is said that a much larger tract of land can be leased by the city if necessary. Why not have the prisoners raise produce to help pay for the proposed new jail?

A COURSE DINNER.
By utilizing quantities of mollusks and certain sea fish not now in use it is hoped that poultrymen may be supplied with several varieties of chicken feed at a price far below the present cost of grain. If the plan is successful the diner can them imagine that in his chicken stew he is enjoying a big course dinner, including oysters and other fish, bread and vegetables, and even pie and cake which beach visitors have thrown to the fish, which have in turn been eaten by the chickens. That is, all this can be imagined providing one can afford to order chicken in the first place.

HOW UNGALLANT!
When a pretty young woman speeder alighted from her car at the command of an officer and threw her arms about him, the latter became so flustered that before he knew it the girl was back in her machine and speeding away down the boulevard. The officer stated that he tried to find out who she was, but that every time he asked her name she kissed him. "I must have asked her for her name a dozen times," he said, seriously, "but it didn't do any good." For shame, for shame, sir! The next time that beauty sees you she will see that you arrest her and get her number, but she won't get out of her car—and who can blame her?

DEMOCRACY'S DANGER.
"No, all is not fair in love and war, the victor's claims to the contrary. The strong, though often in the right, sometimes by very virtue of their strength forget their duties to the vicious weaklings they have conquered and thus they sow the seed of future defeat. This is the history of the right that remembers only its might, this is the danger of democracy and this is the strength of the weak. "Men are only great as they are kind," and nations are only great as they are just. Virtue is safe only so long as it is tolerant. Government is stable until it becomes top-heavy. It is the law that the oppressed shall destroy the oppressor. The universal economy provides a sort of spiritual chemistry which changes the pride of the tyrant into food for his slaves who sooner or later grow strong enough to destroy his throne.

IS LOVE AN ENEMY?
"Love is a woman's worst foe," says a famous singer now visiting in Los Angeles. To sustain her view she cites a fictitious character who fell in love with another and forgot her art. In other words, the singer seems to consider art more desirable than love. To entertain this view she has a perfect right; but to say that because love compels a woman to concentrate her attention on her family it is therefore an enemy is merely to state an opinion. It is true that the divine passion may interfere with one's ambitions; but if a woman's greatness and usefulness are to be measured by her power to bring happiness to others it is questionable which is the greater, the famous artist or the modest housewife and mother. Love is never an enemy to anybody or anything. It is the one force forever friendly and kind, the source of all inspiration and creation. It gives to one woman the gift of song and to another the blessing of motherhood. Which is greater?

COUNTING THE COST.
When Johannes comes marching home and finds himself in worse straits than when he was being badly battered in his trenches he is apt to take more serious reckoning than has thus far employed his mind. When he finds that his future has been mortgaged even into the third and fourth generation he will seriously wonder what it was all about and whether it was worth while.

The German soldier will then gravely doubt whether a Kaiser whom he has been brought up to love and admire and a system he has been taught to respect and obey are really worth the frightful sacrifices in blood and gold that have been exacted—this in view of the fact that other cultured peoples have rid themselves of kindred Kaisers and systems without loss of power or prestige and with distinct financial advantage.

The Teutons have accomplished the unbelievable in financing their war. The last thaler and the last man have been used over and over again. There is hardly a financial authority in the world who would concede that the Germany of after the war will be able to meet the interest on the national obligations, much less the principal. Yet German papers today are carrying huge advertisements urging subscriptions to still another loan. The old men, the women and the children who are compelled to be the wage-earners of the present Germany are told that they are expected to compute their earnings, deduct therefrom the bare cost of existence on a famine schedule and then pledge the balance to their country. Under this declaration not only all the savings of all the people, but all the prospective earnings of the immediate future are led into the governmental maw. The land is stripped to the bone.

Some Americans gasp over the billions for which Uncle Sam has virtually obligated himself. It would take a drainage of more than two hundred billions to place America in the same abject and broken financial form that Germany finds itself today, and at that our recuperative powers would be a hundredfold beyond the Teutons. There can be no whimper of repudiation here, yet it would seem that Germany must go through a court of bankruptcy to survive.

There are hardly enough of the strong and the able-bodied left at home in Germany to organize a revolution, but the vast numbers who are bearing the burdens on the battle front must some day measure conditions with those left behind. When they find that home and heritage have been wasted for an obsolete idea they will decide that it is not worth while. In that hour a new Germany will be born—a Germany that takes small reckoning of the Hohenzollerns and the military caste, unless it be to penalize them for their crimes.

When the Germans realize that they are not fighting for their country, but against it, there should be a rough awakening.

THE DIRECT PRIMARY ABETS EVILS AND AIDS SNEAKS.
"By their fruits ye shall know them!" Hon. John P. Mitchel, New York's vigilant war Mayor, has been beaten for renomination in a direct primary. Indorsed by every Republican organization in Greater New York, supported by such eminent Republicans as Hughes, Root and Roosevelt, opposed chiefly by known pacifists and hyphenated-Americans, he was nevertheless defeated in a city where the masses of the Republican voters are intensely loyal and are giving unquestioned support to the government in its conduct of the war.

Mayor Mitchel was supported for renomination by Republican and Democratic papers alike. Alton B. Parker, former Democratic candidate for President, declared in a signed interview: "Those who are for the United States in its war with Germany will vote for Mitchel. Those who favor a German victory will not." The New York Times observed editorially: "Not the least of the city's obligation to Mayor Mitchel is on account of his ardent Americanism, loyalty and patriotism; qualities that, singularly enough, have added to his enemies. The dignity, personal distinction and grace and force of speech with which he has met the representatives of foreign comrades in the war for freedom have been deeply appreciated by all loyal citizens. The crime of skilled administration is even subordinated by some of his opponents to the crime of patriotism."

Yet Mayor Mitchel was beaten in the primary by a comparatively unknown man. Does this mean that New York City is recalcitrant in its duty to the nation and to democracy? Not in a thousand years. It means that the direct primary served the purpose of the Tammany Hall gang in New York, just as it served the old Johnson gang in California, to thwart the will of the people. In 1916 Mr. Hughes received 311,000 votes in Greater New York; the total Republican vote in the late primary was 72,172. The nomination was decided by a primary in which less than one-fourth the Republican electors participated.

The New York Sun points out that "the vote in the districts of Brooklyn and Queens, in which the German population is heavily in the majority, went heavily against the Mayor." The Sun demands that Mayor Mitchel shall run as an independent candidate, declaring that "It would be a national disaster if the government of the greatest city in the United States were to be handed over in the midst of the war to those covertly hostile to the administration conducting the war, and secretly sympathetic with some of the forces in opposition."

This demand that the Mayor shall run as an independent fusion candidate is made also by the New York Tribune (Republican.) "Next to the pronounced defeat of the Mayor," says the Tribune editorially, "there could be no greater comfort to the pro-German, the anti-American of whatever nativity, the pacifist who consciously or unconsciously is serving the Kaiser here, than for the Mayor to be forced out of the contest."

It is an appearance in New York of the malady from which California has suffered during the last seven years. The direct primary is deadly to representative government; it permits politicians and secret foes of good government to plot in the dark and thwart the will of the people in a manner they would never dare attempt if they were forced to act in the open. In an open convention Mayor Mitchel would have been renominated by acclamation. The pacifists and the German secret agents would not have dared to appear. But it has been demonstrated scores of times in all parts of the country that voters will not go out in any great numbers to a primary election. Automobiles, telephones and a slush fund are the dominating factors in a direct primary. Like those other abortions of hysterical reformers, the initiative, referendum and recall, it is a travesty on good government.

OUT WITH LA FOLLETTE.
It is to be regretted that the United States Senate did not remain in session long enough to expel La Follette from its membership, and it is to be hoped that when it reconvenes in regular session eight weeks hence one of its first acts will be to rid itself of this pernicious, traitorous demagogue.

The patriotic Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia College, in a speech before the American Bankers' Association aptly stated the situation when he said: "You might just as well put poison into the food of every boy that goes to his transport as to permit this man (La Follette) to make war upon the nation in the halls of Congress."

Millions of our young men are being called to the colors. Twenty billions of dollars are being freely contributed, not only by the capitalists, but by the laborers of the land, to defeat the protracted effort of the German Kaiser to destroy democracy and establish a rule of autocracy throughout the world. The mothers and wives of the land are devoting themselves to the service of the Red Cross. The land is musical with the songs of patriotism. Most of the pro-German owls have ceased to hoot. Vardaman has silenced his yawp. Stone has crawfished. Works has taken counsel of his better judgment and closed his mouth, and yet the unbalanced, erratic La Follette was permitted, says the Spokesman Review, "from his high seat in the Capitol to assail the great cause of his country, to heckle the nation's trusted leaders, to join his disloyal condemnation of our entrance into this war with open condoning of Prussian crimes and atrocities."

The Times indorses the demand that he should be cast out of the Senate, and if that rebuke does not silence his unpatriotic tongue he should be made amenable to law as an incorrigible traitor, unless he should have the grace to emulate the example of his scriptural prototype, throw all his silver upon the ground, and hang himself.

THE WOMAN OF IT.
Generations ago we were advised that things are seldom what they seem. The statement was meant to be smart rather than true, but it goes to the extent that the eye, ear, heart, aye, and the mind of man may be quite readily deceived.

Even some women are not what they seem. Here is the distinguished lady writer—one of the admirable and supposedly adamantine "bachelor girls" of our classy literature who turns out to be a diamond of paste. Her brilliant satirical epigrams concerning love and marriage and the splendors of spinsterhood are a delusion so far as the personal equation is concerned.

She is a hollow mockery or a mollow hockery—something like that.

This "confirmed bachelor maid" who said that neither the livery of bride nor butler would ever be hers, was recently secretly married to her second husband! With a national reputation as a man-hater—because of the caustic brilliance of her pen—she has at times assumed the task of breaking and taming two of these well-known wild animals. The author who pitied women who were penalized with husbands has had a pair of the species already on her hands and for aught we know may be sobbing for more. She was first married nearly fifteen years ago and for a matter of five years lived a rather peaceful and uneventful life with her captor. Then he died and her pen once more began to satirize the wedded state.

Now that she is unmasked after a second venture she gloats over her condition. She says she accepts entirely her husband's cave-man ideas that she should take his name, wear his ring, live on his bounty and cook his bacon and eggs. Once she wrote that a woman couldn't reach a man's heart through his stomach—it was his grouch she found. Now that her marriage is discovered she admits that she enjoys getting breakfast for her husband and can stand it as long as he can. She brazenly declares that she married against her principles, but she has an ideal husband—healthy, handsome, kind, and one who will stand without hitching. She is sorry for him—"not because he is now tied to one woman, but because he has had to untie himself from so many others."

That sounds funny, but you never can tell what a fraudulent bachelor girl will say about her second husband.

This modern Helen—her name is Helen—wrote a short time ago: "What the average man objects to in the new woman is not the fact that she says what she thinks, but that she has the audacity to think."

Now she consents to become a cave man's partner and permit him to do the thinking for the firm.

Is there any sincerity in the world outside of Billy Sunday?

Wonder if the fact that Helen's new husband was one of her publishers has anything to do with the realignment?

Solomon was wise because he had a matter of 600 wives, but can a woman be a Mrs. Solomon on the strength of two husbands?

GERARD'S PREDICTION.
Ex-Ambassador Gerard, in the speeches he is making, does not withhold very sharp and very well-deserved criticism of Mr. Hohenzollern, and the furniture-stealing Crown Prince, and the murderous thieves, firebugs and rapists who control—or rather fail to control—the German soldiery.

In his speech in this city Mr. Gerard commented upon the burning of cities, towns and farm houses in Belgium and Northern France, the deportations of Belgian men as labor slaves in Germany, and of Belgian and French women for the use of German soldiers, and the sentencing to prison of humane Scandinavians for giving water to thirsty prisoners, and the massacre by the Turks—with German approval—of one million of Armenian Christians.

The loss of life by this war which Germany forced upon Europe and the world is estimated by Mr. Gerard to be so great that the corpses of the slain placed head to heel would stretch seven thousand five hundred miles.

Mr. Gerard predicts an early peace by a complete victory over Germany. The Times hopes he will prove accurate as a prophet.

HOW TO HELP THE KAISER.
If you can slow up America's war efforts, manifestly you can help the Kaiser.

If you can disturb America's vision and deceive it as to the purposes of this war, you can help the Kaiser.

If you can weaken America's resolution by appealing to fears or prejudices, you can help the Kaiser.

If you can create discontent and irresolution in America, you can help the Kaiser.

If you can create a demand for peace that would be a German peace and a rich reward for Germany's wanton affront and deadly injury to all the world, you can help the Kaiser.

Some people in this country, including those who masquerade as a "people's council," are working with might and main to do these things.

They are not working to help America or humanity. They are not working for democracy, for human liberty or for lasting peace.

But let us hope that America will never be so lost to self-respect that they will dare to wear openly the iron crosses they are earning.

And one way not to help the Kaiser is to put down those who are hindering America.—[Duluth Herald.

LET OUR GRAVITY ALONE.
It is just as we feared; a Missouri man has been monkeying with the law of gravity. He finds he can do all sorts of things with it, as he can with his breakfast things, by turning on the electricity. We might retaliate in his own language and tell him we have got to be shown; but we don't want to be shown; we object strenuously to his showing us anything. He says: "If the negative electricity could be drawn from the earth's surface, gravitational attraction would suddenly cease, and the coherence of the earth's surface would be disastrously affected." We don't want it disastrously affected. Our arrangements depend on the coherence of the earth's surface remaining as it is. We don't want it changed, and we wish the Missouri man would go away from the electricity.—[Philadelphia Record.

Billy Sunday may go to France to start a double campaign against Kaiserism and Satanism. Some will be inclined to simplify his labor by regarding the two as synonymous.—[Baltimore American.

FAREWELL TO THE PERFECT GORGE.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

WE MAY as well face the dismal truth. The perfect gorge is going out. With Halloween in the offing, with Thanksgiving Day so near, and Christmas well on the way, that dismal old kill-joy, Food Conservation, is staring us in the face. Time was when every respectable American family could look forward with joyful anticipation to the perfect gorge on the properly prescribed occasions. Civilization has brought the perfect gorge to a high state of superabundant stoking. Doctors banked on it. Fond mammas resigned themselves to the inevitable and kept the castor oil ready on the premises. Father, at the head of his heavily-laden board, knew himself for a veritable paterfamilias de luxe.

But this year we have our Hoover. Here in California we have our Ralph Merritt Food Conservation Committee. Food conservation is being preached from the platforms of every woman's club. Our consciences are beset by food pledges. And the grocer and the butcher charge twice as much for half the quantity. The perfect gorge in this year of grace, 1917, is demode, vulgar, outre, unpatriotic, treacherous, traitorous, criminal, pro-German—oh, simply unthinkable! It isn't done.

It is with irate venom that we pick up an old-fashioned book and read about the Boar's Head and the Wassail Bowl, the big plum pudding, and the gentlemen, on the morrow of a proper party, stretched beneath the table in evidence of their appreciation of true hospitality.

Not that we care a whoop about the Boar's Head, you understand. We supplanted it with stuffed turkey and trimmings, cranberry jelly, Virginia ham, a goose on the side, young suckling pig, mince pies, ten kinds of fruit, ages ago. Not that we care a hang about the Wassail Bowl—we preferred our champagne and our modest refined cocktail, our whisky-punch and our liqueurs, long since. But the disgusting greed of the thing makes our blood boil.

How unutterably disgusting was the ancestral feast—the gluttons! We had advanced so far beyond their vulgar ken. Civilization had taught us so much. WE could stuff like gentlemen.

WE were the veritable refinement of epicurean stuffers, we were. No collecting our gentlemen up from the floor with the stale cigar ends next morning. Not on your life. Our chauffeurs had their instructions. Besides, champagne did not affect us that way. It made us veritable gods of attainment. With its help we could stuff down fourteen courses and still go home with a sublime faith in bromo-seltzers.

And now all this culture and attainment are to count for naught. If we stuff we must do it silently and alone, where none may know our crime. Exercise our superlative skill in secret, nor dare to flaunt our capacity before our fellows.

Oh, you passing perfect gorge! What will life be without you? How can we possibly prove our thanksgiving in the proper spirit on stew and yesterday's bread, on skimped butter and eggs at 60c a dozen? How can we possibly celebrate the birth of Christ with turkey stuffed with oysters, or larded goose or squab en casserole? And how on earth does one celebrate when one is in uniform and the waiter knows his duty?

IF THE MERRITT COMMITTEE HAS ITS WAY DO YOU KNOW WHAT OUR THANKSGIVING DINNER WILL CONSIST OF? OH, OH, OH! VEGETABLE SOUP, TWO FLAKES OF FISH, HALF AN INCH OF MEAT, POSSIBLY, WITH LUCK, A COMPOSITION PIE, STALE CHEESE AND YESTERDAY'S CRUSTS.

And if we elect to be old-fashioned, if we irresistibly hark back to the fond memories of former gorges, the shade of Hoover will haunt us, haunt us, haunt us. He will stand there behind our chair and utterly ruin our appetite. Above the artificial laughter we shall hear him murmur "Glutton! Thief! Consummate Hog!" The mouthful of turkey will petrify upon our lips; the oyster stuffing will ossify in our innards; the pie will stick in our gizzards; the wine will turn to gall in our throats. Conscience! Conscience! Conscience! Remember Hoover! Remember the soldiers in the trenches. Remember Belgium. Remember the submarines. And break that new hot roll if you dare. Pick that wishbone if you can. Swallow that luscious morsel—and choke.

We who have been brought up to know that no celebration is complete without a perfect gorge—we who have consistently and hospitably fed those who are not hungry to mark every great occasion, we who have stuffed in honor of engagements, of weddings, of christenings, of funerals, of distinguished guests, of religious anniversaries, of patriotic memorials, of birthdays, of lucky wins, of sporting successes or defeats, of reunions, of any person, place or thing—we, I say, must lay aside the noble traditions of a lifetime, the happy surfeits to which our high-bred, free and independent stomachs have been accustomed, and remember Hoover.

Oh, yes, our hearts are in the right place. But so, hang it, are our guts! Maybe, after all, those wandering pacifists are not so far wrong. Maybe, indeed, it is time to stop the war. After all, German kultur does include the perfect gorge. Peace and plenty—how sweet those old-fashioned demode words. How they linger on our tongues. Peace—and plenty.

How did it go, that dear old nursery rhyme? "One, two, buckle my shoe." ($12 a pair now.) "Nineteen, twenty, my tummy's empty." (Bread at 14c a loaf.) Every stomach knows its own sorrow.

Oh, Hoover, Hoover, can we stomach him? That dear old-fashioned cook book. How redolent its pages with fond memories! Our tears well up as we peruse it clear through from the soups to the home-made candies. It must take its place among the dreamland stories, the fairy tales, the heathen mythology. What knew its brilliant author of the sorrow such as ours, what knew she of Hoover? Oh, you sublime cook book, you relic of happy, innocent past!

Oh, if you have tears, my friends, prepare to shed them now. Our forthcoming Thanksgiving celebrations are sickled o'er with the pale cast of thought. Likewise with food conservation. Eke with the shade of Hoover.

Good-by, you perfect gorge, good-by!

Please pass the beans!

A little water, if you please.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE DAY OF PEACE.

The war will end some blessed day, some day the strife will cease; the kings will put their guns away and boost the boon of peace. The captains then will drop the tools which made the world forlorn, and drive their teams of sorrel mules along the rows of corn. While still the tide of battle rolls, while still we hear the din, it seems to countless weary souls that war has always been. Three years, they say, the strife has raged across the mourning seas, but it would seem that war's been waged for three eternities. The days that reek of blood and tears pass slowly o'er the stage; to weary hearts three gory years become an endless age. We're looking forward to the day when peace with honor comes, when kings will put their swords away and soak their battle drums. I long to see the colonels drop their shining snickersnees and buckle down to raise a crop of beans and early peas. I long to see field marshals hang their batons from a nail and then get busy with the gang to earn some bloodless kale.

WALT MASON.

ALL IN THE SHUFFLE.
[Washington Star:] A government official was discussing the morality of certain war profiteers.

"Their morality reminds me," he said, "of a professional gambler who always won at cards, whereas at the races he always lost.

"'Oh, pshaw, George,' his wife said to him one day, 'you make me tired. Why is it you always bring home a horse-collar roll when you play poker and turn up broke when you play the horses?'

"'My love,' said George quietly, 'I don't shuffle the horses.'"

Time has swung his hour-glass around my head—now more than once for nine and seventy times, let him not presume to point his finger at me, and let nobody dare to call me an old man to my face. DESULTORY OBSERVATIONS.

BY TOM FITCH.

Time has swung his hour-glass around my head—now, snow white, for nine and seventy times, yet let him not presume to point his scorn at me, and let nobody dare to call me an old man to my face, for no ancestor of mine ever considered it respectable to start on his journey up the golden stairway until he was over 84 years of age.

We should put behind us eccentricities wherever it is possible, as the scientist closes his book of momentary principles with its familiar use and goes on to question higher and unproven truths. Only for the possibilities all twice-told tales would grow tiresome. How often do we dream and long for the sweet harmonies of cultured life—for a glimpse of canvas that would make us forget the cares of commonplace days; for the crashing chords of the flowing melodies which fill and thrill the soul through the listening ear; for the illumination of life from the forum; for the telling, shifting and exhilarating play; for the shelves and nooks filled with books pulsating with immortality—in a word, for contact with unfolding advancing thought in every branch of beauty and growth.

Fortunate is the man who is able to divide himself from his surroundings and inhabit a mansion of his own making. Human society is often a necessity with him. He does not even know when a man smells like a gentleman.

How thin is the partition which divides inordinate vanity from insanity! The asylums are full of people who believe themselves to be anything from the Savior of the world down to Hiram Johnson. It is only a crooked object that reflects a crooked image, and the man who is suspicious without cause is the man who may be suspected with a cause. A considerate, inappreciative nature should commit itself to dealings with its kind only that there shall be no injustice done. On the other hand, some people are so weak in their judgment of men that they are constantly involving themselves at a disadvantage.

ONE BY LAUDER.

Harry Lauder tells the following story about a funeral in Glasgow and a well-dressed stranger who took a seat in one of the mourning coaches. The other three occupants of the carriage were rather curious to know who he was, and at last one of them began to question him. The dialogue went like this:

"Ye be a brither o' the corp?"

"No 'a brither o' the corp."

"Then ye'll be his cousin?" "No, I'm not his cousin."

"At any rate ye'll be a friend o' the corp?" "No, I'm not a friend either. Ye see, I've never been very weel masel," the stranger explained complacently, "an' my doctor has ordered me carriage exercise, so I thocht this would be the cheapest way to tak' it."

Released His Oratory.

"I used to think Dubwaite was a man of few words."

"What caused you to change your opinion?"

"I happened to be sitting near him at the baseball park the other day when the umpire made a bad decision in favor of the visiting team."—[Birmingham Age-Herald.

OWNERS GET BACK STOLEN PROPERTY.

LOOT FROM MAN'S ROOM IS IDENTIFIED BY VICTIMS.

Clothing and Jewelry Valued at More than Five Thousand Dollars Returned when Abode of Burglar Suspect is Searched by Police Detectives.

More than fifty people yesterday went through the huge pile of property said to have been stolen by David Sloane, 25 years old. The post-mortem examination of stolen goods was conducted in Central Police Station under the direction of Detectives Toomey, Bowe, Taylor and Vernand. Several people secured some of their property which had been stolen during the past five months.

Sloane was arrested at First and Main streets Sunday night by Detectives Bowe and Vernand. A search of his room revealed a huge quantity of clothing, suit cases and jewelry, which totaled, the detectives say, $5000.

So great was the amount that two automobiles were necessary to transport it from Sloane's room at Fourth and Main streets to the Police Station.

The police believe that in his arrest they have secured one of the most dangerous and clever burglars in the West. The police say Sloane told, on his arrest, that he was formerly a jockey, having raced at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., for several seasons.

The police say that the young man has been operating in this city for the past five months. The following is a list of the persons who yesterday identified and received the goods:

E. H. Kennard, No. 712 Hollingsworth Building, suit cases, clothing and jewelry; Paul R. Lill, No. 2317 West Sixth street, clothing, suit case and minor articles; H. C. Roberts, No. 1258 Fourth avenue, silver jewel case, clothing and jewelry, and B. W. Scroggins, Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company, bath robes, bathing suits and jewelry.

MAYOR DISBELIEVES STOOL-PIGEON TALK.

POLICE JUDGE SAYS HE IS READY WITH PROOF.

Magistrate Hurls Defi at Chief Butler and the Purity Squad. Chief Executive Believes His Instructions Have not been Disobeyed.

Police Judge White yesterday informed the Public Safety Committee that he is prepared to prove that persons outside the police department have been employed to do "stool-pigeon" work. He said he understood that the dispute over the question had been settled, but when informed that there was to be another hearing, he prepared to prove his original assertions.

The magistrate hurled a defi at Chief Butler and Sergt. Hackett of the Purity Squad, and stated to the committee that "if the witnesses he has asked to appear in the case are out of the city next Monday afternoon, someone will hear from me."

That no attempt has been made to interfere with any of the witnesses were statements made by the police officials.

Commenting on the probe, Mayor Woodman said he would reiterate the statement that he had instructed Chief Butler not to carry on a system of stool-pigeon work, and he had every reason to believe that the Chief had obeyed instructions.

"I am opposed to stool pigeons," the Mayor said, "and the police department knows it. I have the word of police officials that the system has not been invoked during my regime and I have no reason to discredit their statements."

AWARDED BIG FEE.

Physician of Pasadena is Given Judgment for Large Sum by Court.

Twelve thousand five hundred dollars is the fee Dr. George L. Cole was awarded in Superior Judge Monroe's court yesterday afternoon for attending the late Mrs. Susanna B. Wolfskill of Pasadena, during her last illness, and amputating one of her limbs. Prior to her death, which occurred January 4, 1916, Mrs. Wolfskill gave Dr. Cole a note for $12,500, made payable one year after date. Yesterday's court action was to secure judgment on this note, together with interest and attorney fees. Judge Monroe instructed the jury to return a verdict for the plaintiff, without leaving the jury box, in the sum of $14,770.83—$12,500 the face value of the note, $1670.83 interest and $600 attorney fees. Administrators of the woman's estate were the defendants to the action.

CALLED BY DEATH.

John R. Reynolds, 63 years old, died at his home, No. 710 North Andrews boulevard, yesterday morning. He was the father of Mrs. W. H. Packard of this city, and John F. Reynolds. Funeral services will be held at the chapel of Garrett & Co., time to be announced later.

GERARD REPLIES TO WAR QUERIES

Ex-Ambassador Reveals Many Former Secrets.

Diplomat Satisfies Curious by Answering Questions.

Tells of Kaiser and Conflict in Novel Manner.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

James W. Gerard stood prepared to break silence in twenty languages when Mrs. Chester Ashley, the president, introduced him to the Ebell Club yesterday. This, after Mrs. Ashley had said that he was the man of whom they all yearned to ask questions, but would not dare.

Answering questions, he said, was exactly what he would do. The time for keeping silence in seven languages, as all good diplomats should, had gone by. He invited the crowded audience of women to fire away.

How long will the war last? This question brought forth the reply that it would last until the United States had proved itself a united nation—until the Germans were convinced that this country was not a sort of Russia in which revolutions could be engineered by a Bernstorff slush fund.

Asked about his knowledge of the beginning of the war, Mr. Gerard said it was so unexpected by the foreign embassies in Berlin that both the British and Russian Ambassadors were away on their vacations. None supposed there was anything that could not be settled by peaceful negotiation. But two things really made the war inevitable for 1914. One was the Zabern incident in Alsace of 1913, when the people proved they were on the verge of a revolt against militarism by a vote of 293 to 52 against that military decision.

The Prussian governing party saw that nothing but a short, swift, successful war would keep them in control.

MOBILIZE QUICKLY.

"Germany mobilized 5,000,000 men in a few days, equipping them all with new uniforms, new boots, new rifles with less fuss than Los Angeles makes over a ball game. We are raising an army of 1,000,000 very painfully," he said.

Did the Germans expect opposition from Belgium? No, replied Mr. Gerard, they did not. They had taxicab drivers in Belgium with explicit instructions to murder all Belgian officers directly war was declared.

What is the attitude of the German women? "I can only assure you the German women are of one mind with the men—they have no separate opinions or attitude," said Mr. Gerard. "And let me tell you," he added, "that I know of my own personal knowledge that 20,000 women like you members of this club were driven at the point of the bayonet out of Lille and made to do the coarsest work."

Asked about the power of the German Reichstag, Mr. Gerard said it was equal to the debating society of the high school. Nothing they voted was of any account unless indorsed by the little known Bunderath, all of whose members are appointed by the reigning princes, according to influence.

As to the German newspapers in this country, Mr. Gerard said he knew if he tried to publish a paper in English in Germany antagonistic to the government in any way, he would find himself up against a wall with a bullet through his head without further parley.

Germany, he said, spent $0,000,000 marks on her spy system—but he was glad to be able to point out that we were pretty good at making discoveries ourselves.

"I firmly believe that the anti-Japanese feeling in this country," he said, "has been cooked by German propaganda, and I may say that if I had to live under foreign rule I would rather live under the Japanese than the Prussians."

As regards the munitions question, Mr. Gerard reminded his audience that it was Germany and only Germany which kept that clause in The Hague treaty about supplying neutral arms to belligerents.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS.

Gov. William D. Stephens was also a guest of Ebell yesterday and spoke prior to Mr. Gerard's arrival. He adopted a complimentary attitude towards the intelligence and war service co-operation of the women of California, stood emphatically for home gardens and Hooverizing, and reiterated that California was the finest State in the world. He said the experts told him the war would last three more years. He made an appeal for the proper support of the new Liberty Loan. He professed undying loyalty to President Wilson, and concluded with a poem on the flag.

Mr. Gerard spoke at a dinner given in his honor by the City Club, at the Hotel Alexandria, last night. In the course of replying to a question as to the attitude of the people of Germany as to war with the United States he said: "When diplomatic relations were severed with Germany, the consensus of opinion among the business class of Berlin, many of whom I knew personally, was expressed to me in these words, 'This is the end of Germany.'"

Mr. Gerard adopted the question and answer method last night just as he did yesterday afternoon in addressing the ladies of the Ebell Club.

He described the personality of the Kaiser, the Crown Prince and stated that undoubtedly Gen. Von Ludendorff was the ruling military spirit of Germany today. He described the Crown Prince as a lively and intelligent individual, exceedingly popular.

E. W. Camp acted as chairman and after introducing Gov. Stephens, who made a brief, but exceedingly patriotic address, Mr. Gerard was presented to the audience.

NEEDLEWORKERS BUSY.

Guild to Spend its Energies in Effective War Relief Campaign Measures.

Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at the Ebell Club House, Figueroa and Seventeenth street, a mass meeting will be held by the Needlework Guild to plan its campaign for an annual ingathering of garments for the needy.

All this year, since war was declared, the guild has spent its very effective energies on war relief work. Last year the local branch of the Needlework Guild of America collected 10,500 new garments, and most of these were distributed through the medium of fifty-eight charities. The sending in of two new garments and 10 cents constitutes membership in the guild. At the meeting tomorrow morning a report will be given of the war relief work done, also a report by the treasurer, Mrs. O. P. Clark; the secretary, Mrs. Theodore Eisen, and the president, Mrs. Boyle Workman.

CALL FOR BIDS.

Proposal No. 522, calling for quotations on supplies has been received by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, and anyone wishing to bid can obtain information by calling at 228 Wilcox Building. These supplies are for delivery at the quartermaster's warehouse, No. 918 East Third street, Los Angeles, and bids are to be opened at their office, 425 Central Building October 10, 1917, and include desks, typewriter stands and revolving chairs.

SEEK GUNMAN.

A reward of $100 is offered the local police if they apprehend Oscar Brown, an alleged gunman of the type existing fifty years ago. Sheriff C. L. Williams of Crockett county, Texas, is the offerer of the reward. Brown escaped from the Ozona (Tex.) jail, Williams states, two days ago and is supposed to be en route to Los Angeles.

GRUBSTAKE DISPUTED.

Matter of Loan to Mining Man Made Cause for Action to Enforce Accounting.

Whether M. Kinney grubstaked Frank Torpey or he and Mr. Torpey made each other loans in a friendly way, will be determined by Judge Taft, who yesterday had before him the suit of Mr. Kinney against Mr. Torpey for an accounting and $2000 cash. Mr. Kinney alleged that in March, 1915, he grubstaked Mr. Torpey to the extent of $456. Mr. Torpey went to Oatman, and, according to the complaint, acquired stock in various Arizona mining corporations.

Mr. Kinney sought to have him disclose the number of shares he held in the Gold Road Bonanza Mining Company, the Peerless Mining Company and the Arizona Gold Mining Company. Mr. Torpey, in his answer, denied the allegations. He said they loaned each other sums "as a favor."

CLERKS ARE NEEDED.

Several hundred clerks with a knowledge of stenography and typewriting are needed in the government service at this time. As a result Secretary Tynan announced an examination yesterday for November 2. This will be a special examination and will not take the place of the regular examination for stenographers and typewriters.

SELLING IN WALL STREET STARTED BY CROP REPORT.

Market Pursues a Narrow and Uncertain Course Most of the Day.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Stocks pursued a narrow and uncertain course today until the final hour, when a general selling movement followed publication of the government crop report disclosing a falling off in the indicated corn crop and further deterioration in other important cereals.

United Cigar Stores dropped five points, to 103¾. Tobacco Products three, to 61¾, and American Tobacco three, to 188. People's Gas was weakest of the utilities, declining five points, to 58, and metals were next at recessions of one to three points.

Industrials held their ground most of the time, but succumbed at the end. United States Steel reacting from 108¼ and closing at 108¾, a net loss of one and one-half points. Other equipments moved similarly.

Rails were firm to strong, despite the publication of additional August statements showing further heavy increases in operating expenses with resultant impairment of net revenues.

The entire list was heavy at the end, short-selling meeting with little resistance. Sales amounted to 444,000 shares.

Depression of Liberty Bonds, which sold from 99.64 to 99.84, was a sentimental adverse influence. Other bonds were lower or irregular. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,625,000. United States coupons 3's declined ¾ per cent. on call and registered 3's advanced ¼ per cent. on sales.

OCTOBER SCORES SEASON'S RECORD.

GOES TO TWENTY POINTS OVER ITS JUNE MAXIMUM.

Every One of the Active Months and Most of the Inactive Ones Advance During One of the Liveliest Monday Sessions for a Long Time.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 8.—October cotton today, on the local market, sold at a higher price than on any previous day this season, reaching 27.20, which is twenty points higher than its high level in the big bull movement of last June. Realising forced the price down to 27 cents flat, the same price that had previously ruled as high.

October, however, was only the leader today in one of the liveliest Mondays the market has seen for a long time. Every one of the active and most of the inactive months soared well above 25 cents and the close was only a little below the top prices, at a net advance of ninety-three to ninety-eight points for the entire list.

Official predictions of frost over a great part of the belt, with freezing temperatures in Northern Arkansas and Oklahoma, combined with the known lateness of the crop and the consequent unusual degree of danger, were responsible for the sharp rise above Saturday's figures.

The lowering of marine insurance rates on the lessened submarine risk also played its part in the spirited early buying, even before the weather report came out.

Both foreign and domestic trade interests were credited with buying on the advance, while there was covering and broadening outside demand.

PORT ITEMS.

The appointment at the free government anchorage, ordered today changed to accommodate the largest vessel that may enter the channel. Eleven feet is about the depth to which the Union Oil Company's wharf will be dredged by existing appropriations before the United States harbor tender leaves.

Work was started today on the new road leading to the entrance of the Union Oil Company's wharf, upon which will be built the company's office. About a mile of road will be built connecting the site of the refinery with the harbor boulevard.

SUES FOR FALL.

A piece of scantling alleged to have been carelessly left lying across the entrance into the Platt Music Company store at No. 622 South Broadway, is the basis of a $10,500 damage suit yesterday filed with the County Clerk against that corporation and H. H. Hinds by Dora Rudd. She declares that on September 6, while attempting to enter the store, she stumbled over the scantling, and suffered painful and permanent injuries when she fell to the floor.

HAVE SWEET TOOTH.

The store of M. Goldsmith, No. 653 Valencia street, was robbed of several boxes of candy Sunday night, according to a report he made the police yesterday. The burglary is supposed to have been the work of small boys.

Los Angeles Advertising Score

¶ The record of the advertising achievements of all the daily and Sunday newspapers in Los Angeles is printed every day by The Times in order that men and women who depend upon newspaper advertising for the success of their business ventures may know the extent to which successful business builders patronize various local newspapers.

¶ The Times high-class, home-delivered, productive circulation, a sworn statement of which is printed in another column, regularly enables this newspaper to print more classified and display advertising, and a greater number of separate advertising announcements, than any other Los Angeles newspaper.

¶ For the week ending Saturday, October 6, the Los Angeles newspapers published the following number of lines of advertising (300 agate lines make one column.)

SUES TO PROVE MINERAL RIGHT.

Government Contests Land Claims of Woman.

Millard Canyon Property is in Sharp Dispute.

Son Is Fined for Interfering with Company.

A contention that has been a thorn in the flesh of the local forest service and the public Land Office for more than five years will begin to be adjudicated today, when Mrs. Hyril Chaney Gill goes to the mat with Uncle Sam in a judicial jiu jitsu to determine the rights of Mrs. Gill to mineral locations in Millard Canyon and the Arroyo Seco, involving about 2000 acres of land.

The suit is brought by the government to cancel certain mineral locations made by Mrs. Gill and her associates on the ground that the land is not chiefly valuable for mineral.

The record shows that some of the land in Millard Canyon was located for alleged mineral use in 1912, and that similar locations were made in the Arroyo Seco in 1914. Under the mining law a single entryman is allowed to locate on but twenty acres of land, and in cases where quarter-sections are sought it is necessary to secure eight locaters.

There are also placer mining claims covered by the trial beginning today before Receiver Alex Mitchell (Register Roche still being confined by illness to the Clara Barton Hospital) that are as follows: Bonanza, Lark, O'Possum, Dorian, Winner, Bumble Jack, Rock of Ages, Granite, Good Luck, Protector Stone, Gray Granite, Rockaway, Fairview, Puzzle and Grand View. On five of these claims Charles S. McKelvey, the disbarred attorney, is one of the locaters, but he claims he has no interest in the land.

Mrs. Gill, who succeeded to the interest of F. W. Ford, asserts that the land is valuable for production of building stone, and therefore mineral in character. Alone and unaided she has stood off the forest officials for more than five years.

IDLE WORDS CAUSE BENCH WARRANTS.

CUSTODY OF PRETTY GIRL YET TO BE DECIDED.

Remarks Dropped in Corridor of Divorce Court Lead to Issuance of Papers that will Call for Explanation from Attorney of the Child's Parent.

The battle for the possession of pretty Elmira Hewitt, 11 years old, the daughter of divorced parents, broke out in a new quarter yesterday and resulted in Judge Wood issuing a bench warrant for Walter Gould Lincoln, attorney for Fred P. Hewitt, the father of Elmira, Mr. Hewitt, and the girl. The bench warrants followed the granting of a writ of habeas corpus for Elmira.

The Hewitts were divorced last May, the custody of Elmira being awarded to the mother, Mrs. Viola Hewitt. A writ of habeas corpus was filed in the Juvenile Court, but Judge Reeve said he would not undertake a matter deferring to an order made in another court, and therefore transferred the case to Judge Wood. Elmira has been with her father for some time.

In the corridor outside of the divorce court yesterday Perry F. Backus said to Mr. Lincoln that the girl had been awarded to the custody of her mother. Elmira declared she would not go with her mother, and, according to Mr. Backus, Mr. Lincoln retorted:

"What do I care about the court order."

Elmira, Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Lincoln stepped into the elevator, and Mr. Backus returned to Judge Wood's court, reporting that they had taken the girl and "beat" it.

Bench warrants were immediately issued. Mr. Lincoln's version of the affair will be told when he comes into court.

FEDERAL OFFICE HERE VACANT YET.

President Wilson's failure to send the name of J. Robert O'Connor to the Senate in the closing hours of Congress for confirmation as United States District Attorney here, caused considerable discussion yesterday around the Federal Building. Mr. O'Connor, who has been first assistant in the local office, is now acting District Attorney by appointment of Atty.-Gen. Gregory. The position carries a salary of $4000 a year, but now must remain vacant until Congress assembles again in December.

Ready for Arguments.

EVIDENCE IN TRIAL OF BAKERS TO END TODAY.

EVIDENCE in the so-called bread trust trial will close this morning with the testimony of H. G. Chaffee, owner of a string of grocery stores. Aaron Michaels, his baker, testified yesterday that a profit could be made on bread selling at 11 cents a loaf. He said that last April, when the alleged meeting of bakers was held to raise the retail price of bread to 15 cents, the company sold bread at a profit at 12 cents a loaf.

The bakers' testimony was to the effect that they were forced to raise the wholesale price of bread because the cost of flour and other ingredients was so high that unless this step was taken they would be forced out of business. The District Attorney, to refute this, called out-of-town bakers to the stand in rebuttal and showed by them that they made a profit. One of these bakers called yesterday was S. E. McPherson of Santa Ana, whose business prospered until today he is baking 2500 loaves. He said the cost to manufacture a twenty-four-ounce loaf last April was a fraction over 6 cents. He figured in this the cost of hauling his ingredients from Los Angeles.

He said he charged 7 cents "when the scrap was on," and made money.

"Just about the time that flour began to advance, they were trying to put us out of business," he testified. Flour last April went up to $14 a barrel. Mr. McPherson said he can buy flour now for $11.40 a barrel.

Judge Houser granted the attorneys an entire day, for each side, to make their arguments to the jury. This will send the case to the jury Thursday afternoon. The bakers and their officers are charged with violating the Cartwright Act by forcing a retail price of 15 cents in restraint of trade. The bakers contend that this price was not forced, but followed the raise in price to 12 cents wholesale and was in furtherance of trade.

WAR BRINGS NEW INTEREST.

County Law Library has to Buy Three More Sets of Federal Statutes.

A pressing demand for the United States statutes has caused Librarian Thomas W. Robinson of the county law library to purchase three sets of the bulky documents. War times have brought in their train many things which require attorneys to consult the Federal law, especially in determining questions raised under the income tax, conscription and other matters involving the military act.

The attorneys are also interested in learning the increase in the jurisdiction of the Federal law and of the Federal courts. The Federal statutes are now consulted, Mr. Robinson states, to the same extent that other and lesser statutes formerly relating to purely civil matters were pored over.

TO STAGE FETE IN CENTRAL PARK.

FILM STARS AND SOCIETY FOLK WILL JOIN HANDS.

Unique and Striking Features to be Dominate in Affair Planned to Raise Funds for Relief of Wounded—Debutantes will Sell Candies, Fruits and Flowers.

A brilliant scene of color and spectacular interest will be presented in Central Park, Saturday, when the big Franco-Belgian fete, in aid of wounded French and Belgian soldiers is given there. Society women prominent in war relief work and a group of notable film stars have joined hands to make this all-day affair a success. The funds raised will be distributed through the Red Cross in France.

The fete, which is being arranged by Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, president of the local French Red Cross, and a group of women active in war relief work, will include many unique and striking features. Mingling with the crowds throughout the day will be more than twenty feminine film stars and a group of Los Angeles debutantes selling candies, fruits, flowers and dainty articles.

Mrs. Joseph Coffman, in charge of the hag stall, will be assisted by Anita King, dressed in an aviator's suit of white chamois; Dorothy Dalton, in one of her original costumes worn in "The Flame of the Yukon;" Olga Printzlau, a Russian actress, in native Cossack dress, and Louise Huff, Marjorie Daw, Miriam Meredith, Yvette Mitchell, Nan Herron, Isabel Percival, Julianne Johnson, Lucita Squire, Dorothy Love Clark, Leota Lorraine, Marjorie Blinn, Endamae Wilson, Mrs. Meredith Woodward, Edgarita Williams, Gertrude Short, Peggy Hagard, Lillian Maude, Ann Bauchens and Gertrude Griffith, all dressed in costumes representing the Allies.

Among the interesting attractions will be a French village, a cafe chantant, a Russian tearoom, a cafe de Bracelles, a fish and meat market, and stalls for the sale of fancy work, artcraft articles, fruits, flowers, candy, pop corn, jellies and toys.

The stalls will be presided over by Mrs. Fred Hooker Jones, Mrs. W. I. Hollingsworth, Mrs. J. T. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Irwin Muma, Miss Beatrice Fox, Mme. Naud, Mrs. Gurson, Mrs. Elsasser, Mrs. Isadore Dockweiler, Mrs. Gardner Bullis, Miss Lucile Ross, Mrs. Nichols Milbank, Mrs. W. P. Henry, Mrs. Frank Forrester, Mrs. G. H. Reynolds, Mrs. Vance Thompson, Miss Rachel E. Burer, Mrs. Houghton, Mrs. Edward Izard, Mrs. Horace Wing, Mrs. W. A. Edwards, Mrs. L. W. Brunswig, Mrs. Harry Green, Mrs. Quinan, Mrs. William Lacy, Mme. Donato, Mrs. John Treanan, Mrs. Richard Lacy, Miss Molly Brown, Mrs. Potts and Mrs. Seager.

Miss Doris Cullins, head of the ladies of the Patriotic League, will direct stalls in charge of the Misses Sylvia Woodett, Dorothy Day, Grace Wells, Mrs. Louis Parsons, Mrs. William Reed, Catherine Donovan, Carolina Winston, Marguerita Winston, Catherline Mullen, Gladys Pollard, Mabel Seely, Jocelyn, Loftus, Rose Bacon, Emily Townsend, Corinne Eisenmayer, Mrs. Louis Forve, Anetta Macintosh, Dorothy Arsner, Katherine Torrance, Ethel MacDonald, Jennie MacDonald, Cecile MacLaughlin, Rosario Dockweiler, Edna Miles, Rachel Ward, Ruth Grant, Beatrice Finlayson, Betty Parsons, Betty Brant, Mrs. Dulin, Mrs. Roy Bayly, Miss Schaffer and Miss Brown.

BIG SHORTAGES IN NEXT QUOTA.

Pending Claims for Exemption Cause Deficiency.

Adjt.-Gen. Borree is Notified of the Situation.

Army Surgeons Reject Many Men at Camp Lewis.

The Federal district board yesterday notified Adjt.-Gen. Borree that owing to the large number of exemption claims which were before it for action that it would be impossible to certify a sufficient number of men back to the local boards of this district to enable them to send up their 15 per cent. quotas on the 13th inst. as planned originally. In discussing the matter, H. W. Wright, chairman of the Industrial Claims Committee said, "We feel that it is very important at this time to give every man with an exemption claim pending, a full and complete hearing. Such a course will prevent men being sent back from Camp Lewis and thus save the government a considerable bill of expense and save the men sent from losing their jobs by reason of having to leave them to make the trip."

Hereafter all meetings of the board, at which industrial or agricultural claims are heard, will be open to the public and those who can throw light on the cases under consideration will be gladly heard, whether the information is for or against the claimant.

Claims for dependency were heard at Santa Ana last night and fifty claims of an industrial nature were before Mr. Wright for disposal. There will be nightly meetings of the board this week to handle the various classes of claims coming up for action.

Members of the local boards are making preparations to examine enough additional men to fill their quotas and to have a good start providing the War Department orders an additional draft called for an increase of the present quotas. That additional names will have to be called to make up for the heavy percentage of men rejected at American Lake, is certain. It has been reported that these rejections amount to fully 9 per cent. of the men sent.

In discussing the large number of rejections by the army surgeons yesterday, George J. Denis, chairman of district No. 17, said, "I am at a total loss to understand why so many men were found to have been deficient physically. I have no report as yet as to the percentage of men from this district, but I am confident that it will be below the general average." Mr. Denis has been suffering from an attack of ptomaine poisoning and was forced to go to his home early yesterday afternoon.

Gov. Stephens was in the city yesterday. He spoke at the Ebell Club and was one of the guests at the dinner given for James W. Gerard at the Alexandria, last evening.

ASKS GUARDIANSHIP.

Mrs. Margaret F. Cullen of Long Beach, widow of the late John T. Cullen, has petitioned the Superior Court to be appointed guardian of her two minor children, John T. Cullen and Capitola V. Cullen, who are joint heirs with another brother and sister to their father's estate, composed in part of five shares of the Long Beach Savings Bank and Trust Company, twenty shares of the National Bank of Long Beach and other property.

There's only one real way to fight "Acid-Mouth"

See your dentist twice a year and brush your teeth twice daily with the dentifrice that actually counteracts "Acid-Mouth."

PEBECO TOOTH PASTE

Pebeco does counteract "Acid-Mouth"—it was made to do that.

Pebeco was also made to make teeth clean and white. It's a real dentifrice—not a confection.

And yet Pebeco Tooth Paste is extremely pleasant to the taste—both while you are using it and for a long time afterward.

Pebeco is sold by druggists everywhere

MOTORIST IS FREED.

Man Exonerated of Blame for Killing of Motorcycle Rider on Redondo Boulevard.

Upon the advice of Superior Judge Willis, the jury in his court yesterday returned a verdict of not guilty, thereby exonerating C. W. Edmonds of the Coliseum Bar of the manslaughter charge against him. He was accused of running down and killing F. P. Beard with his machine, near Redondo, on the night of January 23, this year. The court held that the prosecution had failed to connect the defendant with the crime.

Cross-examination of the State's witnesses by the defense elicited the fact that Mr. Edmonds's car was unable to make more than thirty-two miles an hour, while witnesses for the prosecution swore that the machine that knocked Beard down was, at the time, running anywhere from fifty to seventy-five miles an hour. The prosecution also failed to prove that Mr. Edmonds was in the vicinity of the scene of the accident at the time Beard was killed.

THIEVES AT WHITTIER.

Miscreants Steal Automobile, Twenty Sacks of Walnuts, Cash and Accessories.

Auto thieves and burglars worked overtime Sunday night in the vicinity of Whittier, judging from reports yesterday received by the Sheriff's office. So energetically did they work, that if they can properly dispose of their ill-gotten gains, they won't have to work again at their trade for several weeks, and in the interim live well.

They first visited the premises of J. D. Logan at Santa Fe Springs, four miles south of Whittier. They stole Logan's auto, but were forced to abandon it two miles out. Then Mr. Frazier's walnut grove was visited, and twenty sacks of his choicest varieties were stolen. Then the men broke into the Standard Oil supply station at Whittier, where they secured $40 in cash and a large quantity of auto accessories.

CALLED EAST IN PRINT-PAPER CASE.

Roy O. Samson, special agent of the Department of Justice, will leave this week for special work in New York in connection with the investigation of the alleged print paper trust. Mr. Samson has been in charge of the local office since Special Agent Blanford has been in San Francisco, in connection with the Hindoo conspiracy case. As this case has been postponed until November 20, Agent Blanford will be here today to fill the vacancy caused by the trip of Mr. Samson to the East.

Whether Samson, at the close of his errand in New York, will return to Los Angeles to take up his work of special agent again, or go to Denver, where he was engaged before he came to Los Angeles, has not been determined. While here Mr. Samson has made many friends.

SEEKS MISSING SON.

Friends of Mariano Dagnese are looking for him and are anxious to get his present address. He was for a while at Swampscott, Mass., but he left there last May and is said to have been last heard from in Sacramento with the Ringling Bros circus. It is said that the missing young man left the circus employ in August last. The father of the youth, who resides at No. 36 Belmont avenue, Swampscott, Mass., would be pleased to hear from anyone who has knowledge of his son's whereabouts.

COLORED FIREMEN STILL AFTER JOBS.

PUBLIC SAFETY COMMITTEE TO LOOK INTO COMPLAINTS.

Councilman Cleaveland Wants to Learn Whether Whole Controversy is not Based Upon Race Prejudice—Commissioner Says More Men are not Needed Now.

The controversy over the proposed addition of a fire company to be comprised exclusively of colored firemen still is unsettled and the Public Safety Committee will delve further into the various questions involved next Monday. Yesterday a committee of colored men asked that definite action be taken as the colored men who are on the eligible list of the Civil Service Department want to know what to expect.

Fire Commissioner Yates appeared before the Public Safety Committee and asserted that it is not necessary just now to acquire more firemen and that it would be against a policy of efficiency to make a change in the personnel of firemen at the station at Fourteenth street and Central avenue at the present time.

"That station is in the heart of an industrial district, one in which is required a most efficient fire company. We cannot afford to take a chance with a company of new and untried men."

Councilman Cleaveland said he wants to learn whether the whole controversy is based upon the question of race prejudice. As a result the committee decided to listen to further arguments.

Hearing May be Postponed.

Upon the request of the Fox Film Company, the Council indicated yesterday that it will defer the date of hearing protests against its plant being permitted to operate in Hollywood until the president of the company can be interviewed in New York. The manager of the company said he would see the president soon and would be able to report in three weeks. Complaints against the plant have been made upon the ground that motors annoy the neighbors.

MAYOR IS DUBIOUS.

Signs Gas Ordinance, but Says One or Two of Sections Should Have Been Changed.

After signing the natural gas ordinance yesterday Mayor Woodman said one or two of its provisions should have been changed if the Council really wanted to compel the gas companies to supply their patrons, both domestic and industrial, with natural gas.

One provision says in effect that the companies must supply natural gas when it is practical to do so. "This will mean that someone must prove when it is practical, and that is a hard thing to do," said the Mayor.

He further stated that if the ordinance had provided that natural gas be supplied when obtainable it might not be so difficult to determine whether it is obtainable.

The ordinance will become effective sixty days after publication and it is expected to be published today.

INADVERTENT REMARK BRINGS STINGING REBUKE.

Lie Passed in Court when Gardener for Oil Magnate Declares ex-Wife Indulges in Vicious Practices—Refuses Alimony, but Must Make up Arrears.

Albert H. Hardcastle is confronted with the problem of paying the household expenses of a wife and producing alimony for an ex-wife. In contempt proceedings yesterday he told Judge Wood that he could not afford this expense on his salary as gardener for E. L. Doheny, the oil magnate.

Mr. Hardcastle's plea seemed to have an effect on Judge Wood, but when the defendant indiscreetly declared that his ex-wife, who is delicate, indulged in a vicious practice, Mrs. Hardcastle No. 1 jumped to her feet and exclaimed:

"You are a liar."

"I cannot rebuke you for that remark," madam," said the court, and turning to Mr. Hardcastle, he stated:

"You are a poor stick to make that charge against a woman."

"I won't take a cent of his money," the ex-wife stated.

"Very well, madam," he won't be required to pay the monthly alimony to you, but he will have to pay up the back alimony of $98."
